Cuba Confiscates More Industries

Regime Takes Over 20 American Firms

HAVANA (UPI)—The Cuban government abandoned the free enterprise system today by nationalizing 382 more businesses worth billions of dollars. The action brings virtually all industry under state control.

Twenty of the nationalized firms were owned by Americans or had U.S. funds invested in them. In the 26 various categories of businesses seized were sugar mills, shipping companies, theaters, distilleries, department stores and textile factories.

The sweeping government decree, issued after a night-long cabinet session, nationalized all Cuban and American banks and put them under operative control of the Cuban National Bank. Two American banks were not affected. The government said the abolition of private business could be attributed to the "selfish and anti-national practices" of individual businessmen who had failed to adapt themselves "to the reality of the revolution of our fatherland."

Actually, the decree completed the task of placing the Cuban economy under state control started almost immediately by Fidel Castro after the January, 1959, revolution. More than 10,000 businesses, many of them owned by alleged "counter-revolutionaries", have been seized in the past 20 months.

Among the American firms affected by today's decree were the W. R. Grace Co., Colgate-Palmolive-Peet and Procter and Gamble. So far, only American firms remaining in business in Cuba today are F. W. Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Coca Cola and B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co.

Nikita Gone, U.N. Returns To Normal

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — With Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev back in Moscow, the General Assembly returned to a more placid pattern of normal diplomacy today although Russia's prosecution of the cold war still dominated its deliberations.

South African external affairs minister Eric H. Louw charged that Russian-trained Communists instigated bloody race riots last spring against his country's apartheid policy for the separation of whites and Negroes.

PLANNED COMMAND

Louw said Khrushchev had planned his 25-day U.N. visit to take personal command of the cold war, and to seek to extend Soviet influence among the emergent countries of Africa.

Mostly, it was like school was out.

Security restrictions, for the most part, were dropped. Newsmen no longer needed special passes to visit the delegates' lounges. The assembly hall never was more than half filled and the public area at times had more occupants than the floor.

SOME RELIEF

There was a general feeling of relaxation and some relief.

The assembly canceled its afternoon meeting, and scheduled a long weekend, with its next session scheduled for Monday, when the annual policy debate is to end. Assembly President Frederick H. Boland, who has handled his share of tense moments in the past three weeks, turned the chair over to Pakistan's Zulfikar Ali Bhutto, a vice president of the assembly.

Louw highlighted the two-hour and 40-minute meeting which included speeches by delegates of El Salvador and Costa Rica, and replies by Lebanon to Israel, Colombia to Russia and Liberia to South Africa.

Louw said international communism is stirring up Negroes in white-dominated South Africa in line with Khrushchev "keen interests" in Africa.

WOMAN TELLS FIREMEN A SHOCKING TALE

Everything the woman touched gave her a shock.

Mrs. Margaret K. Brunhofer called San Rafael firemen at 3 a.m. today to complain she was getting electric shocks from "everything" in her home at 178 Mission Avenue.

Firemen raced to the Brunhofer home. But they got no shocks.

The only explanation a fire department spokesman was able to offer was that Mrs. Brunhofer's clothing had built up a supply of static electricity.

'Twas Nippy Last Night For Marinites

'Twas nippy and electric blankets were in demand all over Marin last night.

True winter weather was in evidence at such points as Woodacre, where a low of 34 degrees was recorded this morning. Novato wasn't much warmer with 38 degrees.

San Anselmo reported its chilliest mark of the year so far with 43 degrees while San Rafael's City Hall thermometer touched 44, down two degrees from the low of the night before.

Other readings included San Rafael Meadows and Mill Valley, both 46, and Terra Linda, 48. Bolinas registered 54 at 8:30 a.m. today.

Ross To Hire Police Adviser, Plans Curfew

John D. Holstrom, retired Berkeley police chief and internationally famed expert on police work, will serve as adviser to the Town of Ross in revamping its police setup.

The Ross Town Council voted unanimously last night to hire Holstrom to make a survey, which will involve spending 10 days with Police Chief Joseph Regoni.

MODEL FORCE

Holstrom is credited with building the Berkeley police department into a model department.

"This survey is badly needed," Mayor Arthur Kanzee said, "since we are a part of a rapidly growing metropolitan area with a future which is not entirely under our control."

The council accepted on first reading a curfew ordinance drawn by City Atty. Robert Elliott, closely modeled after the county ordinance. Ross has had no curfew law.

CURFEW LAW

The curfew law provides that no one under the age of 18 shall be abroad between 11 p.m. and daybreak, whether driving or afoot, unless in the company of an adult. It further provides a misdemeanor penalty for any adult who allows youngsters to violate the curfew.

Provision is made to allow youngsters on an emergency errand or those performing occupational duties to be out. Also, children en route to legitimate entertainment or social functions with the permission of their parents will be excepted.

FREDERICK S. ALLEN
Named to Ross council

Ross Appoints F. S. Allen To Council Job

Frederick S. Allen, vice president of the Pacific Coast Title Co. of San Rafael, will fill the Ross Town Council vacancy created two weeks ago by the resignation of James McNabb.

Allen was chosen by unanimous vote of the council last night and was present to receive the oath of office.

Allen, 48, lives at 131 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard with his wife, the former Barbara Rice. He has been a Ross resident for 15 years.

He is a member of the Marin County Grand Jury.

The Allens have four children. The eldest son, Fred Jr. is a Navy ensign. John, a student at College of Marin, and Alice, a student at the Ross School, live at home. Another son, Tom, is attending a Rhode Island preparatory school.

Admiral Admits Lesser Liquor Tax Offenses

Retired Rear Adm. William L. Erdmann, 58, of Kentfield, faced with felony liquor smuggling charges, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court in San Francisco today to two misdemeanor counts.

One misdeameanor count charged possession of 42 cases of untaxed liquor. The other charged that he evaded paying a tax estimated at $1,300.

His lawyer, Richard J. MacLaury of Belvedere, moved for dismissal of two felony counts charging Erdmann with fraudulent importation of the liquor when he returned from Guam last spring.

Erdmann's pleas could subject him to a maximum sentence of two years and fines of $15,000 on the misdemeanors.

Judge Oliver J. Carter took the motion to dismiss the felony counts under submission and set Nov. 4 for sentence on the lesser counts.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Donald B. Constine said the government had no objection to the pleas.

Constine added that disposition of the liquor charges in no way affects investigation of any other of Erdmann's activities by the Customs Bureau.

This apparently referred to unconfirmed reports that the admiral's collection of Chinese antiques might subject him to further inquiry.

Erdmann sent the liquor home aboard the aircraft carrier Bonne Homme Richard in a van labeled "household effects."

Erdmann is on bail of $1,000.

Many Stores Keep Late Hours Today

It may be nippy out tonight, but many of the Marin stores staying open until 9 p.m. will be displaying coats and wrappers to help keep folk warm.

The usual late Friday closing hour will be observed by stores in San Rafael, Corte Madera Center and Novato.

In San Anselmo, not only will stores be open late tonight; they'll also be offering a host of special bargains, with 40 firms participating in San Anselmo Bargain Days

Car-Rail Crash Kills Kin Of Marin Pastor

The daughter of a retired Larkspur minister, her husband and 4-year-old daughter were killed Wednesday night in Ventura County when their car skidded onto a railroad track in the path of an oncoming train.

Mrs. Ruth Hampton, 37, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Vernon M. Brown, and her husband, Donald Hampton, were killed instantly when their car skidded onto a train intersection about 8:30 p.m. in Santa Paula, reported Mrs. Brown.

Catherine Elizabeth Taylor, 4, Mrs. Hampton's daughter by a previous marriage, died a few hours later in Ventura County Hospital.

The family had left their Petaluma home two weeks ago, Mrs. Brown said. Hampton, a welder, was looking for employment in the Santa Paula area.

Mrs. Hampton was a native of Willits.

Rev. Brown was pastor of the Redwoods Presbyterian Church in Larkspur from 1940 until 1944. He and his wife reside at 12 William Avenue.

Mrs. Hampton is also survived by two sons, William Tay-

U.S. ASSAILS CASTRO

Cuban Aide Quits; Diplomat Beaten

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

One of Cuba's delegates to the United Nations turned against Prime Minister Fidel Castro today almost at the exact hour the United States was unleashing an attack on him in the United Nations.

The U.N. delegate, Miss Teresa Casuso, quit her post with the charge that Castro is making Cuba into a police state. She said Castro "has to be at war with everybody."

The United States filed with the United Nations a 9,000-word reply to Castro's four-and-one-half-hour speech last month to the General Assembly. The State Department depicted Castro as a tyrant who is seeking to provoke an incident over the Guantanamo naval base. It said Castro is welcoming Communist intervention and trying to undermine the inter-American system of collective security and progress.

These developments came a day after Castro's firing squads had shot 13 men, including an American, on charges of attempting to overthrow his regime.

These executions led to violence in Miami, Fla., less than an hour by plane from Havana. Angry Cubans swarmed through the office of Castro's consul general, Abelardo Leon Blanco, gave him a beating and smashed furniture. Today Castro told the consul to return home. Outside a Miami cafe where Castro sympathizers often gather there was a shooting leaving two men wounded.

Cuba promptly recalled Leon Blanco. He said he had been told to return to Havana immediately. The Cuban government issued a note of protest charging the United States with complicity in the raid on the consulate.

The U.S. rebuttal of Castro's U.N. speech contained some of the strongest official language yet used against the bearded prime minister.

It accused him of:

1. Seeking to provoke an incident over the U.S. naval base at Guantanamo.

2. Refusing to pay a single American land owner for property seized by the Cuban government.

3. Pushing the United States into a sugar embargo so that the Cuban regime could charge its neighbor with economic aggression.

4. Branding all who disagreed with his regime war criminals.

The lengthy statement, submitted to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold, described Cuba as a totalitarian state where freedom of expression is suppressed, freedom of religion hampered and the right of free trial denied anyone who differs with the Castro government.

Congo Aide Rescued From Lumumba Gang

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — A gang of 20 supporters of ousted Premier Patrice Lumumba today tried to kill or kidnap the Congolese high commissioner for finance, but he was rescued by an American after being injured.

Finance Commissioner Albert Ndele, Interior Commissioner Jose Nussbaumer and the latter's deputy, Daniel Kandolo, were attacked as they left a news conference at the Memling Hotel.

The Lumumba supporters drove up in a blue truck, jumped out and began beating Ndele. They kicked him and threw him to the ground.

The two other commissioners were overpowered and dragged to a waiting car, while a lone Ghanian soldier of the United Nations force looked on without being able to do anything.

George Wittman, an American businessman from Pittstown, N.J., dragged Ndele back into the hotel lobby.

The attackers drove off towards the African section of the city with the two assistant commissioners, but released Nussbaumer and Kandolo a short time later.

Earlier, police used rifle butts, clubs and boots to smash a protest march on U.N. headquarters by 300 Lumumba supporters.

Ex-Tiburon Fire Chief Jack Ishmael Succumbs

Jack H. Ishmael, 63, former Tiburon fire chief, died in a local hospital yesterday of cancer.

Ishmael served as chief of the Tiburon Fire Department from 1956 until last year. Before that he was assistant chief for seven years and a volunteer firemen for two.

Before joining the fire department full-time, he owned a service station in Tiburon.

The Tiburon Fire Protection District board terminated Ishmael's employment as fire chief last November after the chief refused to take a written examination for the job.

He is survived by his wife, Adele, at the family home, 1807 Centro West Street, and a son, Donald D. Ishmael, 539 Comstock Drive, Tiburon.

Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael.

Continent, Issues Divide Debaters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wide-ranging third television argument found the two major presidential candidates agreed today on only two subjects: Defending Berlin and condemning religious bigotry.

Separated by the width of the continent but brought to a single screen, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy flailed at each other last night on the issues of war and peace, how to stop national emergency strikes, the state of American prestige and the cost of farm programs.

Both sides thought they had won.

Nixon called the encounter "good, fast-moving, a good clash."

Kennedy told reporters: "I thought we touched on important matters that are at issue in the campaign."

One of their sharpest disagreements was over defense of Quemoy and Matsu, two small islands garrisoned by Nationalist China but located within a few miles of the Red China mainland. The issue has mushroomed since their second debate a week ago.

Both agreed the islands should not be yielded under threat of Communist guns. But Kennedy, who has urged efforts to get a Chinese Nationalist withdrawal from the islands, said Nixon was going further than the Eisenhower administration in advocating defense of them.

Nixon contended that withdrawal would damage this country in the eyes of Asia, and said Kennedy's position would encourage the Reds to push to the point "where war is inevitable."

That brought a Kennedy charge that Nixon was distorting the record.

The din was hardly over before Nixon launched a couple of new barbed shafts at his Democratic opponent.

The vice president said he was "shocked" that Kennedy had referred to written material in the third of their TV debates. Nixon said there was an agreement neither would resort to memoranda.

The Republican nominee also challenged in a statement Kennedy's denial that he had advocated compulsory arbitration as one of the methods of settling a strike such as the paralyzing steel walkout that ended last January.

Kennedy fired back that he hadn't used any notes. He said he read from a photo copy of a letter from President Eisenhower which he contended undermined Nixon's position that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu off China must be defended from Communist attack as a matter of principle.

"If I'm going to quote the President of the United States on a matter involving national security he should be quoted accurately," Kennedy said.

The American Broadcasting Co., which originated the debate for all networks, declined to take sides.

In New York City, John Daly, ABC vice president, said the networks had understood both candidates would speak "ad lib without prepared text or notes."

Daly added, however, that there had been no statement about "outlawing of verbatim text of public documents affecting areas about which candidates might be questioned."

Nixon's post-debate statement on labor disputes followed up Kennedy's TV assertion that "I never suggested that compulsory arbitration was the solution for national emergency disputes."

Nixon contended that at Fayette City, Pa., on Oct. 9, 1959, Kennedy had urged that the President be given a variety of powers for settling labor disputes and had added: "These measures should include mediation, fact-finding, seizure, compulsory arbitration, injunctions with or without retroactive clauses and the right not to interfere at all."

Kennedy's press aide, Pierre Salinger, said that a speech draft including the words compulsory arbitration was given out by mistake, that Kennedy "spotted this, and we pulled back all the copies we could get our hands on." He said Kennedy did not use the reference in his speech.

In last night's telecast Kennedy spoke from a New York studio as a panel of reporters directed questions alternately at each nominee.

The issue of Kennedy's Roman Catholic religion was brought into the debate for the first time. A reporter quoted Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, New York Negro congressman, as saying that, "The Ku Klux Klan is riding again in this campaign" in opposition to Kennedy.

The newsman said Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, a Roman Catholic, was saying much the same thing. DiSalle said he was not quoted correctly. He merely reported, he said, that the head of the klan had said he would vote for Nixon.

Kennedy said he had seen a similar report. He said he didn't suggest in any way that the vice president has any sympathy with or involvement with the klan.

"That is absurd," Kennedy said. "I don't suggest that. I don't support it. I would disagree with it."

Nixon, a Quaker, said he welcomed the chance to join Kennedy in repudiating the klan or anybody who uses the religious issue.

In Tampa, Fla., W. J. Griffin, head of the state klan, said: "I don't give a damn what Nixon said. I'm still voting for him."

Taipei Rips Kennedy On Islands View

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Chiang Kai-shek's regime today angrily rejected U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy's views that the Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu are indefensible and so should not be subject to any U.S. guarantee of protection.

A statement read by foreign office spokesman James Shen at a news conference reiterated the Nationalist determination to hold the two islands just off the Communist mainland and said the blood of no American soldier needs to be shed on them.

"We might do well to make it perfectly clear that under no circumstances would the Republic of China abandon any square inch of its territory to oblige anybody, including the senator," the foreign office declared.

Eisenhower Might Serve Nixon As Roving Envoy

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower has agreed to serve as a roving ambassador if Vice President Richard M. Nixon is elected, it was reported today.

The New York Herald Tribune and the New York Times carried the report in dispatches from Los Angeles, where Nixon is on a campaign tour.

A copyright story in the Herald Tribune by Roscoe Drummond said there soon will be an announcement of Eisenhower's willingness to serve in a Nixon administration.

The story said Eisenhower's role would be that of "roving ambassador to the world," and his first assignment would be a worldwide tour of some of the nation's principal allies and of the newly independent nations.

The Times story said Eisenhower has expressed willingness to "serve as a roving ambassador of good will" after he leaves the White House.

The Times quoted an unidentified top Nixon campaign aide as saying Eisenhower is "passionately devoted" to serving the cause of peace whether in or out of the White House.

Survey Shows Debate Didn't Sway Viewers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spot check of voters across the country indicated today that neither presidential candidate has forged ahead on the strength of his showing in three television debates.

After last night's debate, the third between Sen. John F. Kennedy and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Associated Press bureaus in 10 cities sampled the opinions of viewers and found little difference in their estimates of the two candidates' influence.

About the same number thought Kennedy had gained the most from the debates as thought Nixon had.

The survey was made by AP newsmen in Little Rock, Baltimore, Miami, Newark, Denver, San Diego, St. Louis, Detroit, Milwaukee and New Haven.

From each bureau, they phoned residents at random until 10 were found who had seen Thursday night's debate in its entirety and were eligible to vote. In all, the survey covered 100 voters.

State Told Mental Wards Need Brains

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's mental hospitals need more brains and less beds, according to a state mental health official.

Dr. Daniel Lieberman, deputy director of the State Mental Hygiene Department, made the statement yesterday as the State Senate Fact Finding Committee on Revenue and Taxation started a hearing on possible recommendations for the 1961 legislature.

BACKBONE OF NURSING

Lieberman called particular attention to a shortage of qualified psychiatric technicians, the backbone of nursing care for 49,000 persons in state institutions.

He recommended that starting pay for the technicians be raised to $341 monthly, and that fully trained technicians start at $395 instead of the present $310.

Lieberman's comments echoed a report submitted by the mental hygiene department. It said that the treatment programs of the state's mental hospitals are crippled by low salaries and poorly trained personnel.

COULD BE RELEASED

"There are several thousand patients no longer requiring hospitalization who could be released if a qualified staff were available to assist in their placement and supervision," the report said.

A. Alan Post, legislative analyst for the state, recommended that the legislature ask the department for a complete analysis of its hospital ward treatment program.

He said the department should also estimate the "dollar savings to the state in operating and capital outlay expenditures through new treatment and personnel programs or payment of higher salaries."

The committee is headed by Sen. James J. McBride (D-Ventura).

The International Council of Shopping Centers estimates about 900 new centers will have been built in the nation during 1960.

Continent, Issues Divide Debaters

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A wide-ranging third television argument found the two major presidential candidates agreed today on only two subjects: Defending Berlin and condemning religious bigotry.

Separated by the width of the continent but brought to a single screen, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy flailed at each other last night on the issues of war and peace, how to stop national emergency strikes, the state of American prestige and the cost of farm programs.

Both sides thought they had won.

Nixon called the encounter "good, fast-moving, a good clash."

Kennedy told reporters: "I thought we touched on important matters that are at issue in the campaign."

One of their sharpest disagreements was over defense of Quemoy and Matsu, two small islands garrisoned by Nationalist China but located within a few miles of the Red China mainland. The issue has mushroomed since their second debate a week ago.

Both agreed the islands should not be yielded under threat of Communist guns. But Kennedy, who has urged efforts to get a Chinese Nationalist withdrawal from the islands, said Nixon was going further than the Eisenhower administration in advocating defense of them.

Nixon contended that withdrawal would damage this country in the eyes of Asia, and said Kennedy's position would encourage the Reds to push to the point "where war is inevitable."

That brought a Kennedy charge that Nixon was distorting the record.

The din was hardly over before Nixon launched a couple of new barbed shafts at his Democratic opponent.

The vice president said he was "shocked" that Kennedy had referred to written material in the third of their TV debates. Nixon said there was an agreement neither would resort to memoranda.

The Republican nominee also challenged in a statement Kennedy's denial that he had advocated compulsory arbitration as one of the methods of settling a strike such as the paralyzing steel walkout that ended last January.

Kennedy fired back that he hadn't used any notes. He said he read from a photo copy of a letter from President Eisenhower which he contended undermined Nixon's position that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu off China must be defended from Communist attack as a matter of principle.

"If I'm going to quote the President of the United States on a matter involving national security he should be quoted accurately," Kennedy said.

The American Broadcasting Co., which originated the debate for all networks, declined to take sides.

In New York City, John Daly, ABC vice president, said the networks had understood both candidates would speak "ad lib without prepared text or notes."

Daly added, however, that there had been no statement about "outlawing of verbatim text of public documents affecting areas about which candidates might be questioned."

Nixon's post-debate statement on labor disputes followed up Kennedy's TV assertion that "I never suggested that compulsory arbitration was the solution for national emergency disputes."

Nixon contended that at Fayette City, Pa., on Oct. 9, 1959, Kennedy had urged that the President be given a variety of powers for settling labor disputes and had added: "These measures should include mediation, fact-finding, seizure, compulsory arbitration, injunctions with or without retroactive clauses and the right not to interfere at all."

Kennedy's press aide, Pierre Salinger, said that a speech draft including the words compulsory arbitration was given out by mistake, that Kennedy "spotted this, and we pulled back all the copies we could get our hands on." He said Kennedy did not use the reference in his speech.

The newsman said Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio, a Roman Catholic, was saying much the same thing. DiSalle said he was not quoted correctly. He merely reported, he said, that the head of the klan had said he would vote for Nixon.

Kennedy said he had seen a similar report. He said he didn't suggest in any way that the vice president has any sympathy with or involvement with the klan.

"That is absurd," Kennedy said. "I don't suggest that. I don't support it. I would disagree with it."

Nixon, a Quaker, said he welcomed the chance to join Kennedy in repudiating the klan or anybody who uses the religious issue.

In Tampa, Fla., W. J. Griffin, head of the state klan, said: "I don't give a damn what Nixon said. I'm still voting for him."

Planners Support Marinship Study

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night endorsed the action of the city council in hiring a planner to study Marinship.

The planners, Frederick Allen, started work yesterday and is to report to the commission in approximately 30 days, chairman Gilbert P. Murphy said.

He is to suggest a use pattern, establish a circulation system and study the establishment of a shoreline in the Marinship area. The planner is to be reimbursed, jointly by the city and the Marinship Property Owners Assn.

Allen was formerly a partner in the firm of Harrison, Ballard and Allen of New York City, which did rezoning of New York City, Murphy said.

Two use permits for Marinship developments were ruled on last night. A use permit from Mrs. Frances Anshen to build an 18-unit apartment house was denied because no one was present representing Mrs. Anshen. Use permit for Sol Tyroler of 40 Simms Street, San Rafael, to build a brass and aluminum foundry was put over until Allen's report is received.

A request from Heath Land Co. for a lot split in Marinship was continued on the same basis, Murphy said.

School Operation To Be Discussed

Operation of the Tamalpais Union High School District will be the subject of the third new-teacher orientation program set for Oct. 20 in the district offices on the Redwood High School campus.

Speakers will be Mrs. Frank A. Cassou, director of business; Ralph C. Hoetger, director of maintenance; Charles C. Crawford, director of recreation at Tamalpais High School; and Robert D. Torrey, director of instruction.

Schooner Due Face-Lifting For Club Plan

The stern of the Lassen, the old coastwise schooner which has been sitting in the mud in Sausalito for about 30 years, is going to be torn off to make room for the floating barge clubhouse of the Sausalito Cruising Club.

Removal of the stern was one of five provisions the Sausalito Planning Commission required of the club last night in approving a variance for off-street parking.

John Gudelj, club commodore, told the commission that the stern is on a city street and "to get our barge fully on the Madden and Lewis property, we have to tear the stern off."

The other provisions were that plans for the clubhouse, to be built on a 110-by-32 foot barge, be submitted to the planning commission for review; that the south shore apartment boat be removed; that permanent sanitary connections be made, and that the barge be kept in a floating condition.

The variance was granted unanimously, as was a use permit.

Commissioner Thomas Wiper mentioned that refuse was being thrown out in the area.

Gudelj said his club was aware of that and that "we hope to eventually tear down the Lassen and get it out of there."

Chairman Gilbert F. Murphy commended the club for improving the area and said: "We hope this will stimulate other people to get clubs going. We have a lot of yacht activities."

Swim Suit Proves Problem For Girl

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When 16-year-old Linda Levitt does acrobatics with other water skiers, her grandmother worries.

The grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Swincher, knows Linda is an excellent athlete but she is primarily concerned about her swimming suits.

Lithe Linda is only 4 feet 11 and weighs 85 pounds, and it's hard to find swim suits that fit her. Mrs. Swincher makes most of them herself.

"Linda's always the top one on the pyramids because she's so light," says Mrs. Swincher. "And all that climbing is hard on suits. I kind of hold my breath sometimes, hoping the stitches will hold."

Linda doesn't share her concern, explaining: "I've never even had a strap break."

Poplar Trees Get Drubbing By Planners

The poplar tree got a drubbing at the Sausalito Planning Commission meeting last night.

Mrs. Ruth Sisson, secretary, reported that each lot in the Buena Vista Subdivision is to be supplied two trees by developer Morden Dunne of San Francisco. Dunne has recommended poplars, Mrs. Sisson said. She objected. She said she would check with the San Francisco Park Department and make a further recommendation at the next meeting.

She added that Dunne has planted a row of poplar to screen his already-built duplexes from the American Distilling Co.

"That's the most ridiculous thing I've every heard of," she said. "It's supposed to screen out the brewery."

"Poplars won't thrive where you get the wind. They are spindly. And in the winter poplars lost their leaves and have no buffer," put in Fred Turner from the audience.

"That's it," said Mrs. Sisson. "That's what we pointed out. Poplars are not recommended," she added in a perturbed manner.

The commission also:

1. Discussed suggestions for a new sign ordinance and drew a number of antagonistic replies regarding limiting signs for new businesses to no larger than six square feet. Discussion was put over to Nov. 9.

2. Held a public meeting on a proposed subdivision ordinance and put the matter over to await a committee report.

3. Adjourned to Oct. 26 for hearing on the citizens' central waterfront plan committee report.

Fluoridation Ruling

ST. LOUIS (UPI)—A St. Louis court has declared unconstitutional the practice of fluoridating local water supplies.

The court, tossing out a law calling for fluoridation, said: "The County Council cannot compel everyone in the county to submit to dental treatment."

Big Fire Demonstration Planned In San Rafael

San Rafael firemen will stage a demonstration of fire-fighting techniques in front of Fire House No. 2 at Third and Union Streets tomorrow at 2 p.m.

The two-hour demonstration is part of the department's activities for Fire Prevention Week, which ends tomorrow.

Included in the demonstration according to Fire Inspector Kenneth Mazza, will be the use of a high-pressure hose from a 100-foot aerial ladder, display of pumping water from three lines through a single nozzle, how to handle a kitchen grease fire, and what can happen to a home with overloaded circuits or improper fuses.

The average five-room house contains about 2,000 pieces of lumber.

Planners Support Marinship Study

The Sausalito Planning Commission last night endorsed the action of the city council in hiring a planner to study Marinship.

The planners, Frederick Allen, started work yesterday and is to report to the commission in approximately 30 days, chairman Gilbert P. Murphy said.

He is to suggest a use pattern, establish a circulation system and study the establishment of a shoreline in the Marinship area. The planner is to be reimbursed, jointly by the city and the Marinship Property Owners Assn.

Allen was formerly a partner in the firm of Harrison, Ballard and Allen of New York City, which did rezoning of New York City, Murphy said.

Two use permits for Marinship developments were ruled on last night. A use permit from Mrs. Frances Anshen to build an 18-unit apartment house was denied because no one was present representing Mrs. Anshen. Use permit for Sol Tyroler of 40 Simms Street, San Rafael, to build a brass and aluminum foundry was put over until Allen's report is received.

A request from Heath Land Co. for a lot split in Marinship was continued on the same basis, Murphy said.

Continental Army Chief Arrives For Inspection

Gen. Herbert B. Powell, newly appointed chief of the continental Army command, arrived at Hamilton Air Force Base in a C-54 yesterday afternoon to begin an inspection tour of the Pacific Northwest.

The four-star general was whisked to the Presidio of San Francisco, where he was given a 17-gun salute and honor guard ceremonies at 9 a.m. today.

General Powell led the only U.S. unit to reach the Yalu River in the Korean War.

His new assignment makes him responsible for ground defense of the United States, mobilization and expansion of the Army and assistance to civil authority during any domestic emergency.

RIGHT TO COME, GO

San Rafael Students Back Board On Campus Policy

San Rafael High School students yesterday orally endorsed a list of recommendations accepted by the San Rafael Board of Education Tuesday calling for the students to prove they can keep a neat and orderly campus while retaining the right to go and come as they please.

Principal Ralph H. Phelps said today, "It is up to the student government to act on the proposals," but judging from the response of the students, they approved."

Phelps said the students "were working very hard" on the proposals and that they wanted "a school people will admire."

He said questions such as "how do we get started" rang through the assembly room following the announcement that the board of education would not close the campus if the school proved capable of correcting off-campus littering and rowdyism during school hours.

NAACP Votes Marin City Job Survey

The Marin Branch of the National Assn. for the advancement of Colored People last night decided to launch a survey of Marin City's employment situation.

President Edward T. Anderson today urged residents to see him at House 629 to get survey forms.

The survey, he said, is designed to show the extent of unemployment and the trades or occupations of those unemployed. The N.A.A.C.P. will try to get jobs for those needing them, he declared.

Anderson said "unemployment in Marin is widespread but affects Marin City greatly because most of its residents are in construction work. When construction work goes down, they have to find something else to do."

N.A.A.C.P. and Marin Ministerial Alliance representatives are to meet to discuss the employment situation, he reported. No date has been set for the meeting.

The branch also launched its "freedom seal" drive last night — a campaign to sell Christmas seals, sponsored by N.A.A.C.P., with the money to go to the organization's general fund. Seals are available from Anderson or from the chairman of the drive, Mrs. Marjorie Cortes, House 487.

Firemen Open House In Larkspur

The Larkspur Fire Department will open its doors to the public tonight from 6 to 10 o'clock for the final evening of the week-long open house.

Approximately 600 Larkspur school children had toured the department this week, chief George Bartram said. Each child was given a badge and helmet signifying status as a junior fire marshal.

The youngsters were sent home with home inspection sheets to fill out after inspecting their own homes for safety precautions. "They are filling them out and returning them like real fire marshals," Bartram said.

Motion pictures on rescue breathing will be shown tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Volunteer firemen will be on hand all evening to demonstrate equipment and serve refreshments.

San Rafael Hires New Meter Maid

Mrs. Charles Meader now helps mind the meters in San Rafael.

Mrs. Meader, of 429 Calle De Mesa, Novato, has been hired as a "meter maid" to check parking meters, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa announced today. The appointment is subject to city council confirmation.

A former grocery store checker, Mrs. Meader replaces Roselle Anderson, who resigned.

Commute Price Cut Raised Span Revenue

Reduction in cost of the 52-trip commute book across the Golden Gate Bridge resulted in an increase of nearly $14,000 in revenues to the bridge district from this source during the first month of the lower toll, the bridge board of directors was told today.

During September, first month the book was sold for $8 instead of $9, a total of 9,910 books was sold. This compares with 7,310 books in the same month a year ago, an increase of 35½ per cent.

In gross revenue, the bridge received $79,280 from commute book sales last month as compared to $65,790 for September last year.

At the same time, other types of traffic were increasing as well, General Manager James Adam reported.

Traffic totaled 1,690,176 vehicles last month as compared with 1,570,235 a year ago. This brought revenue of $427,808 as against $401,971 a year ago.

Adam said preliminary figures also showed an increase of interurban buses and trucks.

The bridge board authorized Adam to apply to the Department of Defense to revise a contract for providing water and power to the Marin end of the bridge. Adam told the board more water was needed to care for landscaping planned by state highway engineers at Vista Point.

In other actions the board:

1. Referred to the building and operating committee a letter from Golda Scribner of Novato to Director Phillips Davies, urging consideration of a Marin parking lot for commuters' cars and shuttle bus service into San Francisco.

2. Made a similar referral of a letter from Central Council of Civic Clubs of San Francisco, urging a "full study" of directional lights on the bridge roadway instead of proposed traffic control arches.

3. Purchased 500 gallons of international orange paint from W. P. Fuller and Co., San Francisco, for $2.32 per gallon, low bid of three received.

Marin City Man Freed Of Eatery Shooting Charge

Ross attorney Vincent Hallinan won a criminal jury trial in Marin Superior Court last night when the juorors freed a Marin City contractor of charges he tried to shoot his business partner last July.

The nine-woman, three-man jury cleared Vertis Denver Spigner, 36, of the charge that he tried to kill Adam Jackson, 51, at the Pig Haven restaurant in Sausalito. Jackson, who lives in San Francisco, runs the restaurant.

The jurors deliberated for about four hours and found Spigner innocent at 10 o'clock last night.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained an edge to the upside at the close today but earlier gains were cut drastically and there were plenty of losers. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2.5 million shares compared with 2.22 million yesterday.

Gains of pivotal stocks ran from fractions to about a point, outnumbering an increasing number of losers as the session wore on.

Thieves Dump Liquor Cache

Thieves broke into a Sleepy Hollow home, tossed two cases of liquor out the window, but were apparently frightened off before they could take away their loot, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Victim was florist Jack Krug of 20 Oak Knoll Drive, who is away on vacation. His neighbor, Dr. W. C. Andrews of 30 Oak Knoll Drive, discovered the break-in and called the sheriff yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Leo Ballard said one of the burglars may have cut his hand on broken glass. He found several bloody prints on the glass on the east side of the house and on the window molding.

Outside the window were two cases of liquor, one still sealed and the other missing about four bottles.

Ruth G. Bachman Memorial Slated

Memorial services will be held Monday for Mrs. Ruth G. Bachman, 40, who died Wednesday at her San Anselmo home after a long illness.

She was the wife of Rev. Victor J. Bachman, assistant professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, and the mother of three young children.

Mrs. Bachman was a native of Karval, Colo. and came to California seven years ago. The family moved to 105 Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, a year ago from San Francisco.

Mrs. Bachman taught physical education at Hill School in Novato last year.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo, and the Novato Teachers Assn.

Her three surviving children are Eric, Lise and Brian Bachman.

Following private family funeral services, a memorial service will be held Monday at 4:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo, directed by Harry M. Williams Mortuary. The family has requested memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society.

Jessie L. Fries Services Held

Private funeral services were held today for Mrs. Jessie L. Fries, 80, a resident of Novato for 11 years, who died yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Fries died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Buckwalter, at 1130 Court Road, where she had been residing.

The body will be sent to Youngstown, Ohio, for burial in the family plot.

Born in Green Oaks, Pa., May 28, 1880, Mrs. Fries moved to Marin County in 1949. She was a member of the Women's Assn. of the Novato Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her daughter in Novato; another daughter, Mrs. Ray Dublin of Warren, Ohio; a son, Robert Fries of Tucson, Ariz., two sisters, a brother, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Contributions may be made to the Novato Presbyterian Church.

Antonio Morris, Point Reyes, Dies

Antonio F. Morris, 68, pioneer Point Reyes dairy rancher and maintenance man, died at his home today after a brief illness.

He had been suffering from an asthmatic condition.

Morris collapsed about 3:30 a.m. today at his Point Reyes ranch. Deputy Sheriff William L. Bradford, called to the home, said the victim was dead by the time he arrived.

Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart Church at Point Reyes Station at 9 a.m. Monday, directed by Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Olema Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's.

A native of the Azores, Morris had lived in Marin County for 60 years. He leaves his wife, Isabel, and a son, Antone, in Point Reyes Station. He was the brother of Frank Morris of Sonoma, Mrs. Rose Foster of San Francisco, Mrs. Marion Soares of San Rafael, and Mrs. Emily Augusta of Mayfield.

Martha Proctor Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Marie Proctor, 46, daughter of Theopil Gerouex of Larkspur, were to be held today in Healdsburg.

Mrs. Proctor died at her Healdsburg home Tuesday. Death was attributed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

Besides her father, she is survived by her husband, Ira Proctor; a son, Henry Proctor, and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Locati of San Anselmo, Mrs. Louise Potter of Monte Rio, Sonoma County, and Mrs. Henrietta Haney of Reno.

James Steele Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for James Steele, 83, lifelong Bolinas resident, who died yesterday in a local hospital.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the Presbyterian Church, Bolinas. Interment will be at Bolinas Cemetery. Keaton's Mortuary Service, San Rafael, is handling the arrangements.

Steele, a rancher until his retirement four years ago, suffered a stroke 10 days ago while driving his truck near Bolinas.

He is survived by five cousins including Mrs. Ellen Bourne of Bolinas.

Continental Army Chief Arrives For Inspection

Gen. Herbert B. Powell, newly appointed chief of the continental Army command, arrived at Hamilton Air Force Base in a C-54 yesterday afternoon to begin an inspection tour of the Pacific Northwest.

The four-star general was whisked to the Presidio of San Francisco, where he was given a 17-gun salute and honor guard ceremonies at 9 a.m. today.

General Powell led the only U.S. unit to reach the Yalu River in the Korean War.

His new assignment makes him responsible for ground defense of the United States, mobilization and expansion of the Army and assistance to civil authority during any domestic emergency.

RIGHT TO COME, GO

San Rafael Students Back Board On Campus Policy

San Rafael High School students yesterday orally endorsed a list of recommendations accepted by the San Rafael Board of Education Tuesday calling for the students to prove they can keep a neat and orderly campus while retaining the right to go and come as they please.

Principal Ralph H. Phelps said today, "It is up to the student government to act on the proposals," but judging from the response of the students, they approved."

Phelps said the students "were working very hard" on the proposals and that they wanted "a school people will admire."

He said questions such as "how do we get started" rang through the assembly room following the announcement that the board of education would not close the campus if the school proved capable of correcting off-campus littering and rowdyism during school hours.

NAACP Votes Marin City Job Survey

The Marin Branch of the National Assn. for the advancement of Colored People last night decided to launch a survey of Marin City's employment situation.

President Edward T. Anderson today urged residents to see him at House 629 to get survey forms.

The survey, he said, is designed to show the extent of unemployment and the trades or occupations of those unemployed. The N.A.A.C.P. will try to get jobs for those needing them, he declared.

Anderson said "unemployment in Marin is widespread but affects Marin City greatly because most of its residents are in construction work. When construction work goes down, they have to find something else to do."

N.A.A.C.P. and Marin Ministerial Alliance representatives are to meet to discuss the employment situation, he reported. No date has been set for the meeting.

The branch also launched its "freedom seal" drive last night — a campaign to sell Christmas seals, sponsored by N.A.A.C.P., with the money to go to the organization's general fund. Seals are available from Anderson or from the chairman of the drive, Mrs. Marjorie Cortes, House 487.

7:08 p.m., San Rafael—Sparks from chimmney fell on shingle roof at residence of Jack Hirsch, 133 Center Street; no damage.

TODAY:

3 a.m., San Rafael—Mrs. Margaret Brunhofen, 178 Mission Avenue, complained everything she touched gave her a shock; investigation showed nothing in her home was causing shocks.

Firemen Open House In Larkspur

The Larkspur Fire Department will open its doors to the public tonight from 6 to 10 o'clock for the final evening of the week-long open house.

Approximately 600 Larkspur school children had toured the department this week, chief George Bartram said. Each child was given a badge and helmet signifying status as a junior fire marshal.

The youngsters were sent home with home inspection sheets to fill out after inspecting their own homes for safety precautions. "They are filling them out and returning them like real fire marshals," Bartram said.

Motion pictures on rescue breathing will be shown tonight at 7:30 o'clock. Volunteer firemen will be on hand all evening to demonstrate equipment and serve refreshments.

San Rafael Hires New Meter Maid

Mrs. Charles Meader now helps mind the meters in San Rafael.

Mrs. Meader, of 429 Calle De Mesa, Novato, has been hired as a "meter maid" to check parking meters, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa announced today. The appointment is subject to city council confirmation.

A former grocery store checker, Mrs. Meader replaces Roselle Anderson, who resigned.

Commute Price Cut Raised Span Revenue

Reduction in cost of the 52-trip commute book across the Golden Gate Bridge resulted in an increase of nearly $14,000 in revenues to the bridge district from this source during the first month of the lower toll, the bridge board of directors was told today.

During September, first month the book was sold for $8 instead of $9, a total of 9,910 books was sold. This compares with 7,310 books in the same month a year ago, an increase of 35½ per cent.

In gross revenue, the bridge received $79,280 from commute book sales last month as compared to $65,790 for September last year.

At the same time, other types of traffic were increasing as well, General Manager James Adam reported.

Traffic totaled 1,690,176 vehicles last month as compared with 1,570,235 a year ago. This brought revenue of $427,808 as against $401,971 a year ago.

Adam said preliminary figures also showed an increase of interurban buses and trucks.

The bridge board authorized Adam to apply to the Department of Defense to revise a contract for providing water and power to the Marin end of the bridge. Adam told the board more water was needed to care for landscaping planned by state highway engineers at Vista Point.

In other actions the board:

1. Referred to the building and operating committee a letter from Golda Scribner of Novato to Director Phillips Davies, urging consideration of a Marin parking lot for commuters' cars and shuttle bus service into San Francisco.

2. Made a similar referral of a letter from Central Council of Civic Clubs of San Francisco, urging a "full study" of directional lights on the bridge roadway instead of proposed traffic control arches.

3. Purchased 500 gallons of international orange paint from W. P. Fuller and Co., San Francisco, for $2.32 per gallon, low bid of three received.

Marin City Man Freed Of Eatery Shooting Charge

Ross attorney Vincent Hallinan won a criminal jury trial in Marin Superior Court last night when the juorors freed a Marin City contractor of charges he tried to shoot his business partner last July.

The nine-woman, three-man jury cleared Vertis Denver Spigner, 36, of the charge that he tried to kill Adam Jackson, 51, at the Pig Haven restaurant in Sausalito. Jackson, who lives in San Francisco, runs the restaurant.

The jurors deliberated for about four hours and found Spigner innocent at 10 o'clock last night.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market maintained an edge to the upside at the close today but earlier gains were cut drastically and there were plenty of losers. Trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 2.5 million shares compared with 2.22 million yesterday.

Gains of pivotal stocks ran from fractions to about a point, outnumbering an increasing number of losers as the session wore on.

Thieves Dump Liquor Cache

Thieves broke into a Sleepy Hollow home, tossed two cases of liquor out the window, but were apparently frightened off before they could take away their loot, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Victim was florist Jack Krug of 20 Oak Knoll Drive, who is away on vacation. His neighbor, Dr. W. C. Andrews of 30 Oak Knoll Drive, discovered the break-in and called the sheriff yesterday.

Deputy Sheriff Leo Ballard said one of the burglars may have cut his hand on broken glass. He found several bloody prints on the glass on the east side of the house and on the window molding.

Outside the window were two cases of liquor, one still sealed and the other missing about four bottles.

Ruth G. Bachman Memorial Slated

Memorial services will be held Monday for Mrs. Ruth G. Bachman, 40, who died Wednesday at her San Anselmo home after a long illness.

She was the wife of Rev. Victor J. Bachman, assistant professor of practical theology at San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo, and the mother of three young children.

Mrs. Bachman was a native of Karval, Colo. and came to California seven years ago. The family moved to 105 Melville Avenue, San Anselmo, a year ago from San Francisco.

Mrs. Bachman taught physical education at Hill School in Novato last year.

She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo, and the Novato Teachers Assn.

Her three surviving children are Eric, Lise and Brian Bachman.

Following private family funeral services, a memorial service will be held Monday at 4:30 p.m. at the First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo, directed by Harry M. Williams Mortuary. The family has requested memorial contributions to the American Cancer Society.

Jessie L. Fries Services Held

Private funeral services were held today for Mrs. Jessie L. Fries, 80, a resident of Novato for 11 years, who died yesterday after a long illness.

Mrs. Fries died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Buckwalter, at 1130 Court Road, where she had been residing.

The body will be sent to Youngstown, Ohio, for burial in the family plot.

Born in Green Oaks, Pa., May 28, 1880, Mrs. Fries moved to Marin County in 1949. She was a member of the Women's Assn. of the Novato Presbyterian Church.

She is survived by her daughter in Novato; another daughter, Mrs. Ray Dublin of Warren, Ohio; a son, Robert Fries of Tucson, Ariz., two sisters, a brother, nine grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Contributions may be made to the Novato Presbyterian Church.

Antonio Morris, Point Reyes, Dies

Antonio F. Morris, 68, pioneer Point Reyes dairy rancher and maintenance man, died at his home today after a brief illness.

He had been suffering from an asthmatic condition.

Morris collapsed about 3:30 a.m. today at his Point Reyes ranch. Deputy Sheriff William L. Bradford, called to the home, said the victim was dead by the time he arrived.

Funeral services will be held at the Sacred Heart Church at Point Reyes Station at 9 a.m. Monday, directed by Keaton's Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be in Olema Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Sunday at Keaton's.

A native of the Azores, Morris had lived in Marin County for 60 years. He leaves his wife, Isabel, and a son, Antone, in Point Reyes Station. He was the brother of Frank Morris of Sonoma, Mrs. Rose Foster of San Francisco, Mrs. Marion Soares of San Rafael, and Mrs. Emily Augusta of Mayfield.

Martha Proctor Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Marie Proctor, 46, daughter of Theopil Gerouex of Larkspur, were to be held today in Healdsburg.

Mrs. Proctor died at her Healdsburg home Tuesday. Death was attributed to an overdose of sleeping pills.

Besides her father, she is survived by her husband, Ira Proctor; a son, Henry Proctor, and three sisters, Mrs. Marie Locati of San Anselmo, Mrs. Louise Potter of Monte Rio, Sonoma County, and Mrs. Henrietta Haney of Reno.

James Steele Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for James Steele, 83, lifelong Bolinas resident, who died yesterday in a local hospital.

Services will be held at 10:30 a.m. at the Presbyterian Church, Bolinas. Interment will be at Bolinas Cemetery. Keaton's Mortuary Service, San Rafael, is handling the arrangements.

Steele, a rancher until his retirement four years ago, suffered a stroke 10 days ago while driving his truck near Bolinas.

He is survived by five cousins including Mrs. Ellen Bourne of Bolinas.

McCarthy Renews Billboard Battle

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) has announced plans to renew his battle to free California's scenic highways of unsightly, unnecessary and unsafe billboards.

McCarthy's announcement came yesterday before the 30th annual conference of the California County Planning Commissioners Assn. meeting at Yosemite National Park. He urged delegates to support and aid passage of an effective measure that would be workable both at the state and local levels.

"We are preparing legislation that will bring all of the counties of the state into the picture in such a way that it will provide strong and uniform enforcement," he reported, "but would give local authorities the right to decide on how stringent a regulation they desire. I feel legislation based on a state definition of scenic highway is the key."

McCarthy said he interpreted scenic highway "to mean any highway along which the natural landscape is generally regarded and considered as possessing beauty, attractiveness or historical beauty."

Under the proposed legislation, he said, "boards of supervisors would be able to designate scenic highways and roads in addition to those designated by the state." He added that "a mere handful" of California's 58 counties have outdoor advertising control considered to be effective.

Today in Fresno, Senator McCarthy told a regional meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce that if Proposition 15 (Senate reapportionment) passes, "the California State Senate will be nothing more than a rubber stamp for the Assembly." He urged defeat of the proposition.

San Rafael Dentist Named To State Post

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today announced appointment of Dr. G. Thomas Quigg of San Rafael to the California Board of Dental Examiners.

Dr. Quigg will succeed Orland J. Caselli, who resigned. The term expires Jan. 15, 1964.

The San Rafael dentist resides with his wife and three children at 65 Fairway Drive and practices in San Francisco.

He was president of the California State Dental Society last year and is now chairman of its board. He is a member of the House of Delegates of the American Dental Society and past president of the San Francisco Dental Society.

He is a graduate of the University of California Dental School and a member of the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco. He is a registered Democrat.

TO PAY FOR ROADS

State Aide Suggests Vehicle Fee Increase

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Senate committee today studied the possibility of increasing by 50 per cent the state's motor vehicle license fees to pay for city and county road construction.

The suggestion was made yesterday by Richard M. Zettel, staff director for the senate transportation and public utilities committee.

But at the same time, Zettel said he was "not necessarily prepared to advocate" the increase, which would bring an additional 65 million dollars a year into cities and counties.

The state now collects $2 per $100 of market value on cars in motor vehicle license fees and distributes most of the money—after certain administrative costs—on a 50-50 basis between cities and counties.

Recently, the senate committee was told that cities and counties would need an additional 7.5 billion dollars during the next 20 years to finance street and road construction.

Former Sailor Nabbed For Phony Check

San Rafael police yesterday patched together a torn-up check and arrested a former sailor, Lynwood A. Sutton, 32, of Raleigh, N.C., on charges of passing a bad check and vagrancy.

Jack R. Hansen of Petaluma, assistant manager of the Purity Store in San Rafael's Montecito Shopping Center, said Sutton entered the store about 4:30 p.m. and tried to cash a $20 counter check from the Wells Fargo Bank-American Trust Co. in San Rafael.

When Hansen told him he would have to call the bank, Sutton walked out of the store and ripped up the check. Hansen said the bank had no account in Sutton's name.

Inspector Nicholas Giampoli and Sgt. Lincoln Borba, responding to the manager's phone call, gathered the pieces of the check and took Sutton to the county jail.

They said Sutton admitted trying to cash the ficticious check. He said he had just been discharged from the Navy for indebtedness, they reported.

McCarthy Renews Billboard Battle

State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) has announced plans to renew his battle to free California's scenic highways of unsightly, unnecessary and unsafe billboards.

McCarthy's announcement came yesterday before the 30th annual conference of the California County Planning Commissioners Assn. meeting at Yosemite National Park. He urged delegates to support and aid passage of an effective measure that would be workable both at the state and local levels.

"We are preparing legislation that will bring all of the counties of the state into the picture in such a way that it will provide strong and uniform enforcement," he reported, "but would give local authorities the right to decide on how stringent a regulation they desire. I feel legislation based on a state definition of scenic highway is the key."

McCarthy said he interpreted scenic highway "to mean any highway along which the natural landscape is generally regarded and considered as possessing beauty, attractiveness or historical beauty."

Under the proposed legislation, he said, "boards of supervisors would be able to designate scenic highways and roads in addition to those designated by the state." He added that "a mere handful" of California's 58 counties have outdoor advertising control considered to be effective.

Today in Fresno, Senator McCarthy told a regional meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce that if Proposition 15 (Senate reapportionment) passes, "the California State Senate will be nothing more than a rubber stamp for the Assembly." He urged defeat of the proposition.

San Rafael Dentist Named To State Post

Gov. Edmund G. Brown today announced appointment of Dr. G. Thomas Quigg of San Rafael to the California Board of Dental Examiners.

Dr. Quigg will succeed Orland J. Caselli, who resigned. The term expires Jan. 15, 1964.

The San Rafael dentist resides with his wife and three children at 65 Fairway Drive and practices in San Francisco.

He was president of the California State Dental Society last year and is now chairman of its board. He is a member of the House of Delegates of the American Dental Society and past president of the San Francisco Dental Society.

He is a graduate of the University of California Dental School and a member of the faculty of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in San Francisco. He is a registered Democrat.

To Be Interviewed

Film actor Francie Avalon will be interviewed by radio station KTIM's Jerry Bennett "Teentime" at 12:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Former Sailor Nabbed For Phony Check

San Rafael police yesterday patched together a torn-up check and arrested a former sailor, Lynwood A. Sutton, 32, of Raleigh, N.C., on charges of passing a bad check and vagrancy.

Jack R. Hansen of Petaluma, assistant manager of the Purity Store in San Rafael's Montecito Shopping Center, said Sutton entered the store about 4:30 p.m. and tried to cash a $20 counter check from the Wells Fargo Bank-American Trust Co. in San Rafael.

When Hansen told him he would have to call the bank, Sutton walked out of the store and ripped up the check. Hansen said the bank had no account in Sutton's name.

Inspector Nicholas Giampoli and Sgt. Lincoln Borba, responding to the manager's phone call, gathered the pieces of the check and took Sutton to the county jail.

They said Sutton admitted trying to cash the ficticious check. He said he had just been discharged from the Navy for indebtedness, they reported.

Series Of Judo Lessons Planned

The Southern Marin Recreation Center is sponsoring an eight-week series of judo lessons beginning Oct. 25. Sign-ups are being taken now at the center.

Children under 12 will be instructed from 7 to 8:30 p. m. and adults from 8:30 to 10 p. m. Wally Jay is the instructor. A fee will be charged members and a higher fee non-members.

Marin Hospital Adds Two To Medical Staff

Two additions to the medical staff at Marin General Hospital have been approved by the board of directors. They had previously been passed by the medical staff of the hospital.

They are Dr. Norman P. Carrig, specialist in internal medicine, 10 El Paseo, Mill Valley, and Dr. Joseph Lackey Jr., general surgery, Boardwalk, Belvedere.

TO PAY FOR ROADS

State Aide Suggests Vehicle Fee Increase

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A Senate committee today studied the possibility of increasing by 50 per cent the state's motor vehicle license fees to pay for city and county road construction.

The suggestion was made yesterday by Richard M. Zettel, staff director for the senate transportation and public utilities committee.

But at the same time, Zettel said he was "not necessarily prepared to advocate" the increase, which would bring an additional 65 million dollars a year into cities and counties.

The state now collects $2 per $100 of market value on cars in motor vehicle license fees and distributes most of the money—after certain administrative costs—on a 50-50 basis between cities and counties.

Recently, the senate committee was told that cities and counties would need an additional 7.5 billion dollars during the next 20 years to finance street and road construction.

WHISTLES FINE, CAN'T TALK

Marie Ann Jones, 17 months old, can't walk yet, but she can whistle like a trouper, say her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jones of Emporia, Kan. She discovered the trick a month ago when she just happened to pucker her lips and blow. (AP Wirephoto)

Battle Lines Redrawn On Ross Tennis Issue

Another skirmish in the long simmering "Battle of the Ross Tennis Courts" was fought last night at the Ross Town Council meeting, ending in a sort of victory for both sides.

The battle lines appeared to be roughly drawn between a citizen committee headed by Dr. Alex Beaton on one side and a somewhat beleaguered council on the other.

The basic issue was location of a proposed set of two tennis courts, to be constructed by private contributions on land to be set aside by the town. At a May meeting, the council, which had been struggling with the matter since early January decided that the Ross Common would be the only practical location.

Not so, said Beaton, offering results of a postcard poll showing a 47 to 18 vote for a location on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way.

Mayor Arthur Kanzee, painstakingly reviewing the location struggle step by step since January, stated that the council decision was no snap judgment, and pointed out the results of the town engineer's study of the railroad site.

The report had pointed out the age of Marin Municipal Water District pipes under the area which might leak or break, causing the courts to be taken up for repairs. It was also stated that fill and tree removal operations might weaken the banks of Corte Madera Creek, causing a flood hazard.

Beaton, citing another engineer's report, replied that if the bank washed out, the courts would be the victim, rather than the cause.

"This battle of the tennis courts has got to stop," citizen James Green angrily interjected, "It's been dragging on since as long ago as 1947. It's split families, ruined friendships, and made everyone miserable. It's nothing but a political football."

Councilman John Witter saved the moment by suggesting that possibly two courts would not be enough. Stating that the growth of the area indicated that still more recreational facilities would be needed, he suggested a citizens' committee be formed to plan a bond issue for a general recreation program, and to look into possible sites.

"We've gone into this sort of thing before," Kanzee said, "it generally stalls when people find out that they're going to have to pay for it out of their own pockets."

"Have they ever been given a chance to vote on it?," Beaton retorted as the council moved to form a committee in the near future.

Gallinas Unit Names New Officers

Floyd Hovland, landscaper of 2384 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, was elected president of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District for a two-year term at a meeting of the board of directors last night.

Mrs. Annie M. Reagan was re-elected secretary.

Assessment bonds totaling $41,000 for the Golf Links Tract went to the San Francisco investment security firm of Stone and Youngberg, lowest of three bidders with an interest rate working out to 4.702 per cent.

Bids were opened for cleaning the district's sewer lines over a four-year period with Roddin g-Cleaning Machines, Inc., of Los Angeles the apparent low bidder with a figure of nine and one-half cents per lineal foot for all lines.

Annexations were started for inclusion of Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church in Terra Linda Valley.

The meeting was adjourned to an Oct. 24 session to be notified by publication in order to ascertain public desires as to possible audit of books of the Marin Sanitary Service.

New York's Hayden Planetarium was named for Charles Hayden, whose $150,000 gift in 1935 paid for its projector.

Ross Council Hears Noisy Zone Debate

The Ross Town Council last night settled two more zoning matters and tabled one in the continuing conflict of builders versus zoning laws.

At times, a capacity crowd was so noisy that an irate resident had to appeal to Mayor Arthur Kanzee, to restore quiet so she could hear. The crowd was split into small groups, each interested in its own neighborhood and waiting to debate the variance there While waiting their turn, they swapped small talk.

WHY NOT OBEY?

One resident met each variance with the query, "Why don't we just obey the law?"

The most spectacular struggle erupted when architect Felix M. Warburg locked horns with a group of Redwood and Baywood roads residents over his plan to build two hillside homes at the top of Baywood. Warburg was accused of representing "speculative builders." Residents complained that the road is too narrow to hold any more traffic and that further residential construction would lead to serious health and welfare hazards particularly due to the difficulty of moving fire equipment up the road.

Many of the aroused citizens complained they were not notified of the previous variance hearing, with the result that a monster had been built in their midst.

"I don't know if any of you people have seen what you spawned on Redwood Road," one aroused home owner told the council, "but I dont't want another one like it there." The council tabled the matter until after devolopment of a master zoning plan.

OUT IN FORCE

A group of Ivy Drive residents was out in force to object to construction of two houses at the top of Ivy, which one resident described as "cliff dwellings." Principal objection was that Ivy could not stand the additional traffic, especially during the construction period. The request was turned down.

A request by Edward Hageman Jr. for home construction eight feet from the property line was also turned down.

In other actions, the council:

1. Heard that 90 feet of asphalt sidewalk has been laid on the south side of Lagunitas Road near Alum Avenue.
2. Decided to accept a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. offer to place mercury vapor lights on a Sir Francis Drake Boulevard bridge over Corte Madera Creek where there have been no lights for eight months because of a short-circuit.
3. Took under advisement a citizen request for "no parking" areas on Baywood Road.
4. Decided to appeal the decision of Marin County Superior Court allowing Margaret E. Hamer to build apartments on land zoned for single unit residences across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Ross General Hospital.

College To Keep Aides To Teachers

Continuation of a program of employment of students as assistants to instructors at College of Marin was approved last night by the trustees with the provision that further study be given the library assistance program.

Pay would be $1.25 an hour for students, who would be named at the discretion of the department heads.

The library assistance program, under discussion several months, was approved tentatively pending a more complete study of library needs.

"I thought we had settled this sticky problem last year when we put on extra full-time help in the library," said Trustee Rupert E. Kempf. "I want more justification for additional student help."

Kempf suggested, in the interests of "efficiency," that perhaps one more full-time person be hired in place of students who had to "be trained and replaced."

"Most college libraries use student help in order to give the students the educational experience of the job," director Stephen E. Epler answered. Epler also said that the college library, which has recently added evening hours to its schedule, was under-staffed.

"I understand we have as high as a 25 per cent drop-out of students during the first semester," said Trustee George G. Washburn. "Shouldn't we hold off hiring student help until we see if any of them are going to drop out of school?"

"Those students who use the library are not the ones who drop out of school," Epler said, adding that even with a slight decrease in enrollment the work load is not appreciably reduced.

Trustees were given a report on "gifted" high school seniors who are attending the college at the same time they are completing their high school education.

The program permits the college to accept no more than 5 per cent of a senior class. Three San Rafael High School students are now studying calculus, reading and composition, and U.S. history.

Dr. Epler said Tamalpais Union High School District has been invited to join the program.

The board heard an appeal by F. Bourne Hayne of the Kentfield Civic League for support of the league's effort to influence the plans of a Standard Oil service station on College Avenue. Trustees assured Bourne their cooperation.

In other action last night, the trustees:

1. Authorized use of school facilities by eight organizations.
2. Approved continuation of membership and payment of dues in the Marin County School Boards Assn. and the California Assn. of Adult Education Administrators.
3. Approved appointment of additional members of school catalog committee.
4. Set the remaining board meetings for the current year on Nov. 17 and Dec. 8 in order to avoid conflict with holidays.
5. Approved payment of warrants totaling $17,152. All five trustees were present.
6. Tabled for 60 days for further study a proposal that mileage payments for use of private automobiles for school business be raised from 8 to 10 cents a mile.
7. Authorized the director to obtain the opinion of the county counsel on a possible loan of pictures by William Keith, now in storage, to the Oakland City Museum.
8. Authorized the director to loan a reflecting telescope to the Marin Amateur Atsronomers.

New Pilots' Club To Push Flying In Marin County

Business and recreational flying in Marin County is to be promoted by the Marin Pilots Assn., a non-profit corporation just formed with J. C. Hudson of San Rafael as secretary.

Hudson said today that memberships will be held by more than 100 pilots and owners living or basing planes in the county.

Directors include William Simson of Woodside, Melville Dickson of Woodacre, Hal McCarthy, Pan-American Airlines pilot living in Sleepy Hollow, and Robert Davis of San Rafael.

Activities are to include publication of a monthly news bulletin, social events including group "fly-ins" to other areas, organization of a flying club with a plane based at the county airport, educational efforts among the public and work with the foundation, county supervisors and planning commission.

State Official Doesn't Like Street Name

The California Division of Highways is unhappy with the City of San Rafael's choice of a street name for the Highway 101 frontage road across from Terra Linda.

The city council in August voted to name the frontage road Redwood Parkway. Property owners and business and professional men on the frontage road had requested that it receive a name, so signs pointing the way from the highway would read something other than "Frontage Road."

Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. officials objected to names suggested because the firm has used a Redwood Highway address on stationery and in advertising. The council compromised on Redwood Parkway—which pleased both Fairchild and the others.

But the choice didn't please the Division of Highways.

"The new name would be confusing since Highway 101 is called the Redwood Highway," District Engineer L. A. Weymouth declared in a letter to the city council which will be presented at its meeting Tuesday night.

(That's just the reason the name was acceptable to Fairchild.)

Weymouth asked that the council reconsider its choice.

Arkansas comes from a Quapaw Indian word meaning "downstream people."

College Recreation Proposal Snagged

A proposal that the College of Marin start an adult and teen-age recreation program ran into a snag last night when one trustee said he would vote against involving the educational institution in any scheme to "teach trampoline and weight-lifting."

The proposal, presented by Harry Peiper, head of the department of physical education, would set up an instructional program of recreation including such activities as trampoline, weight-lifting, golf, volley ball, badminton and dancing.

Opposition came from trustee George G. Washburn. He said he did not think the taxpayers would be willing to finance this sort of thing.

Peiper said the money for the program would come from taxes levied for Civic Center activities and not from instructional funds.

"The purpose of the Civic Center act is to make recreational facilities of schools available to the community," Director Stephen E. Epier said.

"After all, we approve such courses as rug weaving and pottery making," Peiper said. "As a physical education instructor, I am prejudiced and think this sort of thing is every bit as important. I feel a great many adults would be interested in such instructional courses."

"Could it be that you are looking for some 'ringers' for your teams?" trustee Kent O. Seymour asked the coach.

"That's a thought," Peiper said. "Seriously, though, I do feel it would be an excellent way to interest many teenagers in the college."

"If these people are so interested in recreation, I think they ought to pay for it themselves," Washburn said.

The board took no action on the matter, pending further study and a report of costs and additional details by Peiper.

One of the elevision cameras on the Tiros I weather satellite focused on a 640,000 square mile area of the earth.

"This battle of the tennis courts has got to stop," citizen James Green angrily interjected, "It's been dragging on since as long ago as 1947. It's split families, ruined friendships, and made everyone miserable. It's nothing but a political football."

Councilman John Witter saved the moment by suggesting that possibly two courts would not be enough. Stating that the growth of the area indicated that still more recreational facilities would be needed, he suggested a citizens' committee be formed to plan a bond issue for a general recreation program, and to look into possible sites.

"We've gone into this sort of thing before," Kanzee said, "it generally stalls when people find out that they're going to have to pay for it out of their own pockets."

"Have they ever been given a chance to vote on it?," Beaton retorted as the council moved to form a committee in the near future.

Gallinas Unit Names New Officers

Floyd Hovland, landscaper of 2384 Las Gallinas Avenue, San Rafael, was elected president of the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District for a two-year term at a meeting of the board of directors last night.

Mrs. Annie M. Reagan was re-elected secretary.

Assessment bonds totaling $41,000 for the Golf Links Tract went to the San Francisco investment security firm of Stone and Youngberg, lowest of three bidders with an interest rate working out to 4.702 per cent.

Bids were opened for cleaning the district's sewer lines over a four-year period with Rodding-Cleaning Machines, Inc., of Los Angeles the apparent low bidder with a figure of nine and one-half cents per lineal foot for all lines.

Annexations were started for inclusion of Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church in Terra Linda Valley.

The meeting was adjourned to an Oct. 24 session to be notified by publication in order to ascertain public desires as to possible audit of books of the Marin Sanitary Service.

New York's Hayden Planetarium was named for Charles Hayden, whose $150,000 gift in 1935 paid for its projector.

Ross Council Hears Noisy Zone Debate

The Ross Town Council last night settled two more zoning matters and tabled one in the continuing conflict of builders versus zoning laws.

At times, a capacity crowd was so noisy that an irate resident had to appeal to Mayor Arthur Kanzee, to restore quiet so she could hear. The crowd was split into small groups, each interested in its own neighborhood and waiting to debate the variance there While waiting their turn, they swapped small talk.

WHY NOT OBEY?

One resident met each variance with the query, "Why don't we just obey the law?"

The most spectacular struggle erupted when architect Felix M. Warburg locked horns with a group of Redwood and Baywood roads residents over his plan to build two hillside homes at the top of Baywood. Warburg was accused of representing "speculative builders." Residents complained that the road is too narrow to hold any more traffic and that further residential construction would lead to serious health and welfare hazards particularly due to the difficulty of moving fire equipment up the road.

Many of the aroused citizens complained they were not notified of the previous variance hearing, with the result that a monster had been built in their midst.

"I don't know if any of you people have seen what you spawned on Redwood Road," one aroused home owner told the council, "but I dont't want another one like it there." The council tabled the matter until after devolopment of a master zoning plan.

OUT IN FORCE

A group of Ivy Drive residents was out in force to object to construction of two houses at the top of Ivy, which one resident described as "cliff dwellings." Principal objection was that Ivy could not stand the additional traffic, especially during the construction period. The request was turned down.

A request by Edward Hageman Jr. for home construction eight feet from the property line was also turned down.

In other actions, the council:

1. Heard that 90 feet of asphalt sidewalk has been laid on the south side of Lagunitas Road near Alum Avenue.
2. Decided to accept a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. offer to place mercury vapor lights on a Sir Francis Drake Boulevard bridge over Corte Madera Creek where there have been no lights for eight months because of a short-circuit.
3. Took under advisement a citizen request for "no parking" areas on Baywood Road.
4. Decided to appeal the decision of Marin County Superior Court allowing Margaret E. Hamer to build apartments on land zoned for single unit residences across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Ross General Hospital.

College To Keep Aides To Teachers

Continuation of a program of employment of students as assistants to instructors at College of Marin was approved last night by the trustees with the provision that further study be given the library assistance program.

Pay would be $1.25 an hour for students, who would be named at the discretion of the department heads.

The library assistance program, under discussion several months, was approved tentatively pending a more complete study of library needs.

"I thought we had settled this sticky problem last year when we put on extra full-time help in the library," said Trustee Rupert E. Kempf. "I want more justification for additional student help."

Kempf suggested, in the interests of "efficiency," that perhaps one more full-time person be hired in place of students who had to "be trained and replaced."

"Most college libraries use student help in order to give the students the educational experience of the job," director Stephen E. Epler answered. Epler also said that the college library, which has recently added evening hours to its schedule, was under-staffed.

"I understand we have as high as a 25 per cent drop-out of students during the first semester," said Trustee George G. Washburn. "Shouldn't we hold off hiring student help until we see if any of them are going to drop out of school?"

"Those students who use the library are not the ones who drop out of school," Epler said, adding that even with a slight decrease in enrollment the work load is not appreciably reduced.

Trustees were given a report on "gifted" high school seniors who are attending the college at the same time they are completing their high school education.

The program permits the college to accept no more than 5 per cent of a senior class. Three San Rafael High School students are now studying calculus, reading and composition, and U.S. history.

Dr. Epler said Tamalpais Union High School District has been invited to join the program.

The board heard an appeal by F. Bourne Hayne of the Kentfield Civic League for support of the league's effort to influence the plans of a Standard Oil service station on College Avenue. Trustees assured Bourne their cooperation.

In other action last night, the trustees:

1. Authorized use of school facilities by eight organizations.
2. Approved continuation of membership and payment of dues in the Marin County School Boards Assn. and the California Assn. of Adult Education Administrators.
3. Approved appointment of additional members of school catalog committee.
4. Set the remaining board meetings for the current year on Nov. 17 and Dec. 8 in order to avoid conflict with holidays.
5. Approved payment of warrants totaling $17,152. All five trustees were present.
6. Tabled for 60 days for further study a proposal that mileage payments for use of private automobiles for school business be raised from 8 to 10 cents a mile.
7. Authorized the director to obtain the opinion of the county counsel on a possible loan of pictures by William Keith, now in storage, to the Oakland City Museum.
8. Authorized the director to loan a reflecting telescope to the Marin Amateur Atsronomers.

New Pilots' Club To Push Flying In Marin County

Business and recreational flying in Marin County is to be promoted by the Marin Pilots Assn., a non-profit corporation just formed with J. C. Hudson of San Rafael as secretary.

Hudson said today that memberships will be held by more than 100 pilots and owners living or basing planes in the county.

Directors include William Simson of Woodside, Melville Dickson of Woodacre, Hal McCarthy, Pan-American Airlines pilot living in Sleepy Hollow, and Robert Davis of San Rafael.

Activities are to include publication of a monthly news bulletin, social events including group "fly-ins" to other areas, organization of a flying club with a plane based at the county airport, educational efforts among the public and work with the foundation, county supervisors and planning commission.

State Official Doesn't Like Street Name

The California Division of Highways is unhappy with the City of San Rafael's choice of a street name for the Highway 101 frontage road across from Terra Linda.

The city council in August voted to name the frontage road Redwood Parkway. Property owners and business and professional men on the frontage road had requested that it receive a name, so signs pointing the way from the highway would read something other than "Frontage Road."

Fairchild Semiconductor Corp. officials objected to names suggested because the firm has used a Redwood Highway address on stationery and in advertising. The council compromised on Redwood Parkway—which pleased both Fairchild and the others.

But the choice didn't please the Division of Highways.

"The new name would be confusing since Highway 101 is called the Redwood Highway," District Engineer L. A. Weymouth declared in a letter to the city council which will be presented at its meeting Tuesday night.

(That's just the reason the name was acceptable to Fairchild.)

Weymouth asked that the council reconsider its choice.

Arkansas comes from a Quapaw Indian word meaning "downstream people."

WASHBURN OBJECTS

College Recreation Proposal Snagged

A proposal that the College of Marin start an adult and teen-age recreation program ran into a snag last night when one trustee said he would vote against involving the educational institution in any scheme to "teach trampoline and weight-lifting."

The proposal, presented by Harry Peiper, head of the department of physical education, would set up an instructional program of recreation including such activities as trampoline, weight-lifting, golf, volley ball, badminton and dancing.

Opposition came from trustee George G. Washburn. He said he did not think the taxpayers would be willing to finance this sort of thing.

Peiper said the money for the program would come from taxes levied for Civic Center activities and not from instructional funds.

"The purpose of the Civic Center act is to make recreational facilities of schools available to the community," Director Stephen E. Epler said.

"After all, we approve such courses as rug weaving and pottery making," Peiper said. "As a physical education instructor, I am prejudiced and think this sort of thing is every bit as important. I feel a great many adults would be interested in such instructional courses."

"Could it be that you are looking for some 'ringers' for your teams?" trustee Kent O. Seymour asked the coach.

"That's a thought," Peiper said. "Seriously, though, I do feel it would be an excellent way to interest many teenagers in the college."

"If these people are so interested in recreation, I think they ought to pay for it themselves," Washburn said.

The board took no action on the matter, pending further study and a report of costs and additional details by Peiper.

One of the elevision cameras on the Tiros I weather satellite focused on a 640,000 square mile area of the earth.

School Critics Attack 'Research'

Today's teachers must look to themselves to determine whether they are "doing the job" before they can refute the attacks of critics of present-day education.

So stated Walcott Beatty, chairman of San Francisco State College's division of psychology, last night at College of Marin in the second of a six-lecture course on "Public Education: Criticisms and the Issues."

In his opinion, Beatty said, the most vocal critics have "thrown out research" and continue to attack points which are most defensible.

"Any statement made by critics which starts out insisting that the 'mind must be disciplined' is not supported by psychological research," he said. Using the study of Latin as an example, he said that at one time it was believed the study of the dead language was necessary in order to "train the mind."

"There are many reasons for studying Latin — such as to reach a better understanding of similar languages," he said, "but not to give a person a more orderly mind."

Answering those critics who ignore the "readiness" factor in a child, Beatty said that philosophical differences in children are so great that some are not actually ready to begin reading until the age of nine. "Optometrists will back us up in this," he added.

Few schools make allowances for this. If a child can't walk, then the issue is clear-cut. But his physiological readiness is not so clear-cut."

Critics who relegate the art of teaching to the level of "public servant" were also attacked by the educator, who said research has proved that teaching today is far superior to that of 50 years ago.

"No one method of teaching is best for any single child," he cautioned his audience of about 30, which was made up, for the most part, of teachers and teachers-to-be. "Many beginning teachers, because of a desire to survive, settle into a pattern of teaching early in their careers and stay with the pattern," he said. "We must continually look for better ways of doing things."

Allowances must be made for the emotionally disturbed child and coercion must be tempered with "insight" into the needs of the child and the reasons for his apparent wilful misbehavior, said Beatty.

"I have had many bright, 'straight A' students who are so 'punitive' that I would do anything I could to keep them from becoming teachers," he said in support of the theory that there is a "low correlation" between high grades and success in any given field.

Differences in children's energy levels, backgrounds, experiences and emotional stability must all be taken into consideration when the responsibility of teaching is accepted, he said.

Beatty said he went into the field of psychology 15 years ago after graduate work in administration at the University of Chicago. "There I learned how to make up budgets, hire teachers and buy toilet paper," he recalled, "but no mention was made of children themselves."

The third lecture in the series, under direction of Prof. Richard Axen of San Francisco State, will be held next Thursday at 7 p.m. The speaker will be John Connelly, associate professor of education at San Francisco State, who will speak on "What Stake Does Society Have in the Issue?"

Low Bidder

L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael was low bidder on traffic signals, highway lighting and intersection channelization on State Route 24 off-ramps with Camino Pablo in Orinda, the California Department of Public Works reported from Sacramento yesterday. The San Rafael firm's bid was $18,215.50. There were eight bidders.

IKE IS 70—President Eisenhower flashes a smile on his 70th birthday and shows off a badge making him a lifetime honorary member of the White House police force. Birthday greetings from around the world flooded the White House, to the first president in American history to serve at the age of 70. There was to be a mid-day birthday party on the White House lawn. Eisenhower says he feels fine, and expects to keep busy after his retirement from public life next January. (AP Wirephoto)

Youth, 19, Loses Speeding Case

A San Rafael youth who fought an $11 speeding tag in a jury trial, lost the case in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Jurors found Robert Olney Wilson, 19, of 601 C Street, San Rafael, guilty of going 35 miles per hour along Birch Way in Santa Venetia on the night of Aug. 23. The jury also convicted him of driving without lights.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales was prosecutor.

Judge Harold J. Haley set 3:30 p.m. next Monday as the time for sentencing.

Marin's Quota In Crusade At 23.6 Per Cent

Marin County has reached 26.3 per cent of its United Crusade Campaign quota with a total of $41,876 in contributions reported, according to figures announced at the first "report luncheon" of the present drive yesterday.

Highest percentage of quota was reported by the major firms division, with Byron Leydecker and Ted Craig as joint chairmen, achieving 72.6 per cent for an $11,611 total.

TELEPHONE CITATION

In this group a citation was issued to Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for 90 per cent employee participation.

The military group reported $20,184 with 57 per cent of quota achieved. A citation went to the Army Air Defense Command with all 13 units reaching or exceeding quotas.

Third highest was the professional division, which, under S. J. Hugh Allen and Dr. Russell Klein, made 40.9 per cent, amounting to $5,187.

COMMERCE, INDUSTRY

Commerce and industry, headed by Charles Howard Allen, has collected 10.7 per cent with $1,053 reported. Kaufman's Department Store in San Anselmo reported 100 per cent participation as did two banks —Crocker-Anglo and First Western, both San Rafael.

Others reported:

San Rafael business, Leroy Rudolph chairman, 9.7 per cent, $758.

Education, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis and Daryl Hopkins, 9.4 per cent, $982.

Advance gifts, Henry H. Wilkins, 8.3 per cent, $1,273.

Public employees, Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt and Capt. Theodore Parnow, 6.3 per cent, $463.

Residential, Mrs. Leigh J. Abell Jr., .9 of one per cent, $365. (The residential canvass began today.)

A camera designed by Dr. Harold E. Edgerton made man's deepest view of the ocean—24,600 feet down in the Atlantic.

Sausalito To Feature Proposed Art Center

Amid the panels and booths going up today in Sausalito for the art festival this weekend is one called "an exhibition of a proposed art center."

Brochures will be distributed at the booth and architectural drawings shown of an art center proposed to be built in Sausalito.

Ten backers of the center (two from Marin), have gone into the project with a great deal of spirit and, to date, already have a roof for the center without any bottom or place to locate it.

The roof, salvaged from an old church in San Francisco's western addition redevelopment, was purchased for $3,000 through contributions. Ernest Burden, San Francisco architectural designer, and F. Allen Stitt, Woodacre draftsman, were responsible for starting the center move.

The roof, Burden said, is of curved redwood beams and gable rafters, is being stored in a San Francisco wrecking yard until it can be brought to Sausalito. Dimensions are approximately 40 by 50 feet.

Purpose of the booth is to generate public interest from Sausalito and to get more backing. The center, Burden said, would feature pioneering art, including music, painting and sculpture. It is proposed to have auditorium space, plus exhibit sections.

The festival will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow and continue until darkness. Hours on Sunday will be the same. It is being set up on the city parking lot at Bridgeway and Bay Street.

Paintings, sculpture and art in action are included in the festival, for which an admission will be charged.

Amongst the art in action entrants is artist Serge Trubach, who will be working on his statue entitled "summit gargoyle" or "the abominable snow job." It is about 9 or 10 feet tall, made of wood and "odds and ends." "Just like the odds and ends of the members of the U.N.," Trubach said.

"I'm waiting for the stroke from heaven—rain—so it will look more natural," he added. "That weather-beaten look—whether they be beaten or not." His friends, Trubach said, "say the statue has an ironic Krhushchev quality."

The art entries will be judged Sunday by Mill Valley artist Henry Rasmusson, said Mrs. Elsie Milne, secretary of the sponsoring Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. Cash awards will be given for the best marine painting, $50; the best brotherhood of man photo, $25; the most interesting exhibit at the festival, $25, and the best work of an artist exhibiting for the first time, $25.

Mrs. Milne said the artists are stressing quality this year and those with commercial enterprises have been disqualified.

Elected Delegate

Albert Steinert of 730 Alta Vista Road, Mill Valley, has been elected delegate of the Marin County Club for the Blind to a convention of the California Council of the Blind in Fresno starting Oct. 21. Legislative planning will be considered.

Low Bidder

L. H. Leonardi Electric Construction Co. of San Rafael was low bidder on traffic signals, highway lighting and intersection channelization on State Route 24 off-ramps with Camino Pablo in Orinda, the California Department of Public Works reported from Sacramento yesterday. The San Rafael firm's bid was $18,215.50. There were eight bidders.

IKE IS 70—President Eisenhower flashes a smile on his 70th birthday and shows off a badge making him a lifetime honorary member of the White House police force. Birthday greetings from around the world flooded the White House, to the first president in American history to serve at the age of 70. There was to be a mid-day birthday party on the White House lawn. Eisenhower says he feels fine, and expects to keep busy after his retirement from public life next January. (AP Wirephoto)

Youth, 19, Loses Speeding Case

A San Rafael youth who fought an $11 speeding tag in a jury trial, lost the case in Marin Municipal Court yesterday.

Jurors found Robert Olney Wilson, 19, of 601 C Street, San Rafael, guilty of going 35 miles per hour along Birch Way in Santa Venetia on the night of Aug. 23. The jury also convicted him of driving without lights.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales was prosecutor.

Judge Harold J. Haley set 3:30 p.m. next Monday as the time for sentencing.

Marin's Quota In Crusade At 23.6 Per Cent

Marin County has reached 26.3 per cent of its United Crusade Campaign quota with a total of $41,876 in contributions reported, according to figures announced at the first "report luncheon" of the present drive yesterday.

Highest percentage of quota was reported by the major firms division, with Byron Leydecker and Ted Craig as joint chairmen, achieving 72.6 per cent for an $11,611 total.

TELEPHONE CITATION

In this group a citation was issued to Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. for 90 per cent employee participation.

The military group reported $20,184 with 57 per cent of quota achieved. A citation went to the Army Air Defense Command with all 13 units reaching or exceeding quotas.

Third highest was the professional division, which, under S. J. Hugh Allen and Dr. Russell Klein, made 40.9 per cent, amounting to $5,187.

COMMERCE, INDUSTRY

Commerce and industry, headed by Charles Howard Allen, has collected 10.7 per cent with $1,053 reported. Kaufman's Department Store in San Anselmo reported 100 per cent participation as did two banks —Crocker-Anglo and First Western, both San Rafael.

Others reported:

San Rafael business, Leroy Rudolph chairman, 9.7 per cent, $758.

Education, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis and Daryl Hopkins, 9.4 per cent, $982.

Advance gifts, Henry H. Wilkins, 8.3 per cent, $1,273.

Public employees, Gen. R. E. Mittelstaedt and Capt. Theodore Parnow, 6.3 per cent, $463.

Residential, Mrs. Leigh J. Abell Jr., .9 of one per cent, $365. (The residential canvass began today.)

A camera designed by Dr. Harold E. Edgerton made man's deepest view of the ocean—24,600 feet down in the Atlantic.

Sausalito To Feature Proposed Art Center

Amid the panels and booths going up today in Sausalito for the art festival this weekend is one called "an exhibition of a proposed art center."

Brochures will be distributed at the booth and architectural drawings shown of an art center proposed to be built in Sausalito.

Ten backers of the center (two from Marin), have gone into the project with a great deal of spirit and, to date, already have a roof for the center without any bottom or place to locate it.

The roof, salvaged from an old church in San Francisco's western addition redevelopment, was purchased for $3,000 through contributions. Ernest Burden, San Francisco architectural designer, and F. Allen Stitt, Woodacre draftsman, were responsible for starting the center move.

The roof, Burden said, is of curved redwood beams and gable rafters, is being stored in a San Francisco wrecking yard until it can be brought to Sausalito. Dimensions are approximately 40 by 50 feet.

Purpose of the booth is to generate public interest from Sausalito and to get more backing. The center, Burden said, would feature pioneering art, including music, painting and sculpture. It is proposed to have auditorium space, plus exhibit sections.

The festival will open at 9 a.m. tomorrow and continue until darkness. Hours on Sunday will be the same. It is being set up on the city parking lot at Bridgeway and Bay Street.

Paintings, sculpture and art in action are included in the festival, for which an admission will be charged.

Amongst the art in action entrants is artist Serge Trubach, who will be working on his statue entitled "summit gargoyle" or "the abominable snow job." It is about 9 or 10 feet tall, made of wood and "odds and ends." "Just like the odds and ends of the members of the U.N.," Trubach said.

"I'm waiting for the stroke from heaven—rain—so it will look more natural," he added. "That weather-beaten look—whether they be beaten or not." His friends, Trubach said, "say the statue has an ironic Krhushchev quality."

The art entries will be judged Sunday by Mill Valley artist Henry Rasmusson, said Mrs. Elsie Milne, secretary of the sponsoring Sausalito Chamber of Commerce. Cash awards will be given for the best marine painting, $50; the best brotherhood of man photo, $25; the most interesting exhibit at the festival, $25, and the best work of an artist exhibiting for the first time, $25.

Mrs. Milne said the artists are stressing quality this year and those with commercial enterprises have been disqualified.

Elected Delegate

Albert Steinert of 730 Alta Vista Road, Mill Valley, has been elected delegate of the Marin County Club for the Blind to a convention of the California Council of the Blind in Fresno starting Oct. 21. Legislative planning will be considered.

Angler's Pie, Stuffed Prawns, Fizz Are Enticements Now At Sabella's

Angler's pie and stuffed prawns are only two of the listings on Sabella's new lunch menu which ranges through seafoods, salads, louis, chowders, omelettes, sandwiches, burgers, steak, chicken and low calories. Some are regulars; others are changed daily.

The angler's pie I can recommend from the vantage point overlooking a casserole cleaned to the last morsel—the stuffed prawns from a quick snitch when no one was looking. A more sumptious midday meal I could not have eaten without begging off on supper.

This fare is served from 11 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. and prices are so satisfactory as to make you wonder how they do it

Lou Sabella's pastime, I think, must be experimenting with beverage combinations and studying their effects on taste and consequences. Like a good chef he seems to have a basic knowledge of which ingredients can get together without starting a family argument. This faculty saves considerable wear and tear on guinea pigs like myself charting a course through the heavy wet.

Latest in Lou's mixture is a coffee fizz which at the moment goes by no other name, though I must say it is worthy of some designation more de trope. I understand that starting from a morning-after scratch it does more to close the handicap than any other. That may be. I haven't gotten around to testing its therapeutics.

As an emollient for soothing tensions it's hard to beat.

NAVE LANES at Ignacio will be completely staffed in restaurant and cocktail lounge. Ben Fujihara, chef at Rickey's Rancho Rafael these last three years and holder of numerous credits in cooking, will take over the cuisine in Nero's Room as soon as it's ready. This should give him a chance to feature some of his own specialties.

In Caesar's Den, it's Ray Amonini in charge. Ray was once a partner in the Brick Lodge, San Rafael and stayed on when it was later changed to San Rafael Joe's.

IT'S NO PALACE and the name "Music Box" does not signify a cabaret in miniature. Sometimes it's quiet, often noisy. Its ambience is mostly what you can get from a long bar, piano bar and jukebox on one side of the room and partially screened tables and chairs on the other, surrounded by four walls. Present meal service is excellent hofbrau and the prices are lowbrow.

People meet there by design, coincidence or chance. There I run into some of my best friends, make new ones and nobody puts on airs.

The proprietor, Leo Cramer, is the only person I know who can look down in the mouth whether he's sad or happy. A smile on his lips doesn't necessarily reflect the mood of its sponsor, and his voice is like Andy Devine's without cracks, squeaks and overtones.

Gene Pah, by all that's appetizing, should have made the big time as a chef but he chose the way of most resistance. He has the unfortunate proclivity for cooking things as you'd like to eat them at home rather than according to prescribed restaurant standards.

Dick Brunelle who's a fast man at the piano Friday and Saturday nights is the most polished gent in the place but that's because he's also a choral director at San Francisco State and can't help himself.

Sounds crazy, doesn't it? Maybe that's why I like it.

SAN FRANCISCANS have yet to take full notice of the Spinnaker in Sausalito. Maybe they haven't discovered how to find it and with vacations over there aren't enough wandering relatives to take out in search of something they've heard about but don't bother looking for until suddenly they feel like showing off.

A number have filtered in, of course, but it's still a place where north county diners hold the balance of power.

Show people are beginning to discover it surreptitiously—opera star Lucini Amara was there three times before betraying her identity. Others will follow, and before you know it the Spinnaker will be another tourist trap and Marinites will be outnumbered.

I tell you, you better get your licks in before that happens.

I-J Winner Of Top Award In Education

A top award for "best newspaperboy education program in the state' was given to the Independent - Journal circulation department at the annual convention of the California Circulation Managers' Assn. in Santa Rosa this week.

A symbolic gold statue of a carrier boy was accepted by Julian C. Leone, I-J circulation manager.

The award was given pointly by the association and the California Newspaperboy Foundation. It went on a basis of judging newspapers' efforts to provide good business training, incentive programs and achievement recognition for its carriers.

Leone was further honored by being elected first vice president of the statewide association.

Planners Urge Two State Fairs

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Plans for two state fairs—one in the spring and one in the summer—have been submitted to the State Finance Department for approval.

The spring show, to be combined with the Sacramento County Fair, would stress floriculture and agriculture. The proposed budget is $315,000.

Fair planners said the fair could pay its own way and possibly even return a small profit.

MARIN SCREEN OFFERINGS

Urchin Steals Film From Loren, Gable

By LES DARD

Preview of the weekend films:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"It Started in Naples" (Vista-Vision, color) is a thoroughly delightful comedy starring Clark Gable and Sophia Loren, but stolen by an Italian urchin named Marietto.

Filmed in Naples and Capri, its primary appeal may be to the eye, in the manner of "Summertime," which was a delightful visit to Venice. It opens Sunday on the Hub screen.

Gable plays a stuffy Philadelphia lawyer who goes to Italy to settle a ne'er-do-well brother's estate. Among the legacies are Marietto, the product of a union unblessed by marriage, and Sophia, the aunt, a cabaret canary.

Gable finds the kid is a truant, a petty thief and also up late every night luring customers to auntie's club.

Gable's efforts to adopt the boy bring out the wiles of a maid with a man, for Sophia doesn't want to lose the lad.

Vittorio de Sica, a comedian with an eye for the girls, also is in the cast, as Gable's Italian lawyer.

It all adds up to a very pleasant frolic.

RAFAEL THEATER

"All the Fine Young Cannibals" (CinemaScope, color) spins a tale of very mixed-up young people and the troubles they can get into without half trying.

This new drama opens Sunday in San Rafael.

It starts in a Texas town, where Natalie Wood becomes involved with Robert Wagner, who blasts the trumpet at a local sin spot. When she discovers that she's "in a family way," she grabs an eastbound train and meets Yaleman George Hamilton.

Later, learning that she is pregnant and not suspecting that another may be the father, he weds Natalie, installs her in a mansion and floats off on a sea of liquor. (Everyone does.)

Story is complicated by Bob's success in New York, and his marriage to George's sister (Susan Kohner).

How this tangle, complicated by questions of true love, is resolved, makes up the gist of this new film.

MOTOR MOVIES

"Elmer Gantry" (color), opening Sunday, is a likely "Oscar" candidate.

The reason is Burt Lancaster as Gantry, a salesman who wanders into a revival and learns that his fraudulent eloquence can leave the sinners hanging onto the tent poles. Hollering about "that old-time religion," he puts life into the revivals of Sister Sharon Falconer (Jean Simmons) and brings them to the big time.

And it's in the big time that he helps Sister Sharon — his true love — build her big tabernacle, and meets his downfall. The finale possesses an old Testament fury. See this one.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

I've always had a fondness for gentle Doug Roberts, the hero of that immensely successful story, "Mr. Roberts."

The film version, which is being revived at the peninsula playbox (in CinemaScope and color) stars Henry Fonda as Roberts. His crotchety captain is Jimmy Cagney. He and Roberts frustrate each other frequently in a long battle which is finally resolved by the naval crew in a courageous move which has bittersweet results.

The story is remarkably funny, frequently penetrating, always expert.

The cast includes Jack Lemmon and William Powell. The co-feature is "The High and the Mighty," starring Robert Stack and John Wayne.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Tennessee Williams parades more members of his personal asylum in "The Fugitive Kind," starring Marlon Brando, Anna Magnani and Joanne Woodward.

Story focuses on a wastrel vagabond (Brando) who wanders into a backwash Louisiana town. Before long he's working for a woman storekeeper (Magnani) and improving her outlook on life.

Maureen Stapleton as a frowsy housewife and Miss Woodward as an eager, hysterical matron are among the locals with whom Brando dallies.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Hercules Unchained" (Eastman color Dyaliscope) is the latest in a series of muscular divertissements starring Steve Reeves, the Oakland strong boy who made good before a camera in Italy.

It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

"Just as he did in "Goliath" and "Giant of Marathon," Steve kills wild beasts with his bare hands, bowls over armies and disposes of a troublesome giant (Primo Carnera, in this case) without breathing hard.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a new British comedy which establishes, beyond a doubt, that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants. It has been held over for a sixth week in Larkspur.

The men's ward of a hospital serves as the setting for this romp. There is no story as such. Rather, the audience follows the day and night antics of the patients, a zany lot at best.

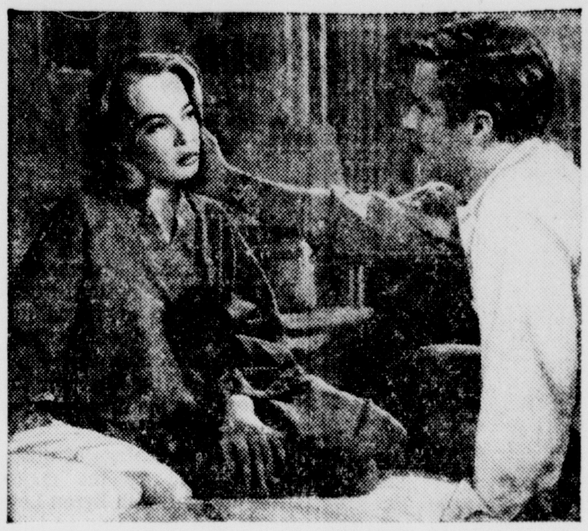
The crowd got quite a few laughs the night I saw this movie.

NOVATO THEATER

"The Story of Ruth" (color, Cinemascope) is based on what has been called the greatest mother-in-law story in history. It opens Sunday.

Elana Eden, a Hollywood newcomer, plays Ruth, the Moabite priestess who renounces her graven gods to follow her mother-in-law (Peggy Wood) to Israel ("Wither thou goest . . .") after her husband is killed.

Stuart Whitman appears as Boaz, the most commanding member of the cast. Viveca Lindfors is the Moabite high priestess.



SHE'S CONFUSED—George Peppard falls in love with a confused Leslie Caron in "The Subterraneans," a film version of Jack Kerouac's novel on beatniks. It starts Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

IN THE JUNGLE—"Tarzan the Magnificent" opens Sunday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo along with Sophia Loren and Clark Gable in "It Started In Naples."

What Answer To This Question?

CHEROKEE, N. C. (AP) — On the wall in the tribal headquarters of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians there is a framed placard with this comment:

"Before the white man came to this country there were no taxes, and the women did all the work. How can the white man improve on that?"

No answer to the question appears.

Up In The Air

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capt. Alvin A Aronovsky, an electronic warfare officer at Lockbourne Air Force Base here, has spent the equivalent of almost 44 full days in an airborne capsule.

Aronovsky has logged 1,050 hours in the electronic countermeasures capsule of a six-jet B47 bomber, and is the first electronic warfare officer to record more than 1,000 hours. The counter-measures are intended to foil the enemy's electronic weapons.

Bridge, Transit Talks Hinge On Tunnel Tests

Golden Gate Bridge District directors will not sit down and talk with directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District about possibility of putting rapid transit on the Gate span until current wind tunnel tests of a bridge model are completed.

Even then, the bridge directors won't attend a joint meeting until their engineers have studied and reported on the findings of the wind tunnel and other tests and their attorney has also studied their legality.

That was the report Adrien Falk, president of the transit district, gave to the district board yesterday. He said he had talked with Ben Lerer, chairman of the bridge's rapid transit committee, and been given this information. He said said Lerer declared "nothing would be gained" until the engineering feasibility study was concluded.

Falk said Lerer pledged his cooperation in seeing to it that the study of the feasibility report by the bridge engineers and attorney would be "expedited."

Marin director T. J. DeLasaux reported bridge director Phillips Davie recently viewed the wind tunnel experiments at Langley Field, Va., and "from press reports I have read he certainly seemed favorably impressed."

Recreation Unit Elects Colonel

Col. Arden I. Lewis of 588 Montecillo Road, San Rafael, has been elected first vice chairman of the armed forces section of the American Recreation Society, which does work in military recreation.

Colonel Lewis, who entered the Army in 1941, has served in the Middle East and in Puerto Rico as well as Alaska. He is now special services officer of the Sixth Army at San Francisco.

He lives with his wife, Mercile, and three children, Phillip, Cindy and Judy.

I-J Winner Of Top Award In Education

A top award for "best newspaperboy education program in the state' was given to the Independent - Journal circulation department at the annual convention of the California Circulation Managers' Assn. in Santa Rosa this week.

A symbolic gold statue of a carrier boy was accepted by Julian C. Leone, I-J circulation manager.

The award was given pointly by the association and the California Newspaperboy Foundation. It went on a basis of judging newspapers' efforts to provide good business training, incentive programs and achievement recognition for its carriers.

Leone was further honored by being elected first vice president of the statewide association.

Planners Urge Two State Fairs

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Plans for two state fairs—one in the spring and one in the summer—have been submitted to the State Finance Department for approval.

The spring show, to be combined with the Sacramento County Fair, would stress floriculture and agriculture. The proposed budget is $315,000.

Fair planners said the fair could pay its own way and possibly even return a small profit.

The regular state fair would be held later in the year.

MARIN SCREEN OFFERINGS

Urchin Steals Film From Loren, Gable

By LES DARD

Preview of the weekend films:

TAMALPAIS THEATER

"It Started in Naples" (VistaVision, color) is a thoroughly delightful comedy starring Clark Gable and Sophia Loren, but stolen by an Italian urchin named Marietto.

Filmed in Naples and Capri, its primary appeal may be to the eye, in the manner of "Summertime," which was a delightful visit to Venice. It opens Sunday on the Hub screen.

Gable plays a stuffy Philadelphia lawyer who goes to Italy to settle a ne'er-do-well brother's estate. Among the legacies are Marietto, the product of a union unblessed by marriage, and Sophia, the aunt, a cabaret canary.

Gable finds the kid is a truant, a petty thief and also up late every night luring customers to auntie's club.

Gable's efforts to adopt the boy bring out the wiles of a maid with a man, for Sophia doesn't want to lose the lad.

Vittorio de Sica, a comedian with an eye for the girls, also is in the cast, as Gable's Italian lawyer.

It all adds up to a very pleasant frolic.

RAFAEL THEATER

"All the Fine Young Cannibals" (CinemaScope, color) spins a tale of very mixed-up young people and the troubles they can get into without half trying.

This new drama opens Sunday in San Rafael.

It starts in a Texas town, where Natalie Wood becomes involved with Robert Wagner, who blasts the trumpet at a local sin spot. When she discovers that she's "in a family way," she grabs an eastbound train and meets Yaleman George Hamilton.

Later, learning that she is pregnant and not suspecting that another may be the father, he weds Natalie, installs her in a mansion and floats off on a sea of liquor. (Everyone does.)

Story is complicated by Bob's success in New York, and his marriage to George's sister (Susan Kohner).

MOTOR MOVIES

"Elmer Gantry" (color), opening Sunday, is a likely "Oscar" candidate.

The reason is Burt Lancaster as Gantry, a salesman who wanders into a revival and learns that his fraudulent eloquence can leave the sinners hanging onto the tent poles. Hollering about "that old-time religion," he puts life into the revivals of Sister Sharon Falconer (Jean Simmons) and brings them to the big time.

And it's in the big time that he helps Sister Sharon — his true love — build her big tabernacle, and meets his downfall. The finale possesses an old Testament fury. See this one.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

I've always had a fondness for gentle Doug Roberts, the hero of that immensely successful story, "Mr. Roberts."

The film version, which is being revived at the peninsula playbox (in CinemaScope and color) stars Henry Fonda as Roberts. His crotchety captain is Jimmy Cagney. He and Roberts frustrate each other frequently in a long battle which is finally resolved by the naval crew in a courageous move which has bittersweet results.

The story is remarkably funny, frequently penetrating, always expert.

The cast includes Jack Lemmon and William Powell. The co-feature is "The High and the Mighty," starring Robert Stack and John Wayne.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Tennessee Williams parades more members of his personal asylum in "The Fugitive Kind," starring Marlon Brando, Anna Magnani and Joanne Woodward.

Story focuses on a wastrel vagabond (Brando) who wanders into a backwash Louisiana town. Before long he's working for a woman storekeeper (Magnani) and improving her outlook on life.

Maureen Stapleton as a frowsy housewife and Miss Woodward as an eager, hysterical matron are among the locals with whom Brando dallies.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Hercules Unchained" (Eastman color Dyaliscope) is the latest in a series of muscular divertissements starring Steve Reeves, the Oakland strong boy who made good before a camera in Italy.

It opens Sunday on the Mill Valley screen.

"Just as he did in "Goliath" and "Giant of Marathon," Steve kills wild beasts with his bare hands, bowls over armies and disposes of a troublesome giant (Primo Carnera, in this case) without breathing hard.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a new British comedy which establishes, beyond a doubt, that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants. It has been held over for a sixth week in Larkspur.

The men's ward of a hospital serves as the setting for this romp. There is no story as such. Rather, the audience follows the day and night antics of the patients, a zany lot at best.

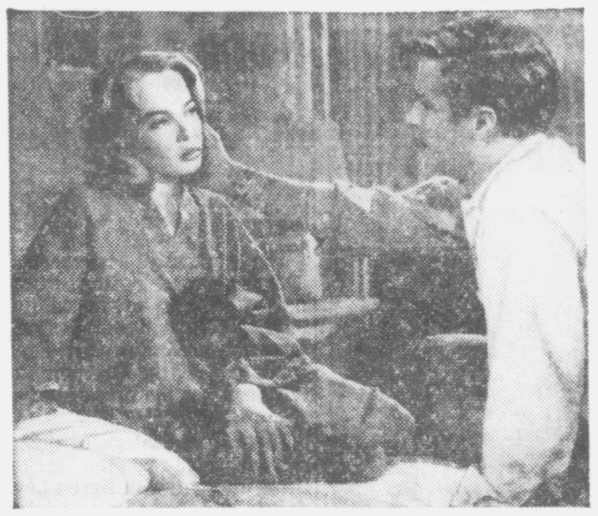
The crowd got quite a few laughs the night I saw this movie.

NOVATO THEATER

"The Story of Ruth" (color, Cinemascope) is based on what has been called the greatest mother-in-law story in history. It opens Sunday.

Elana Eden, a Hollywood newcomer, plays Ruth, the Moabite priestess who renounces her graven gods to follow her mother-in-law (Peggy Wood) to Israel ("Wither thou goest . . .") after her husband is killed.

Stuart Whitman appears as Boaz, the most commanding member of the cast. Viveca Lindfors is the Moabite high priestess.



SHE'S CONFUSED—George Peppard falls in love with a confused Leslie Caron in "The Subterraneans," a film version of Jack Kerouac's novel on beatniks. It starts Sunday at the Rafael Theater in San Rafael.

IN THE JUNGLE—"Tarzan the Magnificent" opens Sunday at the Tamalpais Theater in San Anselmo along with Sophia Loren and Clark Gable in "It Started In Naples."

What Answer To This Question?

CHEROKEE, N. C. (AP) — On the wall in the tribal headquarters of the Eastern Band of Cherokee Indians there is a framed placard with this comment:

"Before the white man came to this country there were no taxes, and the women did all the work. How can the white man improve on that?"

No answer to the question appears.

Up In The Air

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Capt. Alvin A Aronovsky, an electronic warfare officer at Lockbourne Air Force Base here, has spent the equivalent of almost 44 full days in an airborne capsule.

Aronovsky has logged 1,050 hours in the electronic countermeasures capsule of a six-jet B47 bomber, and is the first electronic warfare officer to record more than 1,000 hours. The counter-measures are intended to foil the enemy's electronic weapons.

Bridge, Transit Talks Hinge On Tunnel Tests

Golden Gate Bridge District directors will not sit down and talk with directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District about possibility of putting rapid transit on the Gate span until current wind tunnel tests of a bridge model are completed.

Even then, the bridge directors won't attend a joint meeting until their engineers have studed and reported on the findings of the wind tunnel and other tests and their attorney has also studied their legality.

That was the report Adrien Falk, president of the transit district, gave to the district board yesterday. He said he had talked with Ben Lerer, chairman of the bridge's rapid transit committee, and been given this information. He said said Lerer declared "nothing would be gained" until the engineering feasibility study was concluded.

Falk said Lerer pledged his cooperation in seeing to it that the study of the feasibility report by the bridge engineers and attorney would be "expedited."

Marin director T. J. DeLasaux reported bridge director Phillips Davie recently viewed the wind tunnel experiments at Langley Field, Va., and "from press reports I have read he certainly seemed favorably impressed."

Recreation Unit Elects Colonel

Col. Arden I. Lewis of 588 Montecillo Road, San Rafael, has been elected first vice chairman of the armed forces section of the American Recreation Society, which does work in military recreation.

Colonel Lewis, who entered the Army in 1941, has served in the Middle East and in Puerto Rico as well as Alaska. He is now special services officer of the Sixth Army at San Francisco.

He lives with his wife, Mercile, and three children, Phillip, Cindy and Judy.

HA! ME PROUD BEAUTY!—Simon Darkway, a villain of the worst sort, casts a leering eye at Carlotta Cortez, an enticing vamp, in a scene from "Love Rides the Rails," which is being presented again tonight and tomorrow at Henry C. Hall School in Larkspur by the Twin City Troupers. (Independent-Journal photo.)

BOO, HISS, CHEER

'Love Rides The Rails' Starting 2nd Weekend

By BARBARA SIMON

"Love Rides The Rails" will pull into Larkspur's Henry C. Hall School under a full head of steam for its second weekend stand tonight.

The ancient melodrama by Morland Carey was greeted on its opening nights by audiences ranging in age from tots to grandparents, who showed their enthusiasm by cheering, booing, hissing and stomping.

Although the pace was slow at first, once the players overcame their opening night jitters, they romped boisterously through the troubles of widow Hopewell and her daughter, Prudence; the machinations of Simon Darkway and his henchman, Dirk Sneath, and the "tragic" consequences of Truman Pendennis and his "fall from grace" through partaking of "demon rum."

Jody White made Prudence Hopewell a model of demure decorum, and was a perfect foil for Ray Osborn and Ralph White, who played the villains to perfection. Sherwin Harris as Pendennis and Frank Allen as his staunch friend, Harold Stanfast, brought the proper note of innocent gullibility to their parts.

Millie Cuff, who played Carlotta Cortez on opening night (the part is double-cast with Blanche Van Den Akker playing on alternate nights) was a hip-swinging hussy right out of the old school.

The supporting cast is too large for individual mention, except for Karleen Fraser who rated an encore for her "belle of Avenue A," and Marion Harding who, as "Fifi the French maid, raised the ludicrous to new comedy heights in her scenes with Ralph White.

Selma Gaffey, Ted Brett, Don Waldbillig and Pat Territo were uniformly excellent in their supporting roles. John Harding, Bruce Schoenfeld, David Youens, Joan Smith, Therezinha Sill, Toni Banducci, Bertha Kopf and Cathy Radke doubled in brass as "supers" and individual performers in the olio acts.

The sets were simple, designed to suggest rather than set the stage. The entire production was deftly underscored by the twin pianos of the twin Lucilles, a mother-daughter combination of Lucile Fahay and Lucile Schoenfeld.

From the minute the bathing beauties run shrieking onstage for the first olio act, "Coney Island Baby," until the curtain rings down on the final heroic sacrifice of Prudence Hopewell, "Love Rides the Rails" is an evening full of fun.

It is the second production of the Twin City Troupers and is directed by Ralph White. Curtain time is at 8:30 both tonight and tomorrow. It will again be played next Friday and Saturday.

U.C. Planning Courses Here Next Spring

The University of California plans to conduct a wide variety of liberal arts courses in Marin County in the spring semester starting next February.

This will be the first time the University of California extension has offered liberal arts classes in Marin, noted field representative Sue Whitaker of Berkeley.

The staff preparing the agenda wants to know the needs of the community, Mrs. Whitaker said, and would like residents to offer suggestions for courses they would like to have taught.

Classes tentatively slated are:

Sausalito: "The Beat Cinema and Other Diversion" instructed by Albert Johnson, freelance writer and reviewer.

Belvedere-Tiburon: Lecture series on African Culture and the "Ways of Mankind" (discussion group).

Mill Valley: "The American Home as a Work of Art," "Contemporary Poetry," "Television Writing," "Anthropology in Contemporary Society," Physical Biology," and "Exploring Fine Art Media."

Lucas Valley-Terra Linda: "Modern Dance."

Kentfield: "Medieval Legends and Ballads," "Understanding Jazz," "Workshop in Oral Interpretation," "Anthropology in Contemporary Society."

San Anselmo: "Social Psychology."

Corte Madera: "Race and Ethnic Relations."

San Rafael: "Twentieth Century Novel," "Film Appreciation," "Land and Life Lecture Series," "Conversational German."

Novato: "The Social Origins of Deviant Behavior."

Ross: "The Communication of Ideas," Modern Philosophies."

A three-unit course will cost $35 and a two-unit course $25, Mrs. Whitaker stated. Non-credit classes will cost from $18 up.

The classes will be taught by instructors from the Bay Area, Mrs. Whitaker noted.

Further information about the program may be obtained at the Field Programs office, Liberal Arts Dept., University Extension, 2441 Bancroft Street, Berkeley, or from Mrs. Whitaker at 2557 Cedar Avenue, Berkeley.

To Speak At Schools

Representatives from University of Redlands, and Massachusetts Institute of Technology will be at Sir Francis Drake High School on Oct. 19 and 26, respectively, to speak to students interested in attending their colleges, Principal Harold Allison announced.

Useful Rats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fifty-nine rats equal one man, according to Aerospace, publication of the Aerospace Industries Association.

The whole rat pack is being used in tests of space chambers, because the rats, collectively, use about the same amount of oxygen and give off about the same amount of carbon dioxide and moisture as one human.

Couple In Mill Valley Married For 55 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Domenico Marchini, who live at 252 Sycamore Avenue, Mill Valley, will celebrate their 55th wedding anniversary Oct. 22 at a family gathering at the home of their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Fris, in Woodacre.

Marchini, a fur worker from Newark, N.J., retired to Mill Valley eight years ago.

Speaking of their lasting marriage, Mrs. Marchini said, "I take good care of my husband and he takes good care of me." She said she likes to cook, work and clean house. Her husband likes to garden, having his biggest success with vegetables. He is 78, and Mrs. Marchini, 74.

Besides Mrs. Fris, there are three sons: A. Marchini of Mill Valley and Domenico Jr. and Hugo A. Marchini of New Jersey. The Marchinis have nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The first woman dentist in America was Emeline Roberts Jones who become a partner in her husband's practice 100 years ago.

What's Really New in auto insurance?

1. Allstate—long famous for low rates—now offers a new merit-rating plan that enables good drivers to earn lower rates—and with these features ■ Allstate's plan, unlike most other plans, carries no penalty for traffic violations ■ Also, accidents which entitle you to settlements under your collision or medical payments coverages do not cause your premium to be increased ■ The only accidents which raise your rates are those which require payment of $50 or more to "the other guy" under your liability coverage ■ We know of no other plan which is fairer.

2. Allstate now gives a written guarantee that, after your liability insurance has been in force for 90 days, it will not and cannot be cancelled by us for a period up to 5 years, no matter how many accidents you have, except for certain conditions and irresponsible acts described below.

These are the only conditions under which Allstate's exclusive guarantee of noncancellation of auto liability insurance does not apply or can be withdrawn:

If the policyholder or any member of his household is convicted or forfeits bail for: driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs; hit-and-run driving; vehicular homicide; car theft; driving while license is suspended or revoked; or making false statements in driver's license application. If the insured makes false statements in his insurance application, or fails to assist the company in defending him against another person's liability claim. If the policyholder fails to pay the premium when due, or ceases to reside or register his car in California.

This new plan applies only to individually owned private passenger cars. It is not available to Assigned Risks.

The cost of this insurance depends on the accident history of those insured under the policy and the rates in effect at the time the premium is computed at each renewal.

These are two of the newest and most striking advantages you get with an Allstate policy.

But don't overlook the many other pluses that Allstate Crusader policyholders enjoy. In addition to traditionally low rates, Allstate has special discounts on liability and collision insurance premiums of 10% for most compact cars and 25% for most second and third cars; low-cost auto financing through co-operating banks; drive-in claim centers; and the services of the largest staff of full-time salaried claims people in the auto insurance business.

Why not call or see an Allstate Agent soon. He'll be glad to explain all the advantages you will receive as an Allstate policyholder.

May we help you?

What's Really New in auto insurance?

1. Allstate—long famous for low rates—now offers a new merit-rating plan that enables good drivers to earn lower rates—and with these features ■ Allstate's plan, unlike most other plans, carries no penalty for traffic violations ■ Also, accidents which entitle you to settlements under your collision or medical payments coverages do not cause your premium to be increased ■ The only accidents which raise your rates are those which require payment of $50 or more to "the other guy" under your liability coverage ■ We know of no other plan which is fairer.

2. Allstate now gives a written guarantee that, after your liability insurance has been in force for 90 days, it will not and cannot be cancelled by us for a period up to 5 years, no matter how many accidents you have, except for certain conditions and irresponsible acts described below.

These are the only conditions under which Allstate's exclusive guarantee of noncancellation of auto liability insurance does not apply or can be withdrawn:

If the policyholder or any member of his household is convicted or forfeits bail for: driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor or drugs; hit-and-run driving; vehicular homicide; car theft; driving while license is suspended or revoked; or making false statements in driver's license application. If the insured makes false statements in his insurance application, or fails to assist the company in defending him against another person's liability claim. If the policyholder fails to pay the premium when due, or ceases to reside or register his car in California.

This new plan applies only to individually owned private passenger cars. It is not available to Assigned Risks.

The cost of this insurance depends on the accident history of those insured under the policy and the rates in effect at the time the premium is computed at each renewal.

These are two of the newest and most striking advantages you get with an Allstate policy.

But don't overlook the many other pluses that Allstate Crusader policyholders enjoy. In addition to traditionally low rates, Allstate has special discounts on liability and collision insurance premiums of 10% for most compact cars and 25% for most second and third cars; low-cost auto financing through co-operating banks; drive-in claim centers; and the services of the largest staff of full-time salaried claims people in the auto insurance business.

Why not call or see an Allstate Agent soon. He'll be glad to explain all the advantages you will receive as an Allstate policyholder.

May we help you?

United Crusade Campaigners Start Mopping Up Operations

Led by Mrs. Leigh J. Abell Jr., of San Rafael, 3,000 Marin solicitors, captains and chairmen today began their house-to-house doorbell-ringing mop-up campaign for the United Bay Area Crusade.

Mrs. Abell represents the Marin County Council of Girl Scouts, which this year has assumed responsibility for organization of the residential campaign.

Quota of the Marin residential division is $40,000, one-quarter of the entire $159,329 Marin share of the $11,250,000 United Bay Area Crusade goal.

Not included in the $40,000 to be solicited directly on a door-to-door basis is $25,486 which was obtained in special gifts from major residential donors who were solicited individually in advance. Their gifts will be credited back to the communities where they reside.

Catholic Social Services is handling San Rafael and its eastern suburbs, with a quota of $6,450. Mrs. Walter J. Coyne, chairman, and Mrs. George A. Ballantyne, vice chairman, will direct more than 550 volunteers on four organizational levels.

Mrs. Edward M. Zeller, Camp Fire Girls president, is chairman of the Greater San Anselmo area, with Roy P. Vallarino as chairman for Sleepy Hollow. Quota for the area is $3,750, with 340 volunteers assigned.

Greater Mill Valley is a Red Cross project, with a $4,700 quota. Mrs. Frank E. Duhme, Red Cross chapter chairman, is in charge, assisted by Mrs. William Eastman Jr. as vice chairman. They are directing the work of 450 volunteers.

The YMCA, Mrs. J. Benton Bostick Jr. chairman, will field 160 solicitors in the Belvedere-Tiburon area to obtain another $4,700.

Mrs. Roger Barbey is Family Service Agency's chairman for the Strawberry-Belveron Gardens area, with 85 volunteers seeking $1,260.

Sunny Hills, with Mrs. William R. Kimball Jr. and Mrs. Philip Crane Jr. as chairmen, will use 112 solicitors to raise $3,325 in the Kentfield area.

Marin Aid to Retarded Children, governing Ross under chairman Jesse J. France, has 80 solicitors and a quota of $3,100.

Greenbrae-Bon Air, with a quota of $2,100, is assigned to Children's Home Society. Mrs. Richard Barnecut, chairman, will use 115 volunteer workers.

For Catholic Youth Organization, Mrs. Martin H. O'Brien has enlisted 90 volunteers to reach an $860 quota in Larkspur.

The Marin Unit of the San Francisco Junior League, which does not participate in United Crusade Funds itself, has taken Corte Madera for residential solicitation, with Mrs. William J. Morris as chairman, and will put 100 solicitors in the field to obtain $1,025.

In Marin City, the Marin Council of Community Services is conducting a special program during the redevelopment period. Under the council's auspices, Jesse E. Barrie is chairman of a unified Marin City Campaign, soliciting homes, businesses and all employees in both public and private establishments.

In Sausalito, the Girl Scouts is in charge, with Mrs. Milton J. Kodmur as chairman. Quota for door-to-door solicitation is $2,550.

Mrs. Richard Less, Terra Linda chairman, with a $1,250 quota, represents Marin Jewish Community Center, with a campaign organization of 80 volunteers.

All of San Rafael's northern suburbs except Terra Linda have been organized by Mrs. Thomas J. Mellon, president of Marin United Fund. In this area, 150 workers are asked to secure $1,775.

Under numerous chairmen directing 375 volunteers, the Girl Scouts are supervising solicitation in Novato, Fairfax, the San Geronimo Valley and West Marin. Quotas for these areas total $4,000.

Other United Crusade agencies—Boy Scouts, the Legal Aid Society and St. Vincent's School for Boys—are handling segments of the Marin campaign in the other divisions.

Solicitation of businesses and their employees, of public employees (including military and school personnel) and of professional groups started at various times during the past two months. Most of these divisions started their activities on or after Sept. 19, the general United Bay Area Crusade kick-off date.

The residential division is a cleanup phase of the campaign.

Miami Attorney Acquitted Of Television Conspiracy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Acquittal of Thurman A. Whiteside raised questions today whether the government will press related charges against former FCC Commissioner Richard A. Mack.

A Justice Department decision on that point will be delayed at least for several days, officials said.

Whiteside, a Miami attorney, was found innocent by a federal court jury yesterday on both counts of an indictment against him.

One count charged that he and Mack had conspired to rig the award of a Miami Channel 10 television permit in favor of Public Service Television Inc., a National Airlines subsidiary. The other charged that Whiteside corruptly had influenced Mack's vote as a Federal Communications Commissioner.

Mack and Whiteside were tried together last year, but the trial ended in a hung jury. Whiteside was tried separately this month because Mack is ill in a Florida hospital.

Gov. Brown Says Nixon Offering Nothing New

Gov. Edmund G. Brown charged last night that Vice President Richard Nixon is offering nothing to assist the economic situation in the United States except "more of the same old programs which have brought us into the third depression."

The governor was speaking informally to a group of 375 Democrats gathered in the Marin Golf and Country Club, Ignacio, to hear the third Nixon-Kennedy television debate.

FIRST APPEARANCE

Brown, making his first official appearance in Marin County since his election 22 months ago, said that Nixon is "avoiding the subject" of the nation's economy. The vice president "talks of the problems" of private enterprise but he "forgets that the government phase needs help too.

"We Democrats say the private sector must move ahead," Brown went on, "but Nixon overlooks the government phase with which I am so concerned." He said that "the slowdown in rapid transit both here and in Southern California" has resulted from the "failure to sell bonds because of the high interest rates."

'NO COMMENT'

The governor declared it was difficult to "quickly analyze" the third TV debate and that he planned "no comment upon it until I have read what they had to say." But he deplored the fact that Nixon had "made a war issue of Quemoy and Matsu."

He admitted he is "very prejudiced." And he brought laughter and applause by adding: "I don't like Mr. Nixon. Period."

DEMOS 'AHEAD'

The governor concluded his talk with a declaration that the Democrats are "now ahead in both Northern and Southern California." Then he answered a series of questions from the floor, many about the state water bond, Proposition 1, which he repeated urged be passed.

Roger Kent, Democratic state central committee chairman, presided at the reception, for which the audience had paid $5 each. He introduced Ted Kennedy, youngest brother of presidential nominee Sen. John F. Kennedy. The young Kennedy gave a brief pep talk in which he urged a large vote on Nov. 8

Others introduced for brief talks were Charles Geller, candidate for state senator from Marin and Everett Matzen, Assembly candidate from Marin-Sonoma.

Stockholders Vote Merger Of 2 Airlines

CHICAGO (UPI) — Stockholders of United Airlines and Capital Airlines today voted overwhelmingly in favor of a merger of Capital into United.

United stockholders at a special meeting approved the merger proposal 3,291,237 to 35,014. The vote represented more than 80 per cent of the firm's outstanding shares.

At the same time, it was announced that Capital stock in Washington, D.C., cast 677,687 shares in favor of the merger. Voting against the proposal were 34,604 shares.

Two-thirds of the shares of each corporation had to be voted in favor of the union for it to go through. Approval by the other requirement, is considered probable. Hearings on the proposal will begin Oct. 19.

Boys Chorus Tryouts Slated In S.F.

Boys from 8 to 13 years of age may try out for the San Francisco Boys Chorus from 10 a.m. Oct. 22, at 50 Scott Street, San Francisco. Jack Mahaney of 848 Appleberry Street, Lucas Valley, is a member of the group.

Applications and information may be obtained from Mrs. Rosalie Sevison, 4144 Paradise Drive, Tiburon.

Honors At Entrance

LIVE BOMB SUPPORTS WORK BENCH 8 YEARS

BRISTOL, England (AP)—A blind woman learned yesterday she has been propping up a leg of her work bench for eight years with a live bomb.

She had tied the bomb to a leg of the table in Bristol's workshop for the blind.

A worker who had been a World War II bomb expert spotted it while he was working on a rebuilding project.

Workshop officials said the bomb must have been brought in with pieces of knitting machinery.

Gov. Brown Says Nixon Offering Nothing New

Gov. Edmund G. Brown charged last night that Vice President Richard Nixon is offering nothing to assist the economic situation in the United States except "more of the same old programs which have brought us into the third depression."

The governor was speaking informally to a group of 375 Democrats gathered in the Marin Golf and Country Club, Ignacio, to hear the third Nixon-Kennedy television debate.

FIRST APPEARANCE

Brown, making his first official appearance in Marin County since his election 22 months ago, said that Nixon is "avoiding the subject" of the nation's economy. The vice president "talks of the problems" of private enterprise but he "forgets that the government phase needs help too.

"We Democrats say the private sector must move ahead," Brown went on, "but Nixon overlooks the government phase with which I am so conconcerned." He said that "the slowdown in rapid transit both here and in Southern California" has resulted from the "failure to sell bonds because of the high interest rates."

'NO COMMENT'

The governor declared it was difficult to "quickly analyze" the third TV debate and that he planned "no comment upon it until I have read what they had to say." But he deplored the fact that Nixon had "made a war issue of Quemoy and Matsu."

He admitted he is "very prejudiced." And he brought laughter and applause by adding: "I don't like Mr. Nixon. Period."

DEMOS 'AHEAD'

The governor concluded his talk with a declaration that the Democrats are "now ahead in both Northern and Southern California." Then he answered a series of questions from the floor, many about the state water bond, Proposition 1, which he repeated urged be passed.

Roger Kent, Democratic state central committee chairman, presided at the reception, for which the audience had paid $5 each. He introduced Ted Kennedy, youngest brother of presidential nominee Sen. John F. Kennedy. The young Kennedy gave a brief pep talk in which he urged a large vote on Nov. 8

Others introduced for brief talks were Charles Geller, candidate for state senator from Marin and Everett Matzen, Assembly candidate from Marin-Sonoma.

Stockholders Vote Merger Of 2 Airlines

CHICAGO (UPI) — Stockholders of United Airlines and Capital Airlines today voted overwhelmingly in favor of a merger of Capital into United.

United stockholders at a special meeting approved the merger proposal 3,291,237 to 35,014. The vote represented more than 80 per cent of the firm's outstanding shares.

At the same time, it was announced that Capital stock in Washington, D.C., cast 677,687 shares in favor of the merger. Voting against the proposal were 34,604 shares.

Two-thirds of the shares of each corporation had to be voted in favor of the union for it to go through. Approval by the other requirement, is considered probable. Hearings on the proposal will begin Oct. 19.

LIVE BOMB SUPPORTS WORK BENCH 8 YEARS

BRISTOL, England (AP)—A blind woman learned yesterday she has been propping up a leg of her work bench for eight years with a live bomb.

She had tied the bomb to a leg of the table in Bristol's workshop for the blind.

A worker who had been a World War II bomb expert spotted it while he was working on a rebuilding project.

Workshop officials said the bomb must have been brought in with pieces of knitting machinery.

ENTERS THE WINGS—Someone waves goodby as pudgy Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev starts up the steps to his waiting plane in New York. He ended his 25-day visit in New York yesterday, returning to Moscow. (A PWirephoto)

Nikita Goes Home Smiling Despite Defeats In U.N.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev returned to his capital by plane today from the United Nations General Assembly in New York.

He was greeted by thousands, many of whom poured out on the airport highway and onto the airfield itself from trucks which carried them from their jobs and homes fully an hour earlier.

He arrived in the Soviet's biggest airplane, bringing with him Janos Kadar of Hungary and a number of other Soviet and Hungarian officials who had been at the U.N. session.

The diplomatic corps, including U. S.) Ambassador Llewelyn Thompson, came to greet him.

The day was gray and rainy.

Khrushchev shook hands warmly with Thompson, laughing as he talked.

Kadar also shook hands with Thompson, but coldly and very briefly. Andrei A. Gromyko, foreign minister, shook hands with Thompson just as briefly and as coldly and moved on down the line of diplomats.

Khrushchev was greeted at the foot of the airplane ramp by former President Klementi Y. Voroshilov. They kissed each other and hugged in the Russian manner. Khrushchev then kissed several members of the Presidium and went into Moscow without making the speech many had expected.

Khrushchev returned to Moscow after suffering a series of defeats in the U.N. Assembly.

Clutching at straws before his departure last night, Khrushchev claimed a "victory" on the single point in which the assembly went along with him —the unanimous agreement for a hearing, in plenary session, on his proposal to demand immediate independence for all colonies.

He boarded his giant turbo-prop plane at New York's Idlewild Airport just before midnight. In his customary departure statement he said: "We are leaving in a good mood."

Khrushchev said there were igns "which allow us to hope for solutions of the major international problems through the United Nations organization, and through this session of the General Assembly."

Much of what followed echoed the positions he took on various issues while he was here.

There are three groups in the U.N. now, he said, "imperialists, Socialists and neutralists." Therefore, he continued, the structure of the U.N. should be altered to accommodate all three at the top.

"The Soviet Union is ready to do its utmost to achieve disarmament," Khrushchev went on. Adding that he had made "concrete proposals" and hoped there would be business-like discussions on the problem.

Finally, he said he would like to thank the people of New York for the kindness they had shown him. He didn't elaborate.

As for those who picketed him, Khrushchev called them "hired hands" and the "dregs of society."

Then, smiling and clasping his arms over his head in the victory gesture of a prize fighter, he went up the ramp and entered his plane.

N.Y.'s Finest Breath Easier; The Bill's Big

NEW YORK (UPI) — Police breathed a heartfelt sigh of relief today and went back on a normal work schedule with the departure of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev signaling the end of the biggest security job in peacetime history.

The casualty toll included a 9-year-old girl, Magdalena Urdaneta of Venezuela, who was shot to death accidentally by supporters of Cuban Premier Fidel Castro fighting anti-Castorites, one detective who died of a heart attack while guarding Khrushchev, 16 other policemen injured on duty and 12 civilians hurt in picketing disputes. Seventy persons were arrested during demonstrations.

But no heads of government were harmed and there was amazingly little violence in view of the massive 25-day security job thrust upon the city's 25,000-man police force by the record gathering of national leaders for the United Nations Security Council.

The cost of the operation is expected to be several million dollars by the time all the bills are in. The city hopes the federal government will help it meet some of the expenses.

Khrushchev and Castro were by far the most troublesome to protect. The Russian chief required at least 300 policemen guarding his Park Avenue residence when he was there, and many more when crowds gathered or he moved about the city. Castro required a minimum of 240 policemen and at times 500 standing shoulder-to-shoulder two deep.

American families spend 5.4 per cent of their income after taxes for health care services and products in 1959, reports the Health Insurance Institute.

Khrushchev Ended His U.N. Visit With Only One Win, Six Defeats

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) —Nikita S. Khrushchev wound up his diplomatic season today with one win and six losses, but as optimistic as ever over the Soviet bloc's chances.

Soviet sources said the Russian leader left the United States satisfied with his efforts. He himself praised the "victory" he won by getting the U.N. General Assembly to debate colonialism. He said his visit here had been "useful."

No U.N. delegates doubted that he was sowing the seeds for the future and preparing the Soviet bloc for what he believes will be a summit conference next year with the next American president.

This was the record:

1. Khrushchev backed a Czech candidate, Jiri Nosek for office of assembly president. The job was won by Frederick H. Boland of Ireland. The Soviet candidate came in third behind Thor Thors of Iceland. The vote was 45 for Boland, 25 for Thors and 9 for Nosek.

2. Khrushchev demanded a seat for Red China and opposed a U.S. resolution that would shelve the Red China seat issue for another year. He lost, but the vote was close: 42-34 with 22 abstentions in favor of the American proposal.

3. The Soviet bloc fought to prevent inclusion of the Hungarian anti-Communist revolution on the assembly agenda. It went on the agenda by a vote of: 54-12 with 31 abstentions.

4. The Soviet bloc tried to prevent inclusion of debate on the Red Chinese attack on Tibet. It was approved for debate: 49-13 with 35 abstentions.

5. The Soviet Premier demanded direct assembly debate on the "question of questions" —disarmament. He lost by a vote of 54-13 with 31 abstentions, the assembly referred it to committee.

6. Khrushchev called on the U.N. assembly to debate Soviet charges of "aggression" against the United States for the U-2 and RB-47 plane incidents. The vote went against it 54-10 with 32 abstentions.

On the plus side for Khrushchev was his demand for direct assembly debate on "independence forthwith" for all colonial areas of the world. The United States went along with this proposal and it was approved by acclamation.

Perhaps the worst defeat for Khrushchev never came to a vote and thus cannot be counted. It was his demand, made in his maiden address to this session of the assembly Sept. 23, for the ouster of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold and his replacement with a three-member presidium. He also wanted the U.N. headquarters moved to a friendlier city than New York.

Hammarskjold resisted the demand for his job. And on Oct. 3, in a dramatic moment, Hammarksjold defied the Soviet Premier with the declaration: "I shall remain in my post."

Hammarskjold won the greatest ovation in U.N. history, but Khrushchev said he would keep on fighting for all the goals he lost out on.

DeMaestri Comes Home Today, Still In Shock Over Pirates' Victory

Joe DeMaestri arrives home by jet this afternoon from the World Series, probably still shaking his head in disbelief at yesterday's frantic finale in Pittsburgh.

The Yankee infielder, who saw action in three Series games, phoned home last night and said his teammates still couldn't believe they lost to the Pirates. He should have some interesting stories about this greatest World Series and probably will have a busy winter telling service clubs, youth groups, etc., of all the thrills.

BOBBY SCANLON

AT PRECISELY 11:36 a.m. yesterday one of the happiest men alive in San Rafael must have been Joe Hearn, an employee of Charlie's Market.

All season long this native of Pennsylvania has displayed bravery by wearing a Pirate rooter's cap in this Giants' territory. Even in early season when the Giants were whacking the Pirates around he bravely wore his cap.

Well, Mazeroski's home run yesterday sent Hearn into jubilant tizzy and he celebrated the occasion by painting a huge banner hailing the Pirates as world champs and hanging it outside the market — rooters cap and all.

A SECRETARY we know was trying to type a letter and listen to the Series at the same time yesterday. When Mazeroski's "shot heard round the world" was blared over the radio she inadvertently typed the world "homer" where the word "honor" belonged. Earlier in the broadcast when Bill Skowron homered she wrote . . . well, "Skowron" is a helluva way to spell September, isn't it?

CHET SMITH of San Anselmo, an entrant in the San Anselmo Businessmen's Invitational Golf Tournament at the Meadow Club Monday, had a heckuva time making it around the course. He was really dragging with fatigue, for some reason, and could hardly make it to the club house at the end of 18 holes.

Later, to his horror, Chet discovered some of his "friends" had loaded 10 pounds of lead in the bottom of his golf bag.

BOBBY SCANLON, forced into retirement from boxing by a medical examination, hopes to become a sports writer some day and plans to study at San Francisco State.

The one-time ranking lightweight, now a resident of Fairfax, was placed on the shelf when doctors discovered he has suffered minor brain damage. In recent fights he has complained of headaches and double vision.

He's only 24 years old.

AND IF you're in the mood for some football forecasts, here are this week's can't misses (record to date: 32 right, 12 wrong):

PROS — Chicago Bears over 49ers by 10, Boston over Oakland by 14.

COLLEGES — USC over Cal by 8, Stanford over San Jose State by 16, Washington over UCLA by 2, Oregon over Washington State by 6, Oregon State over Idaho by 21, Sierra over Marin by 6.

HIGH SCHOOLS — Novato over Redwood by 6, Tamalpais over San Rafael by 7, Drake over Marin Catholic by 13.

Oh, No! Basketball Is Here Already

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — My Gosh! Basketball already?

That's right.

Pete Peletta, the new coach at the University of San Francisco, has called for his team to report tomorrow.

Included in the Dons' varsity lineup is former Drake High School star Bill Gallagher.

And California begins its first workouts under Rene Herrerias at Berkeley Monday.

Title Fight Postponed

MANILA (AP) — Saturday's Orient lightweight title fight between Flash Elorde of Manila and Sakuhi Shinezawa of Japan was postponed to Monday because of inclement weather.

STONEHAM MAY PERMIT TV OF AWAY GAMES

A possibility existed today that President Horace Stoneham may permit local telecasting of his San Francisco Giants' games away from home.

Since coming to San Francisco in 1958, he has opposed free TV of major league baseball here.

Mayor George Christopher said he talked by telephone to Stoneham in the east and the Giants' president said he would make a decision in the next few weeks on telecasting of games while the team was on the road.

Stoneham originally was tied by pay TV commitments which no longer are in effect. Recently, however, he restated opposition to free TV.

That opposition put Stoneham under editorial fire and the San Francisco Board of Supervisors referred the TV question to a committee for study.

A World Series They'll Never Believe

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Years from now when they look back at the 1960 World Series, they won't believe it.

They'll look at the statistics and all the records that were smashed and they won't be able to understand how the Pittsburgh Pirates ever managed to defeat the New York Yankees, four games to three.

They'll thrill at the final game heroics, climaxed by Bill Mazeroski's home run in the bottom of the ninth inning that won the most dramatic finale in Series history, 10-9, and sent all Pittsburgh into one of the wildest and noisiest celebrations ever staged.

They'll admire the courageous comeback of the underdog "Beat 'em Bucs," but they'll also wonder how a team that was humiliated by such lopsides scores as 16-3, 10-0 and 12-0 could take the proud and mighty Yankees into the seventh game and then beat them with their own weapon—the home run.

They'll look with awe at the all-time record totals of 55 runs and 91 hits by the Yankees, and then note that the Pirates scored less than half as many runs and collected less than two thirds as many hits, and were outhomered 10 to 4, yet were able to end 35 years of frustration with a World championship.

"It's not the number of runs you make," said winning Manager Danny Murtaugh during a lull in the wild clubhouse celebration, complete with champagne, "it's the number of games you win. And we won more than they did."

"I've said all along that this is the fightingest ball club I've ever seen," chimed in the captain, Dick Groat. "Our guys never know when they're licked. Nobody gave us a chance after the third game but us. I knew we'd do it because that's the way we've done it all year —coming from behind to win after everybody counted us out."

That's the way it was yesterday. Pittsburgh had staked Vernon Law, two-time conqueror of the Yankees, to an early 4-0 lead against Bob Turley and Bill Stafford, but the American League champs bounced back with a run on Bill Skowron's homer in the fifth and shelled Law from the mound in the sixth with a four-run assault, featured by Yogi Berra's three-run homer off relief ace Elroy Face.

It looked as if it was all over but the weeping and wailing in Pittsburgh when the Yankees clubbed Face for two more runs in the eighth to open up a 7-4 lead.

But the Pirates, having gone this far on pitching, defense, timely hits and breaks, refused to be pronounced dead. Handcuffed by Bobby Shantz through five innings, during which they managed but one hit, the Bucs strung together three successive hits to get one run back and drive the little left-hander from the mound in their half of the eighth.

With Jim Coates on the mound, Roberto Clemente drove in another run with a two out infield single and reserve catcher Hal Smith drove a three-run homer over the left field wall to regain the lead for Pittsburgh 9-7.

The Yankees, showing comeback qualities of their own, rallied for two runs off Bob Friend, making his second appearance in two days, and Harvey Haddix, winner of the fifth game last Monday. With the score tied at 9-9 Mazeroski teed off on Ralph Terry's second pitch in the bottom of the ninth and crashed it high and far over the left field wall to send the crowd of 36,683 into a delirious state.

It was Mazeroski who hit the Bucs' first series homer, a two-run blast that provided the winning runs in the 6-4 first game victory, and it was Mazeroski who doubled home two runs in the 5-2 fifth game triumph.

It took a break to keep the Bucs alive in the eighth and pave the way for Shantz' departure. After pinch hitter Gino Cimoli singled, Bill Virden, the defensive hero of the series, rapped a hard grounder to short. It looked like a sure double play and the partisan crowd groaned. The ball took a bad hop, however, struck Tony Kubek in the throat, and went for a single. The shortstop was taken to a hospital for treatment and the Buc rally was in full bloom. He was replaced by Joe DeMaestri.

It was a bitter defeat for Casey Stengel and in some

Bulldog Star May Miss Tam Tilt Tonight

One of northern California's oldest football rivalries pops back into the local spotlight tonight at Kentfield when San Rafael's Bulldogs and Tamalpais' Indians square off for the 40th time in a series dating back to 1907.

Coach Jim Hanretty's Indians, boasting one of the most explosive runners in the area, are rated slight favorites over a San Rafael team that may be minus its best back—Billy Roberts, who is nursing a pulled groin muscle. San Rafael Coach Dick Read was awaiting a final medical report this morning on Roberts' condition.

A Tam victory would be the Mill Valley school's 19th in the long-time series. Tam has an 18 to 16 edge in the series while there have been five ties.

In Morgan the Indians own a runner as swift as last Sunday's wind who can change direction faster than a woman driver. In four pre-season games this five-foot-7, 155-pound whirlwind has scored four touchdowns, ripped off several long runs and has averaged more than 100 yards rushing per game. Last week he personally made 170 of Tam's 403 yards.

With him in the starting backfield will be quarterback Tex Hamilton, halfback Warren Domino or Don Johnston and fullback Rich Hamilton.

Tam's line will start Tom Yarborough and Art Foster at the ends, Pete Dornbach and Rick Snow tackles, Paul Farren and Ted Anthony guards and Pete Hindley center.

Tam won two and lost two pre-season games.

Coach Hanretty commented, "I have a lot of respect for San Rafael and expect a real tough battle. That halfback of theirs, Gary Ledson, improved the team when he recovered from that ankle injury. Also, we respect that quarterback (Jack Sovereign.) He's a good passer and runner."

Alan Finley and Bob Mile probably will round out the starting backfield.

San Rafael's line goes with Randy Petrini and Jack Chapman at the ends, Chris Yaeger and Mike Hammerman tackles, Jack Clark and Don Burrows guards and George Bullis center.

Tonight's junior varsity game will start at 5:45 o'clock.

TOUGH BATTLE WITH NOVATO

Redwood Opens Defense Of Marin Grid Title Tonight

A "crucial" game on the first weekend of the season shapes up tonight when the Novato Hornets tackle the defending champion Redwood Giants in the opening of the Marin County Athletic League football schedule.

The game will be played at San Rafael High School stadium starting at 8 o'clock.

Championships are seldom won on the first game of a long season, but Marin fans feel the winner of tonight's tussle will go a long way toward determining the league title. Novato has lived up to advance billing by romping to four straight victories while Redwood has won two of four, but have played what many feel is a much tougher schedule.

This marks Novato's first showing of 1960 in Marin County, as the Hornets have played their games on the road. During their trips they defeated Analy 26-13, Sonoma 12-0, John Swett 38-7 and Ft. Bragg 38-0. Their first string defensive unit hasn't been scored upon in the past three games and of the offense, Coach Marlin Olsen says: "We're in a 38-point rut —and I hope we stay there."

That offense has averaged about 280 yards per game, with about 100 yards per game coming on an aerial attack thrown by quarterback Bob Sparrow.

Fullback Bill Henderson has been the Hornets' leading runner, although he has run at about three-quarters speed due to a leg injury. He won't start tonight, according to Olsen. "I'll rest Henderson and start Dennis McCormick, who has really impressed me in recent games."

With Sparrow and McCormick in the backfield will be John Picchi and Bill Hall.

Novato's rugged line, which averages 190 pounds, will start with either Lu Haas or Paul Ferrarese and Ron Grayson at ends, Art Cherry and John Cook tackles, Bob Remley and Jim Sewell guards and Jim Shears center. Cook weighs 205 pounds and Cherry 200.

Novato is proud of its rugged line, which should give the Redwood backs a good test, particularly speedy halfbacks Mike Alessio and Keith Norton, who have done most of the mail-packing in the pre-season games. Ned Griffith will start at fullback and Roger Siemens at quarterback. Siemens has completed 20 passes in the four games and his favorite receivers are the ends, Rich Brear and John Whitney.

The balance of Redwood's line will be Rich Todt and John Keppel at tackles, Ralph Wood and John Clum at guards and Mike Walsh center.

Redwood's record includes losses to Mt. Diablo (30-0) and Richmond (36-6) and victories over Edison of Stockton (26-6) and Carlmont of Redwood City (12-0).

Brodie Gets Starting Post Against Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—John Brodie will be at quarterback Sunday when the San Francisco 49ers take on the Chicago Bears at Wrigley Field here, a stadium that houses grim memories of th 49ers' decline a year ago.

It's been a long road for Brodie, who was the 49ers' top draft choice after he led the nation's collegiate passers at Stanford in 1956.

In four years he's sparkled only occasionally with the 49ers, but last week he led the San Franciscans to a 14-10 win at Detroit by passing for two come-from-behind touchdowns in the last seven minutes. The second came on the final play of the game.

The 49ers looked like world beaters a year ago when they moved into Wrigley Field. They were 6-1 and led the National Football League's Western Division by two games with just five games left.

But veteran Y. A. Tittle, the 49ers' regular quarterback, was off the target with his passes in the opening quarter and Coach Red Hickey sent in Brodie. The youngster could hardly do anything right.

It was the first of a series of gloomy afternoons as the Bears won 14-3 and the 49ers started their big slide, eventually finishing in a tie for third, two games behind Baltimore. The Bears wound up second—a game behind the Colts and a game ahead of the 49ers and Green Bay.

Now Brodie has earned another starting shot—the first time since 1958 that he's been scheduled to open a game except for two games last year when Tittle was injured. Y. A. is ready now and he'll play if Brodie can't move the 49ers.

It's a big game for all of the 49ers—now tied for the Western Division lead with the Bears, the Colts and the Packers. All have 2-1 records.

Three injured regulars return to the 49er lineup: Capt. Bob St. Clair to offensive tackle, Ed Henke at middle linebacker and Dave Baker to the fleet defensive backfield.

The Bears, always rough defensively, can be expected to apply tremendous pressure on the 49er quarterback.

"Brodie has earned the right to see what he can do with the team," said Hickey, "and he'll get that chance.

"But I haven't lost faith in Y. A. He'll get to play too."

Now Brodie has earned another starting shot—the first time since 1958 that he's been scheduled to open a game except for two games last year when Tittle was injured. Y. A. is ready now and he'll play if Brodie can't move the 49ers.

It's a big game for all of the 49ers—now tied for the Western Division lead with the Bears, the Colts and the Packers. All have 2-1 records.

Three injured regulars return to the 49er lineup: Capt. Bob St. Clair to offensive tackle, Ed Henke at middle linebacker and Dave Baker to the fleet defensive backfield.

The Bears, always rough defensively, can be expected to apply tremendous pressure on the 49er quarterback.

"Brodie has earned the right to see what he can do with the team," said Hickey, "and he'll get that chance.

"But I haven't lost faith in Y. A. He'll get to play too."

THIRD STRAIGHT

Dixon Captures Hub Golf Title

Tom Dixon, an amateur golfer from San Francisco who plays the Meadow Club in Fairfax like he owns it, won the San Anselmo Businessmen's Invitational Tournament this week for the third straight time.

But this time was tougher for the meat buyer at United Markets. He had to defeat Jim Fahrner in a "sudden death" playoff after they tied for low gross in the Championship Flight with identical cards of 36-35—71. Fahrner is an engineer for McDevitt Construction Co.

Best golf of the day, however, was played in the "Guest Flight" where the veteran northern California amateur king Cy Donaldson of San Francisco toured the Fairfax layout in 69 pops—35 on the front side and finishing with a 34.

Another first place tie developed in the Mayor's Flight when George Prydz, San Anselmo's City Treasurer, and the retired Bob Lasky netted cards of 72½. Prydz won the playoff.

A real traffic jam developed in the Hub City Flight with no less than four entries netting cards of 74. They were Ken Carlton, Earl Machado, Bill Kuhleman and Cecil Roche. They'll play off later.

San Anselmo fireman Joe DePatta won the Red Hill Flight with a net 71½, thanks to 61½ handicap strokes to chop off his gross card of 133:

Casey On Way Out, Houk To Take Over?

NEW YORK (AP) — "When I first come to this club," said Casey Stengel, "they tell me I can finish as low as fifth, but no lower."

Now, 12 years after nursing and cajoling that 1949 club to the first of a fantastic run of 10 American League pennants, Casey is on the way out, from all indications.

The master manager, now 70, is back in New York today for a good-bye meeting with Yankee brass. It comes on the heels of Casey's near-miss for a record eighth world championship in yesterday's disappointing 10-9 defeat at Pittsburgh.

The end of Stengel's half-century in baseball, a career of hopeless futility at times and yet a story of incredible—and indelible—success, may come to an end at a press conference some time next week.

There the Yankees, unless the front office does a complete about face, plan a polite axing to the old professor. A neat and quick "retirement," with nice-guy Ralph Houk, who has been standing in the wings in the first base coaching box, becoming the 16th manager of the Yankees.

Age is one point against Stengel, who never finished higher than fifth in nine lean years as a National League manager. Another factor is a rough feeling left over from last season, when Casey felt he was heaped with too much blame for the club's third place 1959 finish.

TO MEET OWNERS

"I got nothing to say now," said Stengel as he sat in the visiting club's club house at Forbes Field after yesterday's game. "I told you fellas I wouldn't have any announcement until after I met with the owners.

"I've got a lot of things to do. I'm going to sit down with the owners soon. We got a lot of things to discuss."

Then Casey, as always win or lose, went over the Series.

"You ask me to compare this team with them? (the Pirates)? Well, I think I gotta pretty good club. It showed it all the way.

"My outfield was good and my infield was good. It was the pitching that beat us because our pitchers were giving up hits where we couldn't catch 'em. You can't catch 'em over the wall.

"But they got a good club, too. They know what to do, and they do it. They execute.

"At least every Series I lost went to seven games."

The only other Series defeats Stengel has known with the Yankees came in 1955, to the then Brooklyn Dodgers, and in 1957, to the Milwaukee Braves.

Marin Sailors Clean Up On Season Titles

By ALFRED MATSON

The official winners of the Yacht Racing Assn.'s 1960 program has just been released by Recorder Don Seaton. A perusal of the final standings in the classes and divisions reveals many a tight battle right down to the wire and also that Marin sailors were well represented in the flight of champions.

Garry Gast of Belvedere, a sterling representative of the San Francisco Yacht Club, consistenly sailed his Vim to pile up a comfortable margin of points to emerge on top in Division 14.

And another worthy of the same club, veteran yachtsman Rolfe Croker, took to the inside on the head of the stretch with his Sea Horse "Racaiyo" and won, going away, in that class.

Other San Francisco club winners were Bob Potter's Triton class entry in Cruising Club "C," the "Shon Hee," Dr. Harold Rosenblum's Pacific Clipper and Howard Allen's Moonstone in the Spaulding 33 class.

The Sausalito Y. C. also produced two convincing champions in the Maya Class—the Sacre Bleu, skippered by Monroe Rudy, and Jim French garnered top honors in the Fleur Bleue class with the Tomboy.

Tomorrow the final curtain on a highly successful season will be rung down by the power boat racing clan with the Golden Gate Y. C.'s NCPCA regatta. The contestants will race in three divisions, A, B, and C with the first contingent starting at 11 a.m. off the Golden Gate clubhouse on San Francisco's Marina.

The Small Yacht Racing Assn. is hoping for better conditions on Sunday than prevailed last week when their regatta was postponed due to the gale force winds. Again under the sponsorship of the St. Francis Y. C., the races will start at noon and will be over the short channel course.

Football Clinic In S.R. Tomorrow

San Rafael Recreation Department's annual football clinic for boys 7 to 12 years of age, will be held tomorrow at San Rafael High School with four Marin County high school coaches taking part.

Opening session at 9 a.m. will be for boys 11-12 years of age. The 9-10-year-olds take over at 10 a.m. and the final hour, 11 to noon, will be for for 7-8 years old.

Conducting the clinic will be coaches Carl Brown of Drake High, Al Endriss of Redwood, and Dick Read and Bob Muster of San Rafael.

TOP MATCHES FOR MARIN GOLF SEMIS

They are Doug Cowan against Nate Blumenfeld and Bob Williams vs. Paul O'Pizzi.

They were survivors of last week's quarter-final schedule which saw O'Pizzi turn in the best golf—a round of 73, in edging Stan Mertel 1 up. Williams advanced with a 1 up edge over Gordon Wardlaw. Cowan easily got by Dante Pareglio 6 and 5 and Blumenfeld shaded Bob Vannucci.

6 Straight Wins For Tam Quintet

Coach George Gustafson's undefeated Tamalpais Indians chalked up their sixth straight victory yesterday by beating previously unbeaten Marin Catholic 27-22 in the Marin Athletic League's Class C basketball competition.

James Bell and James Bullock each scored eight points for the victors, but game honors went to Marin's Buzz Thiercof with 13.

In another game Redwood downed Novato 28-21 with John Jurvig leading the way with 13 points and Hillard Witt contributing 12.

Pitt Celebration 'Biggest, Craziest'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Horn tooting, bell-ringing Pittsburgh Pirate fans celebrated until the early hours today in what police said was the biggest, craziest mass demonstration ever witnessed in the Steel City.

Baseball fans who had seen World Series celebrations in other cities said this one beat them all.

The celebration began exactly at 3:36 p.m. yesterday when second baseman Bill Mazeroski clouted a leadoff homer in the ninth inning to give the Pirates a come-from-behind 10-9 victory over the New York Yankees. The victory gave the Pirates their first World Series championship since 1925.

Pirate fans who had waited a long time to celebrate let go with a vengeance. Crowds yelled, firecrackers boomed, air raid sirens screamed, confetti rained and church bells pealed.

In a few hours traffic was jammed hopelessly. Extra police were called out. Beer bottles littered main streets.

SOME FIGHTS

Girls grabbed strangers and kissed them. The men got into the act by kissing strangers. That caused a few fist fights.

By 1 a.m. more than 40 persons had been arrested on various charges as a result of the celebration, police reported.

One police officer said: "Most of those arrested were younger people who probably never saw a ball game in their life. They just took the opportunity to showoff."

The litter in the streets got so bad water hydrants were turned on to wash down streets.

After-hour clubs were jammed. People were drinking in the streets. Some restaurant owners closed early to avoid possible damage to property.

The situation got so bad police requested radio and television stations to ask residents to stay away from the downtown area.

Hamilton Gridders To Play Cal JVs

Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders football squad will take to the base field at 2 p.m. Sunday against the University of California junior varsity. The game had been scheduled for Saturday.

The Defenders now sport a four-two record. They topped the College of Idaho, 21-7 at Caldwell, Idaho, last weekend.

Skip Corley led the Hamilton attack in the first minutes of the game with a run from his own 23 for a touchdown. In the closing minutes of the second quarter, Jim Small dashed 62 yards for a touchdown.

Small intercepted an Idaho pass in the third quarter and dashed 65 yards for the third touchdown.

ways a sad one, since it might be his last series. The 70-year-old professor, who needed this victory to break his tie with Joe McCarthy as the winningest World Series manager with eight, is reported ready to announce his retirement. He promised to announce his decision at a press conference in New York within a few days.

It was the Yankees' seventh defeat in 25 World Series and their third in 10 under Stengel. It was also the National League's fifth inter-league triumph in the last seven years. The American League holds an over-all 35-22 edge. It was also the fifth time in the last six years that seven games were needed to decide a series.

Assistant D.A. Bags Big Buck To Win Prizes

Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales of Marin County bagged a 220-pound buck north of Truckee last Saturday to win the weekly prizes awarded for the largest deer in the Truckee Outdoor Sportsmen competition.

Bales was notified yesterday that a gun scope and a pair of binoculars are waiting for him as the prizes of the week.

The prosecutor and his party, including Game Warden Al Giddings and Red Scanlon got two mule deer in the Weber Lake region about 15 miles north of Truckee. Bales fired once from his .303 Winchester to drop the buck at about 135 yards. Scanlon got the other mule deer. Bales' deer weighed in at 179 fully dressed.

Marin Sailors Clean Up On Season Titles

By ALFRED MATSON

The official winners of the Yacht Racing Assn.'s 1960 program has just been released by Recorder Don Seaton. A perusal of the final standings in the classes and divisions reveals many a tight battle right down to the wire and also that Marin sailors were well represented in the flight of champions.

Garry Gast of Belvedere, a sterling representative of the San Francisco Yacht Club, consistenly sailed his Vim to pile up a comfortable margin of points to emerge on top in Division 14.

And another worthy of the same club, veteran yachtsman Rolfe Croker, took to the inside on the head of the stretch with his Sea Horse "Racaivo" and won, going away, in that class.

Other San Francisco club winners were Bob Potter's Triton class entry in Cruising Club "C," the "Shon Hee," Dr. Harold Rosenblum's Pacific Clipper and Howard Allen's Moonstone in the Spaulding 33 class.

The Sausalito Y. C. also produced two convincing champions in the Maya Class—the Sacre Bleu, skippered by Monroe Rudy, and Jim French garnered top honors in the Fleur Bleue class with the Tomboy.

Tomorrow the final curtain on a highly successful season will be rung down by the power boat racing clan with the Golden Gate Y. C.'s NCPCA regatta. The contestants will race in three divisions, A, B, and C with the first contingent starting at 11 a.m. off the Golden Gate clubhouse on San Francisco's Marina.

The Small Yacht Racing Assn. is hoping for better conditions on Sunday than prevailed last week when their regatta was postponed due to the gale force winds. Again under the sponsorship of the St. Francis Y. C., the races will start at noon and will be over the short channel course.

Football Clinic In S.R. Tomorrow

San Rafael Recreation Department's annual football clinic for boys 7 to 12 years of age, will be held tomorrow at San Rafael High School with four Marin County high school coaches taking part.

Opening session at 9 a.m. will be for boys 11-12 years of age. The 9-10-year-olds take over at 10 a.m. and the final hour, 11 to noon, will be for for 7-8 years old.

Conducting the clinic will be coaches Carl Brown of Drake High, Al Endriss of Redwood, and Dick Read and Bob Muster of San Rafael.

Costa Mesa Golf

COSTA MESA (AP)—Three players share the first-round lead in the $20,000 Orange County Open Golf Championship.

Tom Nieporte, Bronxville N. Y.; Marty Furgol, Coghill, Ill., and Jim Stinebaugh, Yerba Linda, Calif., set yesterday's pace with 4-under-par 67s.

TOP MATCHES FOR MARIN GOLF SEMIS

They are Doug Cowan against Nate Blumenfeld and Bob Williams vs. Paul O'Pizzi.

They were survivors of last week's quarter-final schedule which saw O'Pizzi turn in the best golf—a round of 73, in edging Stan Mertel 1 up. Williams advanced with a 1 up edge over Gordon Wardlaw, Cowan easily got by Dante Pareglio 6 and 5 and Blumenfeld shaded Bob Vannucci.

6 Straight Wins For Tam Quintet

Coach George Gustafson's undefeated Tamalpais Indians chalked up their sixth straight victory yesterday by beating previously unbeaten Marin Catholic 27-22 in the Marin Athletic League's Class C basketball competition.

James Bell and James Bullock each scored eight points for the victors, but game honors went to Marin's Buzz Thiercof with 13.

In another game Redwood downed Novato 28-21 with John Jurvig leading the way with 13 points and Hillard Witt contributing 12.

Hamilton Gridders To Play Cal JVs

Hamilton Air Force Base Defenders football squad will take to the base field at 2 p.m. Sunday against the University of California junior varsity. The game had been scheduled for Saturday.

The Defenders now sport a four-two record. They topped the College of Idaho, 21-7 at Caldwell, Idaho, last weekend.

Skip Corley led the Hamilton attack in the first minutes of the game with a run from his own 23 for a touchdown. In the closing minutes of the second quarter, Jim Small dashed 62 yards for a touchdown.

Small intercepted an Idaho pass in the third quarter and dashed 65 yards for the third touchdown.

Assistant D.A. Bags Big Buck To Win Prizes

Assistant Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales of Marin County bagged a 220-pound buck north of Truckee last Saturday to win the weekly prizes awarded for the largest deer in the Truckee Outdoor Sportsmen competition.

Bales was notified yesterday that a gun scope and a pair of binoculars are waiting for him as the prizes of the week.

The prosecutor and his party, including Game Warden Al Giddings and Red Scanlon got two mule deer in the Weber Lake region about 15 miles north of Truckee. Bales fired once from his .303 Winchester to drop the buck at about 135 yards. Scanlon got the other mule deer. Bales' deer weighed in at 179 fully dressed.

More Runs Of Stripers Predicted; Should Be Some Off Santa Venetia

STEVENS

No question but what the big blow of Sunday failed to shift the tremendous schools of striped bass in the San Pablo Bay, and, unless we miss our guess, there are more runs getting ready to head upstream.

At 9 a.m. Wednesday Frank Joseph of Joseph's Rodeo Resort called to report two anglers had just docked with six beautiful bass. Omar Calloway and Ray Horton had fished off Buoy Eight with bullheads and landed limits each of 10 and 12 pounds.

From Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland and from the Berkeley Harbor Bait and Caruso's Bait and Tackle in Sausalito we were told that trolling in the Racoon Strait and the Golden Gate Bridge area has again waxed fast and fancy, with all fresh run fish of good size.

From Crockett we learned that the take on Tuesday and Wednesday was as heavy as before the storm. Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina coppered that bet.

SO WE wonder how come, only one boat went out of Santa Venetia Slough—on Monday and none on Tuesday. Should be plenty of action in that area as in other sectors. That the fish are in evidence was proved when a lady angler, Mrs. Jack Robinson, of Santa Venetia, cast her bait into the creek back of her house and brought in two bass, one a five-pounder and one somewhat smaller. Joe Nerviani reported fish actually in the creek.

STILL SEEMS to be a flock of undersized stripers in the lower San Pablo Bay, especially around the Sisters and that general area, but among those youngsters are some very respectable sized bass. We might suggest that those who fish the lower reaches of the San Pablo Bay resort to the bullhead for baits. Less trouble from the baby bass and quite acceptable to the lunkers. (The use of the sliding sinker, or the self-control to allow the bullhead to be swallowed, is recommended.)

Salmon trolling, while pleasant because of calm water and sunshine days, is slow at present.

APPARENTLY a goodly number of ducks—bluies and sprigs—are looking things over in the San Pablo Bay area. A number of bluies rested up in the Santa Venetia creek on Tuesday and Wednesday.

SOME FAIR to good catches of fine fat flounders have been made in the Carquinez Strait, especially from Lew LaGrone's Dillon Point spot. Probably are to be found in the San Pablo Bay, but most anglers are too much interested in stripers to bother about the flatties.

IN OUR book, as a lover of fish food, there is no finer dinner fish than a nice platter of flounder fillets. If interested, try using very small hooks and small pieces of sardine. If the small bass don't get to it first, you may collect a mess of wonderful eating flounders.

Try dipping flounder fillets in a mixture of one can of evaporated milk and two teaspoons of prepared mustard and then in flour. Fry just long enough to brown on both sides. It's yummy!

High Scoring War Expected At Stanford

STANFORD (AP)—Aerial maneuvers with soaring scores can be expected tomorrow when the Stanford Indians host the Spartans of San Jose State in their annual backyard battle.

A year ago the final scores stood Stanford 54, San Jose 38, showing what happens in a meeting of two clubs featuring wide open offense.

Although the Indians haven't posted a victory in four outings this year while San Jose holds a 1-1 record, Stanford rates as favorite this time with a 1:30 p.m. kickoff time.

A big question is whether the Indians' senior quarterback, Dick Norman, can return to his 1959 form when he led the nation in passing and total offense. To date, the loss of his receivers of a year ago has hampered his throwing game.

Against San Jose a year ago, Norman hit 13 passes in 21 attempts for 273 yards. In four games this season — against Washington State, Wisconsin, Air Force and Washington—he has completed 39 in 89 tries for 404 yards.

TERRIBLE PATTERNS

Coach Jack Curtice admits Norman hasn't shown the poise of a year ago, but he says against Washington "we were running terrible patterns. Our pass catchers looked like a herd of sheep playing grab as grab can."

San Jose boasts backfield speed with scooters Willie Williams and Mack Burton, both members of the Spartan track team. Quarterback Mike Jones has proved he can throw with accuracy. He has a pair of experienced ends in Oscar Donahue and Jim Cadile.

The Spartans beat Brigham Young in their opener but last Saturday fell before Oregon 33-0.

COAST GRID GAMES

Big One In Seattle: Huskies Vs. Bruins

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Washington and UCLA, a pair of Rose Bowl hopefuls, clash in Seattle tomorrow in the most important college grid game of the west.

A crowd of about 45,000 is expected to see the battle that may go a long way toward determining the Big Five champion. The Huskies go into the battle with a 28-10 victory over Stanford in their opening conference game.

But UCLA, idle the last two weeks, hasn't played in loop competition yet. The Bruins have a win over Pittsburgh and a tie with Purdue.

The feature performers should be quarterback Bob Schloredt of Washington and tailback Bill Kilmer of the Bruins. They run one-two in the league in total offense. Kilmer has picked up 429 yards—65 from rushing and 364 from passing. Schloredt, a bit more diversified, has gained 140 rushing, 288 passing. He has tossed for three touchdowns against one for Kilmer, however.

Meanwhile, California and Southern California clash in the southland mainly in an attempt to salvage something from a disappointing season. The Trojans are heavy favorites. They have a 1-3 record, against 0-3-1 for the Golden Bears.

The other big five member, Stanford, shoots for its first victory against San Jose State.

The big game among Northwest independents sends Washington State against Oregon and this should be a high-scoring dandy. The Cougars were involved in a 21-21 tie with Cal last week, while the Webfoots plastered San Jose State, 33-0.

Oregon State gets its annual breather against Idaho and College of Pacific has an open date.

Freak Accident Kills Llangollen

SAN BRUNO (AP)—Llangollen, a stakes winning five-year-old thoroughbred, was killed yesterday in a freak accident at Tanforan.

The Llangollen Farms horse wa being walked following a morning workout. He reared and flipped over backward, hitting his head against the side of an outside feed room. Llangollen died instantly, apparently from a skull fracture.

Unraced as a two-year-old, Llangollen earned $40,975 in three years of campaigning and had won two of three starts at the current Tanforan meeting.

Bears, Trojans Renew Bitter Grid Feud In L.A. Tomorrow

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rivalry that has been rugged and often bitter, dating back to 1912, will be renewed tomorrow between California and Southern California and a pair of sophomores may shoulder the burden of winning.

The two are quarterbacks Randy Gold, 19, 6-3, 195-pound, for the Golden Bears of Berkeley, and Bill Nelsen, 19, 6-0, 190.

This will be the 48th meeting of Cal and the Trojans in a series that began with rugby football and switched to the American style in 1915.

They figured in one of the game's most publicized collisions last season which left Bates badly injured about the eyes and face.

Bates earlier this year said the incident was forgotten as far as he was concerned, and he was willing to shake hands. McKeever said he feels exactly the same way.

This is the first game for each team in AAWU play and a possible bid for the Rose Bowl assignment.

The Trojans, winner over Georgia last week after losses to Oregon State, Texas Christian and Ohio State, will be slight favorites. California tied with Washington State after defeats by Tulane, Notre Dame and Army.

The contest may be decided in the line, and if weight counts, the Trojans have the advantage. Its line averages 228 pounds to 197 for the Bears.

However, an out-weighed Georgia line gave the Trojans a bad time before the team succumbed 7-3.

Gold from the outset was viewed as California's quarterback hope. Last week he passed for one touchdown and completed eight of 13 throws for 132 yards. He is also rated a strong runner.

Nelsen adorned the bench until Coach John McKay put him in charge against Georgia. His clutch throwing and running proved a bright revelation for despairing Trojan rooters.

Both teams have injury problems. McKeever may see but limited duty because of an acute sinus condition. But twin Marlin, All-America end, is healthy, and erstwhile first string halfback Jerry Traynham, a broken arm mended, is expected to play.

Pitching Phenom Signed By Giants

SEATTLE (AP) — An 18-year-old right-hander who didn't lose a game in high school competition signed with the San Francisco Giants yesterday and will report to Fresno of the California League next spring.

He is Phil Ingersoll, now attending Seattle University. Ingersoll was 15-0 in high school and 30-6 in American Legion Junior baseball.

Ring Triple Header Scheduled In Vegas

LAS VEGAS (AP)—The Silver State Athletic Club has come up with a triple-header boxing card for next Thursday night.

Otis Fuller of Los Angeles and Howard King, Nevada heavyweight champ, will top the card in a 10-rounder. Mario Macias of Las Vegas and Carmelo Diaz, Mexico City bantamweight, meet in another. Ray Pacheco, Las Vegas, and Tino Salazar, Los Angeles, flyweight, round out the program.

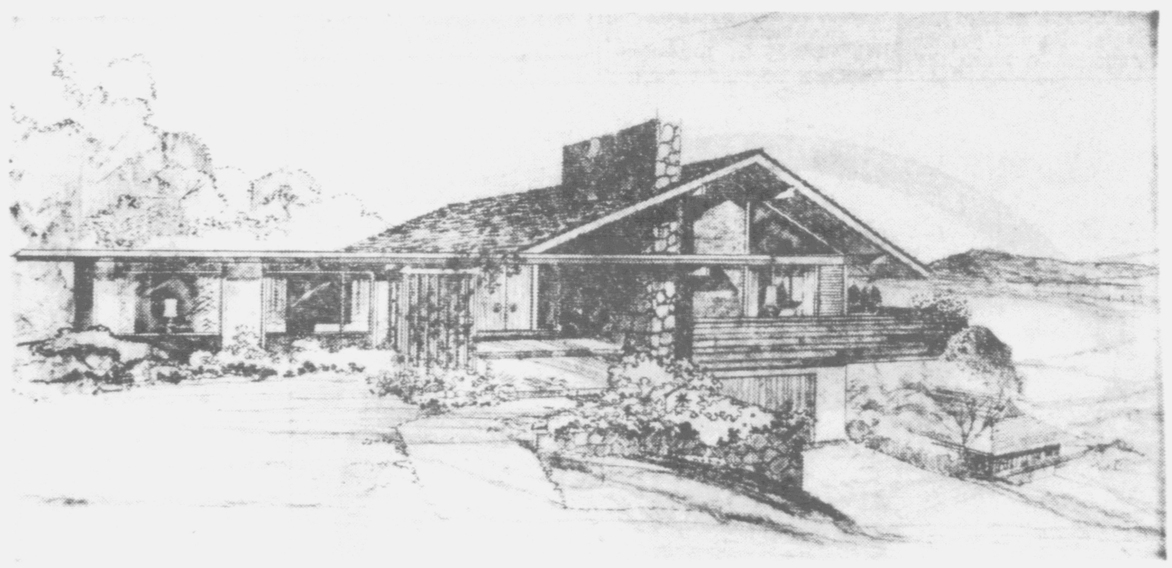
FIRST SHOWING . . . the Aristocrat a New, Furnished Model Home in

GREENBRAE



OPENS TOMORROW (Saturday) Oct. 15—290 Eliseo Drive
OPEN DAILY 10:30 A.M. - 5:30 P.M.

Truly an Aristocrat among homes in its price bracket. And again it demonstrates the superiority of Greenbrae's individually designed homes. As you approach it the exterior is impressive—Sunburst stone on a massive fireplace and chimney, repeated in a wall bordering the garage driveway, the use of aggregate panels, the wide overhung eaves — this is the concept of a master architect. A wide deck across two sides of the home, which levels off to the patio, is entered through sliding window walls from the living room, dinette and kitchen. Outdoor living on this view deck is always full of interest — to the right, Mt. Tamalpais, the apex of a range of lovely wooded hills. To the front the valley and the roads to the city. Visit the Aristocrat today and see why Greenbrae is acknowledged leader in fine living in Marin.

3 BEDROOMS, 2 BATHS, G-E KITCHEN — PRICED AT $34,850

'CAN YOU SWEAR SHE WAS ALONE?'

Ed Fisher, as the prosecuting attorney, cross-examines witness, played by Eleanor Gaustad, as stern-faced judge (Severt Gaustad), doubtful of line of questioning, holds gavel ready in tense scene in "The Night of January 16th," which will be presented, not on Jan. 16 but tonight, tomorrow, Oct. 21 and 22, at Bernard Hoffman School in Terra Linda by the Terra Linda Little Theater. The murder trial play gives the audience the chance to be jury. Curtain time for all performances is 8:30 p.m.

Math Whizzes Reported At Dixie Schools

Dixie School District trustees were told this week many eighth grade students at the Vallecito Elementary School in Terra Linda were ready to find out about trigonometry, geometry, algebra and even calculus.

Principal Henry M. Smith told the trustees at Wednesday's board meeting that the findings were based on a study made by 16 teachers of the school last summer.

Since the youngsters were ready to begin "exploring the fields and finding out what words and processes mean," Smith said, it had become necessary for the school to furnish "books and texts with explanations" and "teachers who understand the books."

The State of California provides free text books for the required courses of science, mathematics, language arts and social studies.

But, because pupils in these grades "have all ranges of ability," the school staff must determine what other materials are needed, Supt. Dennie B. Willis said.

The investigating teachers also made up a list of equipment needed by students studying the solar system in their science courses.

Smith said there are seventh and eighth grade students who read as well as the average college freshman, while others were on the level of the average fifth and sixth graders.

The teachers recommended text books for the language art course that would cover the same material but with a better range in vocabulary to meet the needs of the exceptional students, Principal Smith reported.

SALES CHIEF—R. W. Taylor of Ukiah has been appointed manager of the San Rafael sales district by Standard Oil Co. of California. He replaces Russell Anderson, who retired Aug. 1. Taylor has been 25 years with Standard and expects to move soon to Marin County with his family.

Roy Michael Plans To Open Finance Firm

A man who has spent most of his life succeeding in five business ventures—one of them in San Rafael—is about to start another.

Roy Michael, former owner of the Royce Department Store at 925 Fourth Street, will open a new firm, the Royce Finance Plan at 935 Lootens Place, just around the corner from where he conducted his clothing store for 15 years.

The Royce Finance Plan will purchase contracts from stores and retail establishments, offer a personal loan service and eventually enter into mortgage and industrial factoring.

This is Michael's second undertaking in the finance business. He was previously president of the Provident Finance Co. in San Francisco which he helped organize in 1935. Before then he was successively engaged as a railroad employee, credit manager for the Federal Outfitting Co. 23 chain clothing stores and a practicing attorney.

Michael bought the Schwartz Department Store in San Rafael in 1945, renamed it Royce, and closed out the business the first of this year.

His intention at that time was to take a vacation, he said, then start to put together a wholly home-owned and operated general finance company. This would enable him to continue living in Marin County.

ROY MICHAEL
New business venture

Michael, his wife Cecilia and three children moved to San Rafael from San Francisco in 1954. They presently reside at 216 Mountain Avenue.

Royce Finance Plan will be managed by William Kirk, former manager of Beneficial Finance Co. in San Rafael, Michael said. Kirk has been in the county six years and lives with his family at 25 Summers Avenue, Novato.

The government of Saskatchewan this year planted more than 27 million fish, mostly rainbow trout fingerlings, in 82 lakes.

Model Home On Display At Greenbrae

Greenbrae's latest model home is to be opened to the public tomorrow at 290 Eliseo Drive.

Designed by R. R. Zahm and built by Schultz Building Co., this home is designed to the contour of the upland slope and site-graded to allow the advantages of both view and level-lot living.

A huge deck—nine feet to 12 feet—extends from the living area elevation full width on both the rear and one side of the house. A wall of glass sliding doors allows access from living-dining room and kitchen. A cathedral-beamed ceiling over both the living room and kitchen is an outstanding feature of this home. The fireplace is of massive Arizona sunburst stone which has a red irridescence.

Three bedrooms, two baths, game and hobby space are included, shaded by huge oak and bay trees, allows room for a swimming pool.

The model home is in a new subdivision which opened earlier this year and has outstripped usual sales records. Twenty-two of the Bay and Mount Tamalpais view lots have been sold

Jobless Rate Continues To Decline In California

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The jobless rate among California workers covered by unemployment insurance continued its decline during the summer months, the State Employment Department reported yesterday.

That means workers who use up their regular benefits in the coming holiday season will not be entitled to the 13 weeks of extended benefits provided in periods of high unemployment.

Irving H. Perluss, state director of employment, said the jobless rate among the 3,801,217 covered workers during July, August and September was 5.05 per cent. That's down from 5.94 per cent recorded in the second three months of the year. It is also the second straight quarter in which the rate has been below the 6 per cent which triggers extended benefits.

The January-March rate was 6.02 per cent.

A 1959 state law provides 13 weeks of extended benefits when the rate of covered workers exceeds 6 per cent. The normal benefit payment period is 26 weeks.

So far California has paid $14,306,245 in extended benefits since the 1959 Legislature enacted the Miller-Collier bill.

THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM with John Fitzgerald Kennedy as its standard bearer will be presented on Thursday, Oct. 27, when the Sisterhood of the Marin Jewish Community Center holds a Pre-Election Rally Luncheon at Sam's Anchor Cafe in Tiburon. Sisterhood members displaying the Democratic props are, from left, Mesdames Gene Hiller and Alfred Goldberg.

Robert Alten, Winifred Isetta Married At St. Rita's Rites

White daisies were at the altar of St. Rita's Church in Fairfax when Winifred Anne Isetta became the bride of Robert Wilson Alten.

Officiating for the recent double ring ceremony was Rev. Terrence Laughrin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Isetta of Fairfax. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth House also of Fairfax.

Altar boys for the ceremony were the bride's brothers, William and Michael Isetta.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a full length white satin gown fashioned with round neckline, long sleeves. Seed pearls adorned the front of the bodice and six white roses were designed on the bustle of the gown which extended into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a missal centered with white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Dianne Magliulo of San Rafael as maid of honor, bridesmaids Mary Rita Mila of Fairfax, Jane Capella of Kentfield and Marilyn Dixon of San Rafael and the bride's sister, Mary Virginia Isetta of Fairfax as junior bridesmaid, preceded the bride down the aisle.

They wore champagne satin dresses fashioned with round necklines and bell skirts. Veils of champagne net topped with tiny velvet daisies formed their headdresses. The maid of honor carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and lilies of the valley and the bridesmaids had tangerine carnations and yellow roses.

Little Eleanor Isetta, the bride's sister, as flower girl, wore a dress of white chiffon with champagne satin cummerbund matching the bridesmaids' dresses. She had a bandeau of yellow roses and carried a basket filled with yellow roses.

Howard LaFranchi was ringbearer.

James Dixon of San Rafael was best man. Escorting guests were Andrew Isetta, the bride's brother of Fairfax, and Steve Corrutti and Dennise Ciocca, both of Greenbrae.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Isetta wore a cocoa lace dress with pink hat and accessories and white orchid corsage.

Mrs. House chose a beige brocade sheath with matching feather hat and accessories. She had a cymbidium orchid corsage.

A reception for 800 guests followed the ceremony at the IDESST Hall in Sausalito.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a dark brown suit with beige accessories and white orchid corsage.

NEWLYWEDS, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson Alten, are photographed following their recent wedding at St. Rita's Church in Fairfax. The bride, the former Winifred Anne Isetta, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Isetta of Fairfax. (Les Walsh photo.)

The bride was graduated from Marin Catholic High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Isetta of San Francisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lawlor of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. He is employed with Safeway Stores in San Anselmo. He is the brother of Eugene Alten of San Rafael and Carl Alten of San Leandro. Mr. and Mrs. La Franchi of Santa Rosa are his grandparents.

The newlyweds will reside in Kentfield.

Marin Women

Sausalito Club To Hear Talk On Early California

On Thursday, Oct. 20, members and guests at the Sausalito Woman's Club will hear Marion Garthwaite speak on "Early California History."

She will be presented by Mrs. Brian T. F. Rowlands, literary chairman. As an author, Mrs. Garthwaite has had seven books published in the juvenile field as well as many short stories and serials. Her first book took both the Julia Ellsworth Ford award and the Commonwealth Medal in San Francisco.

A native of Oakland, the writer was graduated from the University of California and the Riverside Library School. She has chosen California as background for most of her books feeling that its lore is part of her heritage. All four of her grandparents and all four of her husband's grandparents came to California between 1849 and 1856.

At present, Mrs. Garthwaite is the children's librarian for the San Mateo County Library. She has told stories over TV station KQED and during the last six summers has taught graduate work in children's literature and story telling at College of the Pacific. Doubleday published her latest book "Mario," in September and will bring out a Gold Rush story, "The Holdup on Bootjack Hill" next year.

Mesdames John F. Churchill and Merrell A. Sisson announce that plants will be for sale before and after the program. The items will include succulents, fibrous begonias, house plants and plantings suitable for gifts. Also included will be garden accessories.

Greeting arrivals at the door will be Mesdames Norton Meyer and Robert Perlman with Mrs. Ernest H. King at the desk and Mrs. Frederic Palmer III in charge of the guest book. Tea will follow the program.

St. Brigid's Ready For Book Sale

St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito, held its meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James F. McIndoe.

The president, Mrs. Robert F. Crowell, heard final reports on the readiness of the Bake and Book Sale to be held tomorrow in the Parish Hall of the church. Weather permitting, books will be on tables in the bricked area outside the buildings.

Mrs. Frederick Palmer III, general chairman of the sale, reminds potential buyers that sales start promptly at 10 a.m. In addition to home made breads, cakes, pies and cookies, there will be the Guild's famous corned beef and baked ham and turkey.

St. Margaret's Guild will staff the sandwich and coffee bar.

At the conclusion of Tuesday's meeting, Mesdames Bernard J. Gratama and S. C. Stapp assisted Mrs. McIndoe with refreshmeuts and Mesdames Donn Bolthouse and Christopher Forwood of Mill Valley poured.

Because the November meeting date falls on Election Day, it has been postponed until the following Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Strawberry Point P-TA Plans Dinner

Strictly for adult sociability is the affair being planned for Wednesday, Oct. 19 at the Southern Marin Recreation Center by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Strawberry Point School.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. for a very nominal fee following which entertainment will be presented by both the teachers and the parents. Teachers Mrs. Valerie Kell and the Misses Genelle Dollarhide and Barbara Hitt promise a terpsichorean number. The parents will be represented by the South Knoll Road Chowder and Marching Society and Chorale Group directed by Kenneth Rall. Community singing will be led by William McDonough accompanied by Robert H. Davis.

Stanley Gallagher is general chairman. Assisting him are Mesdames Robert Nickoloff and Neil T. Martin in charge of the decorations; Mesdames A. Marchini, William Clarke and James Watson and food. Al Lazzarini will be salad chef.

Reservations may be made by calling Leon Willat, 12 Sky Road, Mill Valley.

Sisterhood To Hold Pre-Election Lunch

The Sisterhood of the Marin Jewish Community Center will hold a Pre-Election Rally Luncheon on Thursday, Oct. 27 at noon in Sam's Anchor Cafe, Tiburon.

Pre-election cocktails will be served on the deck followed by luncheon in the Blue Room.

Presenting the platform of their respective parties will be Mrs. Robert Irwin, women's vice chairman of the Republican Party, and Mrs. Samuel Swadesh, vice chairman for the Democratic Party.

Mrs. John Thayer of the League of Women Voters will act as moderator.

Mesdames Bernard Blumenthal and David Rovens will be in charge of registration. Plans for the fund raising luncheon and fashion show to be held at the Turf Club at Golden Gate Fields in Albany on Nov. 17 will be discussed.

Proceeds from the Pre-Election Rally luncheon will benefit the nursery school at the Center.

Mrs. Martin Brownstein of Larkspur is reservation chairman.

Patrick Praetzel Will Study Music In Vienna

A Mediterranean cruise is in store for Patrick Praetzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Praetzel of San Rafael, who leaves next week. Patrick will sail on the Italian liner Saturnia, and will visit Gibraltar, Barcelona, Naples, Palermo, Patrae, Venice and Trieste, and several other ports.

Patrick will then go to Austria, where he will continue his musical education at the University of Vienna. He will study voice with Maria Brandt and conducting with Professor Hans Swarowsky.

Skeleton's Scare To Be Theme For Marion Carnival

"Skeleton's Scare" will be the theme of Marion P-TA Carnival to be held Friday, Oct. 28 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the school in Novato.

Mrs. Ray Kanoff, carnival co-chairman, stated that Hugh Drown's sixth grade class was the winner of the school wide "Name the Carnival" contest.

Open Door Club

The Novato Open Door Club will hold a dancing party tonight at Trevitt Hall.

A potluck dinner will be served at 7 p. m. The program will begin at 8 p. m.

Fuschia Society Meets Tonight

The Redwood Fuchsia Society will hold their monthly meeting at 8 o'clock at Whittaker Hall, St. Stephen's, Belvedere, with president Bob Ross presiding.

Highlight of the evening will be a talk by the noted Bay Area garden lecturer, Norville Gillespie. Gillespie is also a familiar television personality and a famous world traveler.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a dark brown suit with beige accessories and white orchid corsage.

The bride was graduated from Marin Catholic High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Isetta of San Francisco and the late Mr. and Mrs. John Lawlor of San Francisco.

The bridegroom was graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School and attended College of Marin. He is employed with Safeway Stores in San Anselmo. He is the brother of Eugene Alten of San Rafael and Carl Alten of San Leandro. Mr. and Mrs. La Franchi of Santa Rosa are his grandparents.

The newlyweds will reside in Kentfield.

Sausalito Club To Hear Talk On Early California

On Thursday, Oct. 20, members and guests at the Sausalito Woman's Club will hear Marion Garthwaite speak on "Early California History."

She will be presented by Mrs. Brian T. F. Rowlands, literary chairman. As an author, Mrs. Garthwaite has had seven books published in the juvenile field as well as many short stories and serials. Her first book took both the Julia Ellsworth Ford award and the Commonwealth Medal in San Francisco.

A native of Oakland, the writer was graduated from the University of California and the Riverside Library School. She has chosen California as background for most of her books feeling that its lore is part of her heritage. All four of her grandparents and all four of her husband's grandparents came to California between 1849 and 1856.

At present, Mrs. Garthwaite is the children's librarian for the San Mateo County Library. She has told stories over TV station KQED and during the last six summers has taught graduate work in children's literature and story telling at College of the Pacific. Doubleday published her latest book "Mario," in September and will bring out a Gold Rush story, "The Holdup on Bootjack Hill" next year.

Mesdames John F. Churchill and Merrell A. Sisson announce that plants will be for sale before and after the program. The items will include succulents, fibrous begonias, house plants and plantings suitable for gifts. Also included will be garden accessories.

Greeting arrivals at the door will be Mesdames Norton Meyer and Robert Perlman with Mrs. Ernest H. King at the desk and Mrs. Frederic Palmer III in charge of the guest book. Tea will follow the program.

St. Brigid's Ready For Book Sale

St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Episcopal Church, Sausalito, held its meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. James F. McIndoe.

The president, Mrs. Robert F. Crowell, heard final reports on the readiness of the Bake and Book Sale to be held tomorrow in the Parish Hall of the church. Weather permitting, books will be on tables in the bricked area outside the buildings.

Mrs. Frederick Palmer III, general chairman of the sale, reminds potential buyers that sales start promptly at 10 a.m. In addition to home made breads, cakes, pies and cookies, there will be the Guild's famous corned beef and baked ham and turkey.

St. Margaret's Guild will staff the sandwich and coffee bar.

At the conclusion of Tuesday's meeting, Mesdames Bernard J. Gratama and S. C. Stapp assisted Mrs. McIndoe with refreshmeuts and Mesdames Donn Bolthouse and Christopher Forwood of Mill Valley poured.

Because the November meeting date falls on Election Day, it has been postponed until the following Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Strawberry Point P-TA Plans Dinner

Strictly for adult sociability is the affair being planned for Wednesday, Oct. 19 at the Southern Marin Recreation Center by the Parent-Teacher Association of the Strawberry Point School.

Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. for a very nominal fee following which entertainment will be presented by both the teachers and the parents. Teachers Mrs. Valerie Kell and the Misses Genelle Dollarhide and Barbara Hitt promise a terpsichorean number. The parents will be represented by the South Knoll Road Chowder and Marching Society and Chorale Group directed by Kenneth Rall. Community singing will be led by William McDonough accompanied by Robert H. Davis.

Stanley Gallagher is general chairman. Assisting him are Mesdames Robert Nickoloff and Neil T. Martin in charge of the decorations; Mesdames A. Marchini, William Clarke and James Watson and food. Al Lazzarini will be salad chef.

Reservations may be made by calling Leon Willat, 12 Sky Road, Mill Valley.

Fuschia Society Meets Tonight

The Redwood Fuchsia Society will hold their monthly meeting at 8 o'clock at Whittaker Hall, St. Stephen's, Belvedere, with president Bob Ross presiding.

Highlight of the evening will be a talk by the noted Bay Area garden lecturer, Norville Gillespie. Gillespie is also a familiar television personality and a famous world traveler.

Sisterhood To Hold Pre-Election Lunch

The Sisterhood of the Marin Jewish Community Center will hold a Pre-Election Rally Luncheon on Thursday, Oct. 27 at noon in Sam's Anchor Cafe, Tiburon.

Pre-election cocktails will be served on the deck followed by luncheon in the Blue Room.

Presenting the platform of their respective parties will be Mrs. Robert Irwin, women's vice chairman of the Republican Party, and Mrs. Samuel Swadesh, vice chairman for the Democratic Party.

Mrs. John Thayer of the League of Women Voters will act as moderator.

Mesdames Bernard Blumenthal and David Rovens will be in charge of registration. Plans for the fund raising luncheon and fashion show to be held at the Turf Club at Golden Gate Fields in Albany on Nov. 17 will be discussed.

Proceeds from the Pre-Election Rally luncheon will benefit the nursery school at the Center.

Mrs. Martin Brownstein of Larkspur is reservation chairman.

Patrick Praetzel Will Study Music In Vienna

A Mediterranean cruise is in store for Patrick Praetzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Praetzel of San Rafael, who leaves next week. Patrick will sail on the Italian liner Saturnia, and will visit Gibraltar, Barcelona, Naples, Palermo, Patrae, Venice and Trieste, and several other ports.

Patrick will then go to Austria, where he will continue his musical education at the University of Vienna. He will study voice with Maria Brandt and conducting with Professor Hans Swarowsky.

Skeleton's Scare To Be Theme For Marion Carnival

"Skeleton's Scare" will be the theme of Marion P-TA Carnival to be held Friday, Oct. 28 from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the school in Novato.

Mrs. Ray Kanoff, carnival co-chairman, stated that Hugh Drown's sixth grade class was the winner of the school wide "Name the Carnival" contest.

The chairmen of the booths are Mesdames George Van Buskirk, J. E. Mayfield, R. W. Parfitt, Sidney Dickinson, Alfred Henricks, Henry Wallendorf, Louis Rodrigues, R. A. Jones, James Stearns, James Brennan, R. L. Andreason, George Campbell, Robert Morse, J. L. Henry, David Patterson, Robert Moore, Leonard Zechlin, William Hambridge, and Heinz Ratsch.

Harvest Hop Planned By Beta Sigma Phi

The five chapters of Beta Sigma Phi of Marin County will hold a Harvest Hop on Oct. 22 at the Mill Valley Golf Club.

The chapters are Upsilon Gamma of Novato, Zi Alpha Zi, Gamma Omicron and Phi Gamma Nu of San Rafael and the Omicron Alpha of Mill Valley. An award will be given and refreshments will be served. A band will furnish the music.

Chairman of the dance is Glenn E. Dunbar of Upsilon Gamma. Mrs. Gordon A. Rodgers of Zi Alpha Zi is in charge of the refreshments. Mrs. George H. Henderson Jr. of Uusilon Gamma, publicity. Mrs. Marlen M. Michel of Omicron Alpha obtained the hall and band, and Mrs. Philip G. Fairlie of Gamma Omicron is in charge of the tickets.

Phi Gamma Nu, a recently organized chapter in Marin will decorate in the harvest theme under the direction of Miss Jane Tiaffay, president.

The proceeds from the dance will be divided between the chapters to be used for their individual philanthropic projects.

To Discuss Issues

William T. Bagley has been invited by the women's association of the West minister Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay to meet with them Tuesday, Oct. 18 at 8 p.m. to discuss the propositions before the voters in the coming election.

Guests are welcome.

An association meeting will follow the discussion according to Mrs. Vernon Libby, program chairman.

Blessed Sacrament Guild Plans A 'Weekend In San Francisco'

San Francisco will move to it's neighboring community of Santa Venetia the evening of Nov. 2 when the Blessed Sacrament Woman's Guild will present its annual fall fashion show in the church hall.

Transformed by the magic of Bob Wood's lighting effects and the artistry of Mrs. J. W. Mulqueeney and Mrs. Joseph Herrara, the hall will take on all of the atmosphere of the City by the Golden Gate with backdrops ranging from the Wharf to Coit Tower and the zoo.

Beginning at 8 p.m. that evening coffee and dessert will be served to visitors to a "Weekend in San Francisco," according to the show chairman, Mrs. Frank Kiernan. Patrons will view a complete range of fall fashions presented by a San Rafael shop from the most casual to the most sophisticated evening wear for dinner-dancing at the Sheraton-Palace.

Commentator for the evening will be Mrs. William Roberts, who will guide Guild models through a weekend in the Bay City as they appear in designs for boating relaxation and the latest autumn styles for the smartest city shopper. All backgrounded with appropriate music provided by Mrs. Troy Austin.

Reservations for an "Evening in San Francisco" may be made with Mrs. James Stirling, San Rafael or Mrs. Dominic Basile between Oct. 15 and 28. No tickets will be sold at the door. Further reservation information may be obtained by calling them.

Helping to complete details for the show are Mesdames Gimi Sessi and Rome Brusati, refreshments; James Stirling and Dominic Basile, reservations; Anton Lonich, ways and means; J. W. Mulqueeney, Joseph Herrar and James A. Dalton, decorations; Jack Coddington, models; Ted Conway, cleanup; and John Trimble, publicity.

Models for the evening will be Mesdames Norman Green, Herbert C. Lee, John Aurely, Charles Louderback, Robert Wood, Ray Brusati, Hal Johnston, John Wilson, Jack Smith, Richard Burrill, Frank Zerga and Miss Diana De Voy.

Entertains Guild

Mrs. Wallace Scott entertained members of the San Francisco Guild of Sunny Hills at a luncheon Tuesday at her home on the Belvere Lagoon. The purpose of the affair was to introduce the guild members to Perry Hall, new executive director of the Sunny Hills home. The San Francisco Guild is responsible for the antique booth at the annual Grape Festival.

Novato School Dance

A Turnabout Dance is to be given tomorrow night at the Novato High School as a climax to Turnabout Week. During it the girls escorted the boys to school and carried their books. The girls are inviting the boys to the dance, which is being sponsored by the school's Parents Club. Refreshments will be served.

Twin Cities P-TA Plans Salad Lunch

Gourmet fare will be the order of the day when the Larkspur-Corte Madera Elementary School P-TA serves their annual "Salad Luncheon." Wednesday, Oct. 19, at noon, in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Guests are assured of "57 varieties" of salads plus many kinds of hot breads.

Piece-de-resistance on the bill of fare will be the "Silent Auction." Among white elephants and bric-a-brack to be sold are original oil paintings, a Van Gogh and other prints, household wares, electrical equipment and hundreds of other items, both old and new.

The decorating scheme will salute the United Nations Week, Oct. 23-29, the 15th anniversary of the world organization's founding in San Francisco. Flags and pennants of member nations have been donated by Mrs. Eric Moeller of Ross.

Mesdames Richard B. Basco and John W. Boyd are co-chairmen for the luncheon- auction and they are being assisted by Mesdames John Faville, decorations; Mervyn L. Bain and Charles R. Young, White Elephants; Robert I. Mather, food.

Three Speakers To Address Council Of Nursery Schools

The annual "Workshop" of the Council of Marin County Cooperative Nursery Schools will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 18, at 7:45 p.m., in College of Marin's Olney Hall.

This is a forum to familiarize the public and parents of the nursery school group with the facets of the education of the pre-school child and his parents, both at home and in the nursery school.

The Council, composed of delegates from the cooperative nursery schools of Corte Madera, Mill Valley, San Anselmo, San Rafael and Terra Linda, working in cooperation with Dr. Samuel LeCount, Director of Adult Education of College of Marin, have planned the Workshop.

The Workshop will function by means of demonstrations, analysis and discussion. Three Bay Area women, prominent in their respective fields, will demonstrate the different but related areas of a child's experiences.

Mrs. Ann Halprin, recognized for her contributions in the field of creative dance, will discuss and demonstrate the topic "Creative Dance," and its relation to children's education.

Mrs. Ann O'Hanlon, director of the art department at Dominican College, will deal with "Child's Art—a Universal Experience." Mrs. O'Hanlon also teaches "Exploration in Design" in the adult education program of College of Marin.

Mrs. Elinor Van Leeuwen, who will discuss the aspect of "Methods and Materials in Parent Education," is San Francisco's only full-time instructor in parent education. In this capacity she serves as director of Visitacion Center Parent Child Group and consultant for parent organizations.

The Council invites the public to participate in any of the three sections of the Workshop.

Center Bridge Sessions Tuesday

Now in its fourth year are the Tuesday night bridge sessions at the Southern Marin Recreation Center. The weekly sessions are held from 7:45 to 11 p.m. and are open to both members and non-members of the Center with a small fee charged the non-members.

Hostess for the evening is Dr. Albertine Nash who announces that everyone is welcome who enjoys playing bridge in a relaxed atmosphere. It is not necessary to bring a partner but if a partner is needed Dr. Nash should be called before 7 p.m.

Gamma Phi Beta

Representatives of Gamma Phi Beta Alumnae Chapters in Northern California will attend the semi-annual Intercity Council meeting at the chapter house at San Jose on Tuesday, Oct. 18.

Last Glitter Of Paint Applied For Annual Silver Fantasy Ball

Final arrangements have all been made and the last glitter of paint applied to the decorations and now it is time again for the Silver Fantasy Ball.

The Junior Social Service Auxiliary is anxiously awaiting its grand event of the year, and this year more than 350 guests will be in attendance. Mrs. John Roll, general chairman of the ball and her decorations chairman, Mrs. William Carpenter, are anticipating this formal event where dancing will be to the music of an orchestra.

Many pre-ball activities are scheduled and one of the largest will be the cocktail party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. William Donohoe of San Rafael. Mrs. Donohoe, this year's Auxiliary president, has extended invitations to 50 guests, including members of the board and their husbands. These include, Messrs. and Mesdames Thomas Parks, James Bowler, Arthur Knudson, Thomas Guerin, Richard Nave, Rome Brusati, William Ghilotti, William C. Haley, Frank Klineman, John MacMillan, Gimi Sessi and Jose Alicastro, who are celebrating their sixth wedding anniversary that evening.

The Rolfe Crokers of Villa Real will have a gathering in their home before going on to the Meadow Club. Among this group will be the Donald Backmans, Jay Jacksons, James Donnellys, and William Simmons'. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice R. Guy will have a small group in, as will the James Schwerdts of Kentfield, who just recently moved into a new home.

A no-host group meeting beforehand at the Meadow Club consists of the Henry Ghilottis, George Currys, Dominic Selmis, Emil Bettinis, Louis Castellanis, James Hudsons and William Naves.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Walker of Marin Golf and Country Club Estates have invited to their home Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Newirth, Dr. and Mrs. Dan Aughney, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Patocchi, Mr. and Mrs. John Countryman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Warnick Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weinmann and Mr. and Mrs. William Keegan, who will that evening celebrate their 13th anniversary.

The Gimi Sessis' San Rafael home will be the setting for a cocktail party whose guest list includes the George Silverias, John Streckfus' and Joseph Huffakers. And in Greenbrae, the new home of the Robert McCulloughs will be the scene for a pre-ball gathering and their guests are Mr. and Mrs. John Hourihan, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Heffernan, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Hoedt, Mr. and Mrs. William Haley and her sister, Miss Elaine Freitas who is bringing as her escort Paul Knapp, who is here in the Bay Area to continue his research work at Stanford, after having completed his doctorate at the University of Wisconsin.

Official Visit Muir Woods Auxiliary VFW

Mrs. Ove Larsen, president of the 16th District, Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, made her official visit to Muir Woods Auxiliary 6741 recently. Mrs. Larsen introduced her district officers: Mrs. Mary Fogle, hospital chairman and past 16th District president, and Mrs. Fran Ossman, past district president. Also present was Mrs. Gladys Leach from Petaluma Auxiliary.

Mrs. Larsen stressed membership in her talk. She said if each member would bring in one new member the new members would bring in other members.

Mrs. Joseph King, the president, in behalf of the Auxiliary, presented Mrs. Larsen with a corsage and a small treasure chest made by Mrs. Tal Childers, filled with coins.

The members decided to "adopt a non-pension veteran at the veterans home in Yountville and to send him a monthly allowance.

It was also decided to have an opportunity sale Dec. 6.

The card party chairman, Mrs. Albert Rometti, announced the next card party would be Tuesday, Oct. 18. She thanked the members for their help at the September card party. These were Mrs. Donald Comstock, Mrs. Carlos Nelson and Mr. Joseph King. Also Mrs. William Mancebo for sandwiches and a prize and Mrs. Carlos Nelson for sandwiches.

The mystery package was won by Mrs. Marie Peters.

After the meeting refreshments were served amidst halloween decorations.

Gallinas School Organizes P-TA

At a recent meeting of the parents of students in Gallinas School, a Parent Teacher Association unit was organized.

Officers elected to serve for the coming year were Kenneth Hickle, president; Mrs. Richard Murphy, first vice president; Lawrence Geiger, second vice president; Mrs. William Field, secretary; and Mrs. Albert Paczkowski Jr., treasurer.

The new officers were installed by Mrs. Malcolm Finley, president of the Fourteenth District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Finley also gave a brief talk on the objectives and activities of P-TA.

Ruth E. Simpson Bride Of Sydney P. Rodgers In Seattle

In a recent ceremony in Seattle's Edmond Meany Hotel, Ruth E. Simpson, daughter of Mrs. Max J. Simpson of Fairfax, became the bride of Sydney P. Rogers of Seattle.

The bridegroom is the son of H. M. Rogers of Seattle.

Rabbi Herbert D. Teitelbaum officiated for the wedding which was followed by a champagne dinner.

The bride wore a ballerina length white satin hand embroidered gown fashioned with a scooped neckline and three quarter sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a satin coronet and she carried a mother-of-pearl Bible topped with white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Fred Rogers of Seattle was matron of honor. Fred Rogers served his brother as best man.

Following a wedding trip in Canada, the couple will reside in Seattle.

The bride was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. The bridegroom attended the University of Washington.

Republican Women Meeting On Oct. 18

In a recent ceremony in Seattle's Edmond Meany Hotel, Ruth E. Simpson, daughter of Mrs. Max J. Simpson of Fairfax, became the bride of Sydney P. Rodgers of Seattle.

The bridegroom is the son of H. M. Rogers of Seattle.

Rabbi Herbert D. Teitelbaum officiated for the wedding which was followed by a champagne dinner.

The bride wore a ballerina length white satin hand embroidered gown fashioned with a scooped neckline and three quarter sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a satin coronet and she carried a mother-of-pearl Bible topped with white orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Fred Rogers of Seattle was matron of honor. Fred Rogers served his brother as best man.

Following a wedding trip in Canada, the couple will reside in Seattle.

The bride was graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles. The bridegroom attended the University of Washington.

Meeting To Decide If Marin Jr. Museum Lives Or Dies

Next Wednesday night, a meeting in the County Courthtouse at San Rafael may decide whether a Marin facility for youth is to live or die.

Facing a new life or extinction is the Junior Museum of Marin.

The public meeting, to be presided over by Superior Judge Richard M. Sims, advisor to the museum's board of directors, is designed to determine what public interest there is in continued operation.

There is no doubt about a public interest in using the museum. Thousands of youths and adults troop through the museum, watch the antics of the live animals, study the inanimate displays, learn in classes and on field trips, participate in the museum's activities after school or "borrow" live animals as "temporary pets."

Other thousands of youths make use of the museum in their own classrooms or meetings as museum staff members bring animals, displays, motion pictures and information into schools or Scout meetings or club or church gatherings.

There is a public interest too in services the museum provides. Things like rounding up wayward rattlesnakes, mothering orphaned birds, discouraging rambunctious raccoons or nuisance skunks, and nursing wounded animals. Things like providing a public reference library; working with the police, sheriff, agricultural commissioner, Humane Society, park rangers and others; answering thousands of natural history questions both at the museum and over the telephone, and tying in closely with conservation and natural resources programs throughout the area.

But there appears to be little public interest in providing funds to pay for these services. Neither the private citizens, nor the people who have the greatest use of the museum, the schools, seem anxious to pay the cost of its upkeep.

Only two or three school districts made use of the museum in its first years. Now, 17 school districts are using it regularly in their regular programs. Yet only seven of these 17 pay anything to help support the facilities.

The public has been just as apathetic. The museum's just-concluded three-year expansion fund campaign received such tiny support from the people of the county there seems nothing left for the museum to do but close its doors.

For months now, the operation has been costing between $200 and $400 per month more than has been coming in. This can't go on.

Next Wednesday night's meeting will answer this question:

Will the Junior Museum of Marin live or die?

Happy Birthday, Ike

Dwight D. Eisenhower is 70 years old today, the first President of the United States ever to reach that age while in office.

It doesn't seem possible, not in our memories or in our observation of him today, that he can be that old. But there it is. The man with the courage and skill to lead us in war and peace, the man with the bad heart, is having a birthday.

The world is a better place because he lived.

Happy birthday and many happy returns, Ike.

JAPAN'S BIG PROBLEM

Do you know these facts about Japan?

1. It has 92 million people in a mere 142,000 square miles—the area of Montana.

2. It is a major industrial nation, but it lacks most major resources for its factories.

3. Its fishermen lead the world in yearly catch.

4. Japanese farmers get the highest yield per acre of rice in the Far East.

5. The Japanese have reached a virtual limit in developing their potential.

Even those outstanding achievements will not sustain the land-starved nation for long. An American professor, a veteran of 40 years in Japan, said recently: "Japan will stand with the free world as long as the country can feed the people. The minute it can't, there will be a revolution."

God will bless you if you do something, however little, to bring just solutions to staggering problems such as this. Pray that nations with empty land will be generous with those which lack it."

"Blessed are they who hunger and thirst for justice, for they shall be satisfield." (Matthew 5:6)

Among Your Library Books How Many Are Favorite Unread Ones?

NEW YORK (AP)—It is said you can tell a man by his library.

But this assumes he has read the books in his library. Often he hasn't.

A truer appraisal in most cases, probably, is that you can tell by a man's library what he aspires to be—if he only had time.

Most men's libraries aren't made up of the books they have read and treasured. They are made up of the books they intend to read someday — someday when there isn't something more pressing to do.

To be literate a man doesn't have to read a large number of books. He needs only to know a few choice books well, and to increase his understanding by rereading them.

Even three books can produce a well-stocked mind. These books are the dictionary, the Bible, and a collection of Shakespeare's works. No one who knows those three books well is less learned than he who has skimmed 10,000 other books.

A man's reading taste is usually a prisoner of his age. In youth he prefers romantic fiction, but as he grows older he likes to read factual material because life has taught him there is nothing more romantic than the truth, or more novel.

Those row after row of dust-catching books aren't there just to awe the neighbors. He really means to get around to reading them some time when he has more leisure than he has now.

Everyone has his own favorite unread book. I have two in my library.

One is called "How to Raise a Dog in the Suburbbs." Since I live in a city apartment where only cats and mute parakeets are allowed as pets, I haven't got around to reading this important book. But I still keep it handy for an emergency.

MY OTHER favorite unread book is entitled "How to Retire Before 40."

It's already 10 years too late for me to find anything except an antiquarian interest in this volume.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Buy Bread Or Booze, Which?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It grieves me to see the emphasis that is put upon the sale of beer, wine, and liquor in our grocery stores.

The "stuff" is put upon an equal par, and even above, at the entrance of most grocery stores. The people can decide, as they enter the store to buy "bread" or "booze."

I was talking to a butcher this last week and he was saying, "You would be surprised at how many will stop me, after he had weighed the meat and told the customer how much it cost, and then would say, 'Wait, a fifth costs so much, and I can't afford that piece of meat'."

Iti s bad enough, that they have no respect for the Lord's Day, by continuing business as usual, but to glamorize the sale of booze, as though it were a necessary commodity, is a disgrace to all thati s honest, and decent, and good.

State Faces Legal, Moral Problem In Condemnation Of Property

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California is up against a problem which involves millions of dollars and obviously concerns the moral, as well as the legal, obligations of the people to property holders in areas that must be used for one state purpose or another.

The Water Resources Code provides that when the state finds it necessary to relocate a utility property, owned by private enterprise, it must pay the cost of relocation.

ON THE OTHER HAND, property owned by private owners, not classified as utility, is subject to condemnation proceedings. Generally, a fair market value is adjudged by the courts, and the cost of replacement has nothing to do with the transaction.

Assemblyman Carley V. Porter, (D) Compton, brought the matter to a head when he called attention to the fact that the state is spending some $45 million to replace the facilities of Western Pacific Railroad around Oroville Dam. At the same time, he pointed out the fair market value of the property involved amounts to between $10 and $30 million dollars.

EVEN AT THE HIGH figure, the Western Pacific would obtain a "betterment" of approximately $15 million, the cost to be borne by California's taxpayers.

Other utilities involved in the moving process to make way for proposed Oroville reservoir probably will bring the "betterment" amounts into fantastic sums.

Meanwhile, Porter as chairman of the Assembly Water Resources Committee obtained $15,000 from the Rules Committee to hire a firm of experts to determine the fair market value of the railroad property involved in the specific case. If the study shows unreasonable betterment, he said he would introduce a bill in the 1961 legislature to correct the situation.

AS YET, PORTER hasn't said how he will effect corrections, but he has, in effect, only a couple of methods of making such corrections.

First, legislation could be introduced to give private utilities only a fair market value for the property involved, without any relationship to the actual cost of replacement. This would result in the expenditure of the "betterment" amounts by the railroad itself.

Second, he could permit the present law to stand, and grant all private property owners the replacement provisions now enjoyed by the utilities, thereby increasing the amounts the taxpayers must expend for property acquisitions.

The moral question then, is who should be responsible for the "betterment" amounts, the state which forces the move, or the utility or individual who benefits?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County, worrying over possible wartime emergency growing out of Korea, sent sanitation engineer Arnold Prucha to a University of California course in Los Angeles to study handling and disposal of radioactive materials in a so-called "A-Bomb School."

Pacific Greyhound asked the State Public Utility Commission permission to abandon service from San Anselmo to Fairfax and Inverness, as well as between San Anselmo and San Rafael. It was also seeking a bigger fare raise than one recently authorized.

20 YEARS AGO

Construction of a $25,000 bus terminal in San Rafael began, with completion assured by spring when Pacific Greyhound Lines will take over Northwestern Pacific commute service as the rail company abandons its interurban electric service.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

"We were entertaining some very important people for dinner last night," an actor told Robert Q. Lewis, "and one of them accused me of being a henpeck — right in front of my wife and everybody."

"Did you get sore?" needled Lewis.

"Did I?" snarled the actor. "But by the time I finished doing the dishes, sweeping up, and changing the baby, I had cooled off."

"What," asked a theater owner of a prospective head usher, "would you do in case of fire?"

"You wouldn't have time to worry about me," assured the prospect. "I'd be out of the joint in no time."

Lady Of The Want Ads Turns To Study Of Real Estate Talk

My lexicographer friend Elizabeth Kibbee of Mill Valley is at it again.

Reading want ads, that is.

The last time I conversed with Mrs. K., she was speaking in the jargon of used dealers, verily a language unto itself.

Being of one-track mind and one who applies herself wholeheartedly to the task at hand, Mrs. K. had given up all reading save for used car want ads, the result being that she could utter only incomprehensible, abbreviated phrases such as lo dn., a beaut., ww tires, hi trd. In!

HAVING EVENTUALLY purchased a tu-tone cream-puff (loaded!-, most of her friends looked forward to her return to the world of sensible conversation on such matters as P-TA doings, New Yorker cartoons and the presidential election.

Unfortunately, prior to her recovery her eyes drifted from the used car ads to the real estate pages.

The result was a total relapse.

Herewith, Mrs. K. submits her latest glossary as a handy guide to those who would interpret the strange language of those who sell houses through the columns of the daily press:

HI ATOP A HILL: Miles from everything. Guests will need map. (See also: in a world to itself.)

Sheltered: Under redwood trees. Usually advertised in summer only. Artificial light needed after 3 p.m.

Convenient to bus, shops, schools; all-electric kitchen; new tract, near hastily added shopping center.

30-year loan, nothing down: pay $115 per month interest, $5 on principal.

Interesting older home: Bathtub with claws; buyer should be well-supplied with extension cords.

TWO BEDROOMS, third possible: nobody ever figured out what to do with that room.

Well established garden: blackberry vines in leeching field.

View!: Windy.

Unusual layout: Bathroom opens off living room.

Unconventional layout: Bathroom opens off back porch.

Good for writers, artists: Uneven floors, no bathtub; but cheap.

Just redecorated: Owner just painted the whole place in startling colors. Bathroom probably pink.

Rustic: Knotty pine.

Shown by appointment: Owner's wife wants time to straighten up.

Owner will take second: Owner is getting desperate.

Owner will finance: No one else will.

MARVELOUS POSSIBILITIES for creative buyer: This house needs complete remodeling.

Handyman special!: This house needs complete rebuilding.

When last observed, Mrs. K. was climbing a wind-swept, fog-bound Mill Valley hill, muttering to herself: "By owner, desir., all elec. kit., dream home m . . ."

U.N. STRENGTHENED HIM?

Mr. K Confident On Red China Showdown

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — The most explosive problem facing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his return to Moscow is the smouldering conflict with Red China over world Communism's future policies.

The ideological differences between the two Communist giants appear to have deepened during Khrushchev's visit to New York.

Peiping's studied near-silence on the Soviet leader's performance before the world assembly has spotlighted the coolness in Sino-Russian relations.

BUT KHRUSHCHEV apparently is confident that he has strengthened his hand for a possible showdown by his activities at the United Nations General Assembly.

This has emerged from the buildup which the Soviet press and radio have given to the Communists in Russia and behind the Iron Curtain generally (except in China) of Khrushchev's role in New York.

Whatever the Soviet leader may have failed to achieve, his propagandists have presented him as the central figure of the world meeting.

His propagandists have built him up as the "tough man" who at the same time has re-opened the door to a new summit early next year for a cold war settlement.

SOVIET AFFAIRS experts believe these are the two main arguments Khrushchev needs for his forthcoming talks with the Red Chinese leaders.

These talks are scheduled to open in Moscow early next month when the leaders of some 20 Communists parties from the Red camp, the rest of Europe and Asia will meet ostensibly for the Soviet revolution anniversary celebrations.

Meanwhile, a Communist "high court" composed of top Communist leaders from the Red camp nations is collecting evidence on the extent of the ideological rift and on whether it can be healed or not.

The commission, which includes Soviet Chief Theoretician Mikhail Suslov, is to present recommendations to the November meeting in Moscow.

There is still no sign whether Red China's Mao Tze-Tung will go to Moscow. The signs were that unless a compromise looms up in the meantime he may choose to stay away.

BOTH SIDES HAVE been busily canvassing support meantime for their line of policy.

Broadly, the conflict concerns the relations of the Communist world towards the West and how best to enlarge the Red empire.

Khrushchev believes that the Communist camp should seek peaceful co-existence with the so-called imperialists who, he says, are on the wane anyway.

Peiping maintains imperialism cannot be finally overcome without resort to war —even nuclear war if necessary.

Moverover, the Russians believe that all national liberation movements in newly-emerging nations should be supported even if they are "bourgeois" ones. Peiping holds that only revolutionary struggle can secure victory.

IF THE RED Chinese gospel were to gain ground, Moscow's leadership would be seriously jeopardized.

Khrushchev has sought to win over the European satellites during the recent New York conferences.

All, except Albania, have now rallied to him. Many of the Asian Communist nations including North Korea and North Viet Nam have also come out in his support.

But there are sympathizers with the Chinese view in most of them and even in Russia itself.

Unless he can prove that his co-existence policy is successful, there may be a swing towards Peiping's view, in the opinion of the experts here.

Overriding these ideological differences is, however, the knowledge in Moscow and Peiping that neither side can afford to push the conflict too far because both would be losers in the event of an outright split.

It grieves me to see the emphasis that is put upon the sale of beer, wine, and liquor in our grocery stores.

The "stuff" is put upon an equal par, and even above, at the entrance of most grocery stores. The people can decide, as they enter the store to buy "bread" or "booze."

I was talking to a butcher this last week and he was saying, "You would be surprised at how many will stop me, after he had weighed the meat and told the customer how much it cost, and then would say, 'Wait, a fifth costs so much, and I can't afford that piece of meat'."

Iti s bad enough, that they have no respect for the Lord's Day, by continuing business as usual, but to glamorize the sale of booze, as though it were a necessary commodity, is a disgrace to all thati s honest, and decent, and good.

State Faces Legal, Moral Problem In Condemnation Of Property

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — California is up against a problem which involves millions of dollars and obviously concerns the moral, as well as the legal, obligations of the people to property holders in areas that must be used for one state purpose or another.

The Water Resources Code provides that when the state finds it necessary to relocate a utility property, owned by private enterprise, it must pay the cost of relocation.

ON THE OTHER HAND, property owned by private owners, not classified as utility, is subject to condemnation proceedings. Generally, a fair market value is adjudged by the courts, and the cost of replacement has nothing to do with the transaction.

Assemblyman Carley V. Porter, (D) Compton, brought the matter to a head when he called attention to the fact that the state is spending some $45 million to replace the facilities of Western Pacific Railroad around Oroville Dam. At the same time, he pointed out the fair market value of the property involved amounts to between $10 and $30 million dollars.

EVEN AT THE HIGH figure, the Western Pacific would obtain a "betterment" of approximately $15 million, the cost to be borne by California's taxpayers.

Other utilities involved in the moving process to make way for proposed Oroville reservoir probably will bring the "betterment" amounts into fantastic sums.

Meanwhile, Porter as chairman of the Assembly Water Resources Committee obtained $15,000 from the Rules Committee to hire a firm of experts to determine the fair market value of the railroad property involved in the specific case. If the study shows unreasonable betterment, he said he would introduce a bill in the 1961 legislature to correct the situation.

AS YET, PORTER hasn't said how he will effect corrections, but he has, in effect, only a couple of methods of making such corrections.

First, legislation could be introduced to give private utilities only a fair market value for the property involved, without any relationship to the actual cost of replacement. This would result in the expenditure of the "betterment" amounts by the railroad itself.

Second, he could permit the present law to stand, and grant all private property owners the replacement provisions now enjoyed by the utilities, thereby increasing the amounts the taxpayers must expend for property acquisitions.

The moral question then, is who should be responsible for the "betterment" amounts, the state which forces the move, or the utility or individual who benefits?

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Marin County, worrying over possible wartime emergency growing out of Korea, sent sanitation engineer Arnold Prucha to a University of California course in Los Angeles to study handling and disposal of radioactive materials in a so-called "A-Bomb School."

Pacific Greyhound asked the State Public Utility Commission permission to abandon service from San Anselmo to Fairfax and Inverness, as well as between San Anselmo and San Rafael. It was also seeking a bigger fare raise than one recently authorized.

20 YEARS AGO

Construction of a $25,000 bus terminal in San Rafael began, with completion assured by spring when Pacific Greyhound Lines will take over Northwestern Pacific commute service as the rail company abandons its interurban electric service.

"We were entertaining some very important people for dinner last night," an actor told Robert Q. Lewis, "and one of them accused me of being a henpeck — right in front of my wife and everybody."

"Did you get sore?" needled Lewis.

"Did I?" snarled the actor. "But by the time I finished doing the dishes, sweeping up, and changing the baby, I had cooled off."

"What," asked a theater owner of a prospective head usher, "would you do in case of fire?"

"You wouldn't have time to worry about me," assured the prospect. "I'd be out of the joint in no time."

Lady Of The Want Ads Turns To Study Of Real Estate Talk

My lexicographer friend Elizabeth Kibbee of Mill Valley is at it again.

Reading want ads, that is.

The last time I conversed with Mrs. K., she was speaking in the jargon of used dealers, verily a language unto itself.

Being of one-track mind and one who applies herself wholeheartedly to the task at hand, Mrs. K. had given up all reading save for used car want ads, the result being that she could utter only incomprehensible, abbreviated phrases such as lo dn., a beaut., ww tires, hi trd. In!

HAVING EVENTUALLY purchased a tu-tone cream-puff (loaded!-, most of her friends looked forward to her return to the world of sensible conversation on such matters as P-TA doings, New Yorker cartoons and the presidential election.

Unfortunately, prior to her recovery her eyes drifted from the used car ads to the real estate pages.

The result was a total relapse.

Herewith, Mrs. K. submits her latest glossary as a handy guide to those who would interpret the strange language of those who sell houses through the columns of the daily press:

HI ATOP A HILL: Miles from everything. Guests will need map. (See also: in a world to itself.)

Sheltered: Under redwood trees. Usually advertised in summer only. Artificial light needed after 3 p.m.

Convenient to bus, shops, schools; all-electric kitchen; new tract, near hastily added shopping center.

30-year loan, nothing down: pay $115 per month interest, $5 on principal.

Interesting older home: Bathtub with claws; buyer should be well-supplied with extension cords.

TWO BEDROOMS, third possible: nobody ever figured out what to do with that room.

Well established garden: blackberry vines in leeching field.

View!: Windy.

Unusual layout: Bathroom opens off living room.

Unconventional layout: Bathroom opens off back porch.

Good for writers, artists: Uneven floors, no bathtub; but cheap.

Just redecorated: Owner just painted the whole place in startling colors. Bathroom probably pink.

Rustic: Knotty pine.

Shown by appointment: Owner's wife wants time to straighten up.

Owner will take second: Owner is getting desperate.

Owner will finance: No one else will.

MARVELOUS POSSIBILITIES for creative buyer: This house needs complete remodeling.

Handyman special!: This house needs complete rebuilding.

When last observed, Mrs. K. was climbing a wind-swept, fog-bound Mill Valley hill, muttering to herself: "By owner, desir., all elec. kit., dream home m . . . "

U.N. STRENGTHENED HIM?

Mr. K Confident On Red China Showdown

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI) — The most explosive problem facing Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on his return to Moscow is the smouldering conflict with Red China over world Communism's future policies.

The ideological differences between the two Communist giants appear to have deepened during Khrushchev's visit to New York.

Peiping's studied near-silence on the Soviet leader's performance before the world assembly has spotlighted the coolness in Sino-Russian relations.

BUT KHRUSHCHEV apparently is confident that he has strengthened his hand for a possible showdown by his activities at the United Nations General Assembly.

This has emerged from the buildup which the Soviet press and radio have given to the Communists in Russia and behind the Iron Curtain generally (except in China) of Khrushchev's role in New York.

Whatever the Soviet leader may have failed to achieve, his propagandists have presented him as the central figure of the world meeting.

His propagandists have built him up as the "tough man" who at the same time has re-opened the door to a new summit early next year for a cold war settlement.

SOVIET AFFAIRS experts believe these are the two main arguments Khrushchev needs for his forthcoming talks with the Red Chinese leaders.

These talks are scheduled to open in Moscow early next month when the leaders of some 20 Communists parties from the Red camp, the rest of Europe and Asia will meet ostensibly for the Soviet revolution anniversary celebrations.

Meanwhile, a Communist "high court" composed of top Communist leaders from the Red camp nations is collecting evidence on the extent of the ideological rift and on whether it can be healed or not.

The commission, which includes Soviet Chief Theoretician Mikhail Suslov, is to present recommendations to the November meeting in Moscow.

There is still no sign whether Red China's Mao Tze-Tung will go to Moscow. The signs were that unless a compromise looms up in the meantime he may choose to stay away.

BOTH SIDES HAVE been busily canvassing support meantime for their line of policy.

Broadly, the conflict concerns the relations of the Communist world towards the West and how best to enlarge the Red empire.

Khrushchev believes that the Communist camp should seek peaceful co-existence with the so-called imperialists who, he says, are on the wane anyway.

Peiping maintains imperialism cannot be finally overcome without resort to war —even nuclear war if necessary.

Moverover, the Russians believe that all national liberation movements in newly-emerging nations should be supported even if they are "bourgeois" ones. Peiping holds that only revolutionary struggle can secure victory.

IF THE RED Chinese gospel were to gain ground, Moscow's leadership would be seriously jeopardized.

Khrushchev has sought to win over the European satellites during the recent New York conferences.

All, except Albania, have now rallied to him. Many of the Asian Communist nations including North Korea and North Viet Nam have also come out in his support.

But there are sympathizers with the Chinese view in most of them and even in Russia itself.

Unless he can prove that his co-existence policy is successful, there may be a swing towards Peiping's view, in the opinion of the experts here.

Overriding these ideological differences is, however, the knowledge in Moscow and Peiping that neither side can afford to push the conflict too far because both would be losers in the event of an outright split.

The Neighbor's Tots Present Tough Problem In Disciplining

"I can handle my own children," a mother writes, "but I have trouble with the neighbors' kids.

"They're in and out of the house all day. I want them to like me. But I also want them to obey. I know I shouldn't whip them. What can I do with the neighbor children?"

Millions of mothers have the same problem. Here are some suggestions:

1. Show genuine interest in each child. Each one is important. Each one is different. Each needs to be recognized.

2. Praise them in public when they're good. They'll respond if they know you are sincere.

3. Correct them in private. Try not to make them lose face with their friends.

4. Be sure not to punish the entire group for the misdeeds of one child. That always causes trouble. Don't ever try to get even. Revenge is unworthy.

5. When something serious happens, isolate the offender. Take him to his mother. Explain the situation. Give her a chance to act. As you say, you shouldn't whip your neighbor's children. But when they're bad you don't have to keep them around.

6. Head off trouble if you see it coming. Often a suggestion from you is all taht's needed. If you show confidence in the youngsters' ability to control themselves they'll try hard.

7. Be consistent. Explain your rules frequently. Don't praise an act one day and punish it the next. And never play favorites.

The Neighbor's Tots Present Tough Problem In Disciplining

"I can handle my own children," a mother writes, "but I have trouble with the neighbors' kids.

"They're in and out of the house all day. I want them to like me. But I also want them to obey. I know I shouldn't whip them. What can I do with the neighbor children?"

Millions of mothers have the same problem. Here are some suggestions:

1. Show genuine interest in each child. Each one is important. Each one is different. Each needs to be recognized.

2. Praise them in public when they're good. They'll respond if they know you are sincere.

3. Correct them in private. Try not to make them lose face with their friends.

4. Be sure not to punish the entire group for the misdeeds of one child. That always causes trouble. Don't ever try to get even. Revenge is unworthy.

5. When something serious happens, isolate the offender. Take him to his mother. Explain the situation. Give her a chance to act. As you say, you shouldn't whip your neighbor's children. But when they're bad you don't have to keep them around.

6. Head off trouble if you see it coming. Often a suggestion from you is all taht's needed. If you show confidence in the youngsters' ability to control themselves they'll try hard.

7. Be consistent. Explain your rules frequently. Don't praise an act one day and punish it the next. And never play favorites.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My boy is in kindergarten. A little girl has a crush on him. She brings him cupcakes. Is something wrong with her? Or with him?"

C. B. I.

(A) Probably nothing is wrong with either one. Many kindergarteners have crushes. They don't last long.

Humor Magazine Editors Named

Three officers of the newly organized Sir Francis Drake High School Art Club have taken charge of publication of the second annual edition of "Inside," high school humor magazine.

The three are Katy Breneman of Fairfax and Tanya Lazar and Annette Burge of San Anselmo, all seniors.

Other art club projects include decoration of the main office for Christmas and an art exhibition planned for later in the school year.

Concert Previews Due At Center

Marin Jewish Community Center will preview six San Francisco concerts this winter with discussions of the performing artists, it was announced today.

On the Monday preceding each concert, Marin artists at the center will discuss the work of the performer to appear on the following Sunday. The first concert is Oct. 30.

Artists to appear in the concerts are Jerome Hines, basso; Van Cliburn, pianist; Eleanor Steber, soprano; Isaac Stern, violinist; Andres Segovia, guitarist, and the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra.

Tickets for the six concerts and the preview sessions are available at the center.

Architect Sued For Divorce

Sausalito architect S. Robert Anshen, 49, was sued for divorce on grounds of cruelty in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Mrs. Frances H. Anshen seeks custody of two children, 15 and 13, by a previous marriage, and asks the court for $200 per month support for the youngsters. She does not seek alimony.

A property settlement was agreed upon last August.

She lives in a converted grain barge which was redesigned into comfortable living quarters by Anshen.

The architect is now traveling in Spain. He is a partner in the San Francisco architectural firm of Anshen and Allen, which has been designing Eichler Homes for 10 years.

German TV To Show Film On Third Reich

BONN (UPI)—Millions of Germans soon will learn the true story of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich, many of them for the first time.

On Friday the first of a 14-part documentary titled "The Third Reich" will be telecast to a nationwide audience.

Between eight and nine million Germans—half the potential television audience—is expected to be watching.

The series, production chiefs Hanns Hartmann and Hans Bausch said, "is dedicated to the young generation."

"It will help them grasp the events which led our fatherland to catastrophe," they added.

An oft-heard complaint is that German schools ignore German history after 1933, the year Hitler came to power.

The television documentary will help fill this gap, officials believe. A pamphlet previewing the program will be sent to all schools.

It will be the second time this year that Germans have had an opportunity to see the true story of Nazi-ism.

Earlier this year, a Swedish film titled "Mein Kampf" was introduced to West Germany. The film, which has attracted large audiences, is still running.

The German film was prepared from over 100,000 feet of film and 2,000 photographs. Each of the 14 parts will last 50 minutes, and be broadcast from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m. every other Friday evening. The last part will be shown May 15. Total viewing time will be 700 minutes.

In its preview, German Television noted that "the 12 years of the Hitler regime, the world war and the results of this war which it caused, decisively changed the political face of the world."

"Many no longer want to know how it really was. Many have forgotten the facts," it said.

The first part, to be shown Friday evening, is titled "The Seizure of Power." It illustrates "how Hitler consolidated his power and how, from the very beginning, he misused this power and placed force before justice," the preview stated.

Pre-Moving Tip

NEW YORK (UPI) — Before moving to a new home or apartment, make arrangements for the installation of your automatic equipment — washing machine, dryer, dishwasher.

Concert Previews Due At Center

Marin Jewish Community Center will preview six San Francisco concerts this winter with discussions of the performing artists, it was announced today.

On the Monday preceding each concert, Marin artists at the center will discuss the work of the performer to appear on the following Sunday. The first concert is Oct. 30.

Artists to appear in the concerts are Jerome Hines, basso; Van Cliburn, pianist; Eleanor Steber, soprano; Isaac Stern, violinist; Andres Segovia, guitarist, and the Israel Philharmonic Orchestra.

Tickets for the six concerts and the preview sessions are available at the center.

Architect Sued For Divorce

Sausalito architect S. Robert Anshen, 49, was sued for divorce on grounds of cruelty in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

Mrs. Frances H. Anshen seeks custody of two children, 15 and 13, by a previous marriage, and asks the court for $200 per month support for the youngsters. She does not seek alimony.

A property settlement was agreed upon last August.

She lives in a converted grain barge which was redesigned into comfortable living quarters by Anshen.

The architect is now traveling in Spain. He is a partner in the San Francisco architectural firm of Anshen and Allen, which has been designing Eichler Homes for 10 years.

German TV To Show Film On Third Reich

BONN (UPI)—Millions of Germans soon will learn the true story of Adolf Hitler's Third Reich, many of them for the first time.

On Friday the first of a 14-part documentary titled "The Third Reich" will be telecast to a nationwide audience.

Between eight and nine million Germans—half the potential television audience—is expected to be watching.

The series, production chiefs Hanns Hartmann and Hans Bausch said, "is dedicated to the young generation."

"It will help them grasp the events which led our fatherland to catastrophe," they added.

An oft-heard complaint is that German schools ignore German history after 1933, the year Hitler came to power.

The television documentary will help fill this gap, officials believe. A pamphlet previewing the program will be sent to all schools.

It will be the second time this year that Germans have had an opportunity to see the true story of Nazi-ism.

Earlier this year, a Swedish film titled "Mein Kampf" was introduced to West Germany. The film, which has attracted large audiences, is still running.

The German film was prepared from over 100,000 feet of film and 2,000 photographs. Each of the 14 parts will last 50 minutes, and be broadcast from 8:15 to 9:15 p.m. every other Friday evening. The last part will be shown May 15. Total viewing time will be 700 minutes.

In its preview, German Television noted that "the 12 years of the Hitler regime, the world war and the results of this war which it caused, decisively changed the political face of the world."

"Many no longer want to know how it really was. Many have forgotten the facts," it said.

The first part, to be shown Friday evening, is titled "The Seizure of Power." It illustrates "how Hitler consolidated his power and how, from the very beginning, he misused this power and placed force before justice," the preview stated.
